The school board is considering Carbarn Murderers Will Be Executed the questions asked by Dr. W. G. Cole in the East Oregonian last night in regard to the location of the statement to the public as to its attitude in the matter. It has been the intention of the board to settle the bers from the city, and to the pressure of business, and also to the fact that the negotiations now being carried on have not yet come to a head, it has been and yet is impossible to state more than the preference of the individual members as an index to the probable final action of the body.

Mr. Teutsch's Opinion.

Lee Teutsch, one of the members of the board, takes a hopeful view of the situation. He says: "The board grand jury LISTENS TO wished to do that which is best for the schools, the city and everyone concerned. It is as yet impossible to make a definite statement as to where the buildings will be, for the board has received no figures for the cost of the buildings, and does not know how much it would have 10 spend on grounds.

"I can say, however, that the board has preferences in the matter of the location of the buildings. On the north side of the river it places the old cemetery site above the rest, and if it can be secured at a reason-

It is not a question of the place, with the board, but of the school. The board wants the buildings, and will put them in the best place, and the most satisfactory that can be secured."

Dr. Smith Corresponds.

Dr. C. J. Smith is of a similar opinion. He said: "I ere are two sites in each part of the city. In the north there is a place at the end of Jackson street, and west end of Jackson street, the old cemetery site is also talked in the one In fact, the latter is the one which the board would rather have, if it could be secured for a proper price.
