the Gifford section the snow is much deeper and the snow extends into the Tom Beall creek section. Spring plowing has commenced on the lower bench land, but it is estimated that ail work is at least a month later this season than last. The farmers believe that even though the seeding will be later than common the prospects for a crop have never been better. Every farmer in this section is preparing to seed every available acre of land, as it is generally believed that the price for grain this season will be excep-tionally good .- Nez Perce correspondent Lewiston Tribune.
