EASTER SERVICES

WILL BE HELD AT ALL
PENDLETON CHURCHES.

Rev. Potwine Will Preach His Farewell Sermon—Sunrise Prayer Meeting at the Methodist Church on Thompson Street—Services at the Catholic Church Will Be Impressive as Usual—Day Will Be Observed at All the Other Churches.

Easter time will be recognized and celebrated in the churches of this city Sunday next by special Easter services and sermons.

At the Church of the Redeemer special services will be held, as is always the case in the Episcopal church and the day will be made especially memorable by the fact that Rev. W. E. Potwine will preach his farewell sermon to the congregation here. Mr. Potwine has been with the church for many years, and every effort was made to have him reconsider his decision to leave for Honolulu, and his departure is causing much sorrow among his many friends in and out of the church.

Sunrise Prayer Meeting.
The Methodist church will have special services during the day. In the morning at 6:30 the members will meet for a sunrise prayer meeting, and during the day the usual order of service will be observed.

This church makes Easter a field day for missionary effort, and all of the services will be along that line. The sermon in the morning by Rev. Warner will have to do with missionary effort, while in the evening the Sunday school will have a special program, which will also be in line with missionary effort. The program will consist of musical and literary numbers, and will be very interesting, as a great deal of care has been put in its preparation.

At the Catholic Church.
At the Catholic church the usual services will be held as set forth by the ritual of the church. The interior of the church will be decorated, and the services will be made as solemn and impressive as is usual with the special services of that church. The music by the choir will be a special feature of the day.

The other churches of the city will all observe the day with programs and special services in commemoration of the Resurrection.

SUIT ON NOTE.
Attempt to Recover $7,000 From the Despain Estate.

J. S. McLeod has filed a suit against Nancy E. Despain et al. to recover on a promissory note for $7,000 bought by him from C. B. Wade as trustee for the Despain estate.

March 25, 1898, a note was given by the estate for $28,000 to J. N. Teal of Portland, and three mortgages given as security for the sum. Later several notes were made to Wade as trustee for enough to take up the Teal note of $28,000, and the same mortgages were given as security for the new notes. J. S. McLeod bought one of the notes, and is now suing to recover. The suit is directed against the Despain estate, and all those who have bought portions of the property.

NOT GOOD, NOT HERE

FROM "AMERICAN JOURNAL OF HEALTH."

The American authority on matters of sanitation and hygiene. "The factors which distinguish a superior from an inferior coffee are to be found, first, in the quality of raw material that is selected, and, secondly, in the skill and care with which the berry is treated. Illustrations of what is meant by a poor coffee are everywhere at hand. Examples of what an expert understands by a distinctly superior coffee, however—one which is characterized by the best quality of berry and the most discriminating skill and care throughout all the processes of preparation—these are met with only at long intervals. Despite this fact, however, such a coffee came before our attention only a short time ago. It was Spurr's Revere Coffee, offered by the Howard W. Spurr Coffee Company, of Boston. In response to a most careful examination, this coffee displayed a purity, a strength, a delicate and delicious flavor, and a hygienic value such as to warrant its mention in our editorial columns and to justify us in recommending it to our readers in terms of most unqualified praise. A number of tests performed of different samples of this article served to exhibit the fact that there was no variation in its high standard of merit. The blending of the coffee in question was wholly faultless, as evidenced by the possession of a degree of savoriness which was all that could be asked by the most discriminating connoisseur. Now the fact to which in this connection the Journal of Health desire to direct attention is that a distinctly superior coffee such as Spurr's Revere Coffee has virtues of far greater importance than mere toothsome. Besides being eminently agreeable to the palate, a coffee like the one to which reference has just been made performs a hygienic function of such moment that it can not be neglected by any seeker after good health. The effect which a high grade coffee exercises on the digestive organs is beneficial in an eminent degree. It aids the process by which nutrition is converted into vitality; and by stimulating the desire for food serves to increase the stock of vigor which, through the agency of an increased appetite and a consequent enhanced consumption of nourishment we come to have at our command. Properties such as these belong only to a distinctly superior coffee like Spurr's Revere Coffee, and by no means attach to the general run of coffees."

The above sustains our contention that Revere Coffee is the best coffee in the world.

THOS. BILK HARNY

OLD FELLOW FLIMFLAMS
PORTLAND REPORTERS.

Between Idleness, Ignorance, Drunkenness and Querulousness Hardy Causes Lots of Trouble and Expense—Worked Multnomah Officials for Transportation and Money and is Again Snugly Enconced on the Poor Farm.

Thomas Hardy, well known here to the authorities, has bobbed up again, both in Pendleton and in Portland. The Portland papers are full of the cruelty practiced upon the old man by Superintendent Courtney, of the Multnomah poor farm, who, it is alleged, caused the old man to work and otherwise ill-treated him.

Judge Hartman knows the man of trouble, and in fact sent him to the poor farm of this county this morning, for the fourth time. The judge is amused at the lurid stories by the Portland press, and says that the people there are over-sympathetic. Hardy has been in the poor farm here already three times. Each time he has given so much trouble that it almost disorganized the place. He is a kicker, a habitual drunkard and an old bilk in the estimation of the Umatilla county judge, who has known him for some time.

Three times he was sent to the poor farm here and each time raised Cain, and was at last sent to relatives or friends in Colfax, but soon returned with a tale of woe. He claims to be a gardener and Judge Hartman had him do some work for him at his house at one time, when he was not on the county. Once was enough, for the judge found that, as he states it, "Hardy couldn't tell a rose bush from a sage brush, and dug up more flowers than I ever knew I had."

The old man, after telling his pitiful story to Judge Webster, of the Multnomah county court, was given transportation to Pendleton, and a small amount of money. He reached town yesterday, in a well pickled condition, and by evening was glorious. He then sought the county judge and made application for admittance to the poor farm here. That important rite concluded, he sought a small amount of money for a meal from the judge, which he got, and immediately proceeded to spend it for booze.

When Mr. McDill reached town this morning his boarder was easy to catch, as his legs went around too many corners to go far in a straight line. He will now board with Umatilla county until the grand jury or the prosecuting attorney, or some other kind hearted official of Portland sees fit to haul him to the metropolis to skin the scalp of the superintendent of the poor farm there for cruelty to animals.

Arrived From Oklahoma.

Walter and Frank Chaveneau arrived from Richmond, Oklahoma, with their families, this morning, and will settle permanently in Umatilla county. They say there has been no rain nor snow in that territory the past winter, and that hundreds of people are selling out to come West. Walter Chaveneau worked for Taylor Green in Oklahoma, and was directed to Umatilla county by Mr. Green, who settled on Wild Horse creek, near Weston, in 1864, but who has resided in Oklahoma since 1893.

Suit on Labor and Goods.

Henry Koppitke filed a suit this morning against W. C. Betta, in which he seeks to recover on a bill of goods and merchandise delivered, and for labor performed by the plaintiff to the extent of $940.45. The services were rendered between January 1, 1900, and January 1, 1904. The plaintiff seeks the principal and costs of the action. Stillman & Pierce are the plaintiff's attorney.

Mrs. J. A. Green's Father Ill.

Mrs. J. A. Green, of the Arlington, left for Colfax this morning, where she is called by the serious illness of her father, W. F. Kennedy. Mrs. Green's sister, Miss Jettie Kennedy, left for the bedside of her father yesterday. Mr. Kennedy is suffering with Bright's disease.

Easter Social Tomorrow.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will give an Easter social to the children of the Sunday school tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock on the court house lawn. The principal feature of the afternoon's entertainment will be the egg hunt, to be indulged in by the children.

Will Move From Walla Walla.

Will B. Parkes of Walla Walla, is in the city for a short visit with his brother, Joe H. Parkes, and will probably remain here permanently if he can find a business opening. In that event Mr. Parkes will bring his family here to reside.

J. H. Robbins to Boise City.

Hon. J. H. Robbins returned this he has arranged to locate his family temporarily in order to place him in closer touch with his Wyoming mining interests. Mr. Robbins expects to move to Boise shortly after April 1.—Sumpter Miner.

Self conquest is the greatest of victories.

TAILOR SHOP ROBBED.

E. A. Schiffler Loses Pattern Goods and Made-up Clothes.

The tailoring establishment of E. A. Schiffler was entered last night by burglars, who made away with about $200 worth of pattern goods and made-up clothes. The robbers also tried to break open the money drawer, but failed in their efforts. The intruders gained an entrance through the back window by breaking out a pane of glass and then opening the inside fastening.

A large number of trousers which had been made up were hanging in the room, and these were all taken. A number of old clothes which had been brought in to be pressed and repaired were also taken out into the back yard, where they were evidently examined and most of them discarded. There is no clue to the parties.

FOR SUPERINTENDENT.

W. C. Hoseason Will Take the Nomination at Hands of the Democratic Convention.

W. C. Hoseason, the popular grocery clerk of the St. Joe Store, is a candidate for county school superintendent, before the democratic county convention.

Mr. Hoseason is a highly educated man and has had a wide school experience in this state, having been a pioneer teacher in Baker county. He has made a host of friends during his residence in Umatilla county and will go before the convention with a strong support.

SUED FOR POLL TAX

TEST CASE MADE IN COLLECTING FROM FECHTER.

Mr. Fechter Wants Guarantee From Marshal That All Taxpayers Will Pay Poll Tax—Marshal Carney Cannot Guarantee, But Will Bring Suit—Poll Tax Issue Will Be Settled in Court Once for All.

The poll tax question is to be fought out in the city court in a day or so in what promises to be an interesting suit.

The tax question has been one that has puzzled the officials of the city for some time and they have been using every effort to obey the law in the way of making collections but very few of the citizens seem to feel that they should pay the amount asked. The city marshal will therefore make a test case of the refusal of W. D. Fechter to pay his tax.

Marshal Carney has asked Mr. Fechter to pay his tax once or twice and Mr. Fechter says that he is willing to pay up if the marshal will guarantee him that all of the other people in the city will pay their tax also. The marshal refuses to guarantee, but wishes to collect and will therefore bring suit to compel the candy man to sweeten the pot.

The subject has been referred to the city attorney and he will make out the necessary papers as soon as he finds time which will be in a day or so. Upon the outcome of this case will depend the fate of the poll taxes of the city. If Mr. Fechter is beaten and is compelled to pay his tax with the added costs, it is safe to say that the rest of those in the city who are eligible will also pay up when called upon.

If, on the other hand, the city loses its case and cannot force the defendant to pay his tax, the marshal had just as well go out of the poll-tax business for no one will voluntarily pay out a few dollars when it is not required. Mr. Fechter will employ counsel and fight the case to the end.

Walla Walla Boy in Botkin Case.

Walla Walla, April 1.—One of the principal witnesses in the Botkin case which is now on trial in San Francisco, will be Harry K. Mackay, a member of the fire department of that city, who is well known by the veterans of the Spanish-American war from Walla Walla county. Mackay was a member of Co. K., of the First Washington regiment which went to the war from Watsburg.

To Complete Schempp Building.

James Means will commence work on the interior of the Schempp building on Cottonwood street, in the morning, and will have the work done in a month or six weeks. The work will be rushed as fast as possible, as the rooms are much needed. It will cost in the neighborhood of $2,000 to complete the building as planned.

Looking for Location.

Louis Moses, of Sumpter, has been in Pendleton for several days, on the lookout for a business location. Mr. Moses wishes to put in a large general merchandise stock, and will, if he can find a suitable building and location.

SHEARING CREW LEAVES.

Stanton Crew of Fourteen Umatilla County Men Goes to Connell, Wash.

The Stanton sheep shearing crew, consisting of 14 Umatilla county boys, leaves Saturday for Connell, Wash., where it will begin shearing on Monday, April 4.

The crew has 22,000 head of sheep engaged in advance and expects to have at least three weeks run in that vicinity. There are four men in the crew who have sheared 200 head in a day, on a test run. These champions are Tom Brassfield, Geo. Johnson, Art Gill and John Kearney.

The crew expects to average 115 per day, in clean sheep. The Connell sheep are sandy, and dirty, and the boys will only make an average of from 90 to 100 per day, while there. On their return to Umatilla county, after shearing out the Washington herds, they will shear in the vicinity of Pilot Rock and Eno. The price for shearing at Connell will be seven cents per head and board, or eight cents where the crew board themselves.

Coffee Did Not Kill Him

Dayton, O., March 29.—Philip Keffer, a wealthy, retired manufacturer, who celebrated the 102nd anniversary of his birth a few months ago, died early this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. P. Callahan.

He came to Dayton from Maryland in 1832. He drank six cups of coffee daily, all his life.

(This case has been investigated and found correct.)
