

AMONG THE EXCHANGES OF THE INLAND EMPIRE

War on the Grafters. Against every employment in the city was declared by the council at its meeting. To this end a resolution was adopted asking the council to revoke the licenses of the employment agencies and asking the city council to establish a free employment bureau. The resolution in the strongest terms declaring that they were fleeing public.

The objections is being lately, according to trades men, is that the employment agencies have been accepting money to furnish them jobs on men in Lewiston. When the work in Lewiston, they found there they either found no work or were given a half day or a day and dismissed.

The resolution also cited reports that the employment agencies have been acting as procurers for houses in Lewiston.—Spokesman-Review.

For Stealing Sheep. Yesterday Sheriff Adams and Grimmett took a ride down river on a "still hunt" for which had been stolen from Hindman and supposed to be on some of the islands below. They were rewarded by getting 13 head on one island, and succeeded in capturing the thief, John Adams. Adams has been several head of cattle and some of the sheep from the county jail.—Weiser Signal.

Road Will Be Built. The largest mortgage ever recorded in Wasco county was filed in the county clerk's office yesterday. It is an instrument whereby the Southern Railroad Co. pledged the holdings, both present and prospective to the Washington Trust company of Seattle, Wash., for $5,000,000, the trust company, according to the terms of the mortgage, agreeing to guarantee the payment of the $5,000,000 bonds of the railroad company and interest at the rate of 5-per cent payable semi-annually.

According to the terms of the mortgage the Great Southern Railroad company proposes to build a railroad from a point on the Columbia river near The Dalles, in Oregon, to San Francisco, in California, and also to extend its lines northward from The Dalles into the state of Washington. —Times-Mountain-ear.

Walla Walla Trees to Canada. C. L. Whitney, proprietor of the Northwestern nursery, yesterday received an order for a shipment of 2,000 fruit trees to J. W. McCullum, a large orchardist at Salmon Arm, B. C. The shipment will be made early next week. The season in that section of the country to which the trees are going is several weeks later than in this locality, a heavy snow still covering the country at the present time.

Two years ago Mr. Whitney sold a large order of fruit trees from his nursery to the Earl of Aberdeen, ex-governor general of Canada, which have grown so thrifty that he has received many orders from others of that section.—Walla Walla Union.

Horses Frantic in a Fire. Among the valuable horses which were saved from the burning barn of Frank Button at Hood River Saturday night was T. J. Seufert's fine driving horse, Ellis. The animal seemed determined to lose his life and refused to budge, though burning timbers fell all about. Mr. Button is a strong man and getting behind the horse he gave him a push which threw him off his feet and he fairly stumbled out.—The Dalles Chronicle.

NO LAND REFORM

CONGRESS DETERMINED TO PASS UP TIMBER ACT.

Large Stock Interests Desire Present Laws to Remain in Force in Order to Secure Valuable Public Domain—Desert Land Law a Tool of Land Grafters.

Washington, April 15.—(Special.)—"No land law reform at this session of congress," is the mandate which has gone forth from the interests desirous of keeping the pirate land laws upon the statute books to enable a grab in the West during the coming year of a few million more acres of the people's lands. The mandate is apparently being heeded carefully by congress.

In spite of two annual recommendations from the president; in spite of a special message to congress urging the repeal of the timber and stone act and in spite of the evident national public sentiment favoring the stoppage of land and timber stealing, congress is prepared to admit its domination by a crew of land grabbers and timber and land speculators which will, before the next session steal tens of millions of dollars worth of government property which can never be replaced.

This repeal of the desert land act, a tool of the cattle corporations, has been voted down in the house irrigation committee, and the repeal of the timber and stone act, under which at least 50 million dollars was lost to the government last year, and which has been specifically recommended by the president and his special land commission, bids fair to be quickly killed on the house floor.

This committee has been holding hearings on this act, and timber lords, owning hundreds of thousands of acres of the finest standing timber in the world which by every law of right and justice should still be the property of the people of the United States, have appeared before that committee and presented eagerly accepted testimony, showing what a hardship it would be on the poor settler who wants a small piece of timber adjacent to his homestead, if the timber and stone act were repealed.

T. B. Walker, of Minneapolis, said to be the largest owner of timber lands in the United States, owning and speculating in timber lands in Minnesota and the Pacific Coast states—lands whose title should to-day be in the government and which are valued at millions of dollars, and appeared before the committee and gravely stated that he must protest against the repeal of the timber and stone act.

It is true that the bill to repeal the timber act was allowed to pass the senate without opposition from had timber senators even after they had announced that they were opposed to any repeal of the law and the inference is therefore that they assured themselves that the bill would be well taken care of in the house and probably never even get out of the public lands committee. One member of that committee even made such a boast.
