

IN SOCIETY

With the warm sunshine of the past week, little thought has been given to social affairs, everyone being anxious to get out of doors instead of being confined to the house. Those staying at home, complaining of not feeling well, diagnose their cases as "spring fever," but should there be a whirl of exciting pleasures, all would be forgotten, for a time, at least.

One of the events of the week which attracted the attention of the younger set was the marriage of Miss Iva Younger and Guy Wyrick. With the production of the "Huskin' Bee," one reception and a few informal affairs, society has not been burdened with social duties.

Japanese Entertainments.

Since the outbreak of the Russian and Japanese war, Eastern society is going mad over Japanese dinners and other attractive Japanese festivities. These little dinners, served with a care for detail which is worthy of the cause, afford something new and charming and give the social world an opportunity to study interesting customs of the Japanese women and express their ever growing and enthusiastic admiration and sympathy for these dainty creatures of the Orient.

The conventional dinner, as served in social circles in the large cities, is served at 12 o'clock, since in Japan the dinner is really the first substantial meal of the day. The Japanese eats when she awakens in the morning a few tiny green plums pickled in vinegar and rolled in sugar, and drinks a cup of tea. No other nourishment is taken until the dinner.

Reception to New Pastor and Wife.

The palatial home of Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Smith was thrown open on Thursday evening for a reception given from 8 to 10 by the members of the Presbyterian church, in honor of their new pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Van Nuy, who have recently moved to Pendleton from La Grande.

The ladies of the church assisted in serving the ices and pouring coffee. Pretty soft strains of music were played throughout the evening, Miss Hazel Bickers presiding at the piano and Mr. Owenhouse played the mandolin.

There was a very large concourse of callers during the evening, many members from sister churches being among those who called.

A Card Party.

Mrs. Thomas C. Warner entertained a few friends on Thursday evening at her home on Thompson street. The hours were spent very pleasantly at cards, "500" being the game played. Mrs. T. C. Taylor scoring the highest number of points, won the honors of the evening. The invited guests present were Judge and Mrs. G. A. Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Roosevelt, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Cohen, Dr. and Mrs. Vaughn and Dr. and Mrs. Vincent.

Musicals Tuesday Night.

A musicale will be given at the Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening, April 19, which promises to be highly entertaining. An interesting program has been arranged and the best musicians in the city will take part. Following is the program:

Piano solo—"Erikonig" Liszt
Miss Ermal Mann.
Vocal solo—"When the Heart is Young" Dudley Buck
Mrs. Dickson.
Violin solo—"I Love You, Dear, and Only You" Gustav Luders
Roy Wilkins.
Piano solo—"Liebestraum No. 3" Liszt
Mrs. Pruitt.
Vocal solo—"Dainty Dorothea" De Koven
Miss Hartman.
Whistling solo—"Ah, I Have Sighed to Rest Me" Verdi
Miss Whittemore.
Reading—Selected
Mrs. Bleakney.
"For Love of You" Hastings
Mrs. Dickson.
Guitar and Mandolin Duet—"Boston Ideal March" Messrs. Scott and Owenhouse.
Piano duet—"La Chasse au Lion" C. Kolling
Frank and Lizzie Weber.
Accompanists—Mrs. Pruitt, Mrs. Dickson, Miss Bickers.

Social and Personal Notes.

Mrs. Frank Wamsley, of Portland, will be the guest of Mrs. T. C. Taylor for a few days.

Mrs. Ben Holt, of Walla Walla, is the guest of Mrs. Charles J. Ferguson.

Mrs. S. M. Stanton has returned from a visit to Tekoa and Spokane, where she has been for the past week.

Mrs. J. D. Plamodon, of Athena, wife of Dr. J. D. Plamodon, is visiting with Pendleton friends for a short time.

George Hartman, Jr., accompanied by his sister, Miss Jessie, are at Astoria attending a party given by Miss Alice Grey.

The second one of the Assembly dances given by Professor McMinn, will take place on Tuesday evening at Armory hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Skiles, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Ferguson, Otto Didion and Harold J. Warner left today for their ranches near the Columbia river, north of Pendleton.

Mr. Londell, the Pendleton baritone, sang "Down Where the Wurtzburger Flows" in the same manner that has won him applause in the past.

The song and dance, "Rag Time in the Moon," sung by Elbe and Phillis Parkes, was one of the hits of the evening. Not only did the little girls have very sweet voices, but nimble feet as well, and they sang and danced their way into the graces of the people in a very short time.

But the cutest event of the evening and the one that won for the performers three hearty recalls, was the quartet, "Has Your Mother Any More Like You?" It was sung by Daphne Parkes, Minnie Jones, John Kennedy and Byron Garrett, and the sweet voices and unconscious childish acting of the little tots brought down the house and called the singers before the audience for two extra numbers.

Miss Rena Ferguson in her Chinese song, "Pinky Panky Poo," was very dainty and charming, and sang her part very prettily. She was heartily encored.

The "Cornfield Cadets," a tramp song by Fred Hartman and Willard Bond, and the "Twentieth Century Belles," by Misses Ambrell, Howard, Hayes, Parkes, Despain, Vogel, Ferguson and Parkes were two of the good events of the evening and won encores and hearty applause from the audience.

Glen Storle and Norma Alloway won the prize cake in the cakewalk, but it was by a small margin, for all of the contestants were good.

All around, the play was one of the best home talent productions ever given, and the ladies of the clubs and Miss Thompson as well as the participants, are to be congratulated.

Entertainment Yields $94.85.

The entertainment netted the Woman's Club the neat sum of $94.85, for the Saeajawa monument fund, while the amount pledged by Pendleton was but $50. The members of the clubs, whose public spirit prompted the movement, feel greatly elated over the record made by Pendleton in this matter. This is the largest contribution to the fund from Eastern Oregon, the Baker City entertainment yielding but $70.

Information Granted.

There have been many inquiries in reference to the prices on goods that were not damaged by fire, water or smoke. Let it be known that there are substantial reductions on goods in each and every department, that were not damaged. This was not absolutely necessary, but the management of the Peoples Warehouse felt that the public expected something of the sort, and they have not been disappointed.

A French Naval Officer

In 1720 brought a coffee plant in a flower pot to the West Indies. From this one tree originated all of the coffee trees of the American continent, and which today furnish about three-quarters of the world's supply.

The tree is rather dwarfish in size and grows to about the height of an American wild plum, blossoming in the spring and yielding one crop annually. The ripening period lasts for five or six months, and one often sees the ripe berry and blossoms on the same tree. The blossoms are white and fragrant.

HOMETALENT EVENT

"HUSKIN' BEE" WAS AN UNQUALIFIED SUCCESS.

The Widest Range of Excellent Talent Ever Presented by Local Performers—Some of the Numbers Were First-Class From a Professional Standpoint—Many Encores and High Appreciation.

All of the seats and much of the standing room at the Frazer worked over time last night when Miss Thompson and her company of local talent put the "Huskin' Bee" before the public for the benefit of the Saeajawa monument fund, being raised by the Woman's Club.

To say that the production was a success, would be to put it mildly, for it was for the most part a howling success. There was not a dull moment during the entire program.

W. A. Crank, as the centerpiece, the announcer and interlocutor for the cast, was a hit, and brought each specialty on in a happy manner. He was up against a hard proposition, however, when he started to shake legs with Sol Baum, the Dutchman. Baum just couldn't help being a Dutchman, for he is Dutch anyway, and the part he had lost none of its Teutonic humor by his handling of it.

Miss Ruby Whittemore as Mrs. Hay, the wife of the old farmer, was one of the hits of the evening and played the part as naturally as though she had been raised to it.

O'Flanagan, the Irish comedian, was played by Edwin Lewis. The supposition is that some of Mr. Lewis' ancestors wore the green, for he was a typical Mick and took the house away with him in his Irish jig.

Miss Edythe Crockett, as the old maid, won the hearts of the audience, as is usually the case, with any old maid. Miss Crockett captured not only the man she was after, but much of the applause.

There was a long list of specialties, and all were so good as to deserve special mention.

The German jig dance, by Misses Hays, Howland, Ferguson and Kimbrell, and the Hey Reub dance by Messrs. Alexander, Bounous, Milne and Means were very well given.

Miss Mae Bettenbender, in her solo, "Love is a Tyrant," discovered to the Pendleton people a voice of culture and sweetness combined with a charming personality that quite won the hearts of the large gathering. Miss Bettenbender also took the solo part in the closing chorus of "The Sousa Girl" in a very graceful manner.
