SEVENTEEN TO FIVE

ONE-SIDED RESULT OF THE BASEBALL GAME.

Bartenders Were Not in it and the Score Stood Over Three to One When Time Was Called—Game Opened With Hot Work and Lots of it, But Closed in a Dead Drag, and Everybody Was Glad to Quit and Rest.

Yesterday afternoon at the Alta street grounds the printers went to press with the bartenders, and when nine editions had been run off the latter woke up to find their forms bulged, their chases bent and type battered, and came to the conclusion that they were of the wrong font entirely, and not suitable for the job. They had lost the heels off their shooting sticks and the quills were so dog-eared that the keys slipped and wouldn't hold the side-sticks onto the make-up. They had tried to fill a 120-point space with a nonpareil cipher, and as a result were headed out too far for the beauty of the job. For that reason when press time came the operators were hollering up the chute for copy and couldn't get it, and had to fill their paper with plate.

The game opened after some time lost in trying to find someone who would shoulder the responsibility of steering the game, but it was a hard proposition. Everyone was afraid of queering themselves with one or the other of the contestants and so held out. At last, however, Mr. Jones, of The Falling piano house, took the job, as he could see no connection between it and a piano house. He served with distinction and eclat. Collier started the dance by putting a few high balls and slings and flazes under the belts and over the heads and out of reach of some of the men of ink, but they managed to get enough to make them go some, and the inning closed with several rounds to the credit of the printers. The printers followed up their time-honored custom and took on a few at every chance until at the end of the game they had gathered in 17 big ones. The bartenders were temperate and only took 5.

For a time the game was full of life, and things bubbled; but the boys got tired in a few innings and after that the events dragged. At the end of the time the score stood 17 to 5 in favor of the printers. Some good plays were made by both sides, and some good men were in the game. Altogether, it was worth watching and the boys are satisfied with their rake-off of the gate receipts.

The line-up was as follows: Printers—Clint Brown, c; Roy Hutchinson, p; Johnson, 1b; Shourman, 2b; Drake, ss; Win Brown, 3b; Edwards, rf; Peterson, cf; Lampkin, fl.

Bartenders—O'Hara, c; Collier, p; Laurence, 1b; Rankin, 2b; Bogart, ss; Whitlock, 3b; Carlin, rf; Doty, cf; Ashton, lf.

PEACEMAKER HURT

TWO BAD ACTORS ARE NOW IN CITY JAIL.

The Peacemaker in a Ball Ground Row Is Set Upon and Cruelly Hurt—Will Lose an Eye and Perhaps His Life—The Two Candidates for the Reform School and Perhaps the Penitentiary, Are in Jail.

Rodney Dupuis and "Bud" Sommers, two of the bad actors of the town, are in the city jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, as the result of too much booze and general cussedness at the ball game yesterday afternoon. Charles Bronson is in bed at his home in the west end of town and will lose his eye if not his life, as the result of the efforts of the two boys, and the reform school is waiting for one or two new boarders.

The trouble all resulted over a childish fight at the close of the ball game yesterday. After the game, several of the little boys present ran a footrace around the bases for a small purse made up by some of the spectators, and a quarrel resulted over the decision between Nealey Dupuis and Eddie Enright. Dupuis was getting the best of the fight and was pounding the Enright boy to the applause of a large crowd of men and boys, when Charles Bronson attempted to separate the combatants.

As he was pulling them apart, Rodney Dupuis, the 17-year-old brother of the younger lad, interfered, and Sommers came to his help. They hustled Bronson around and cursed him, when he pushed them away pretty forcibly. Dupuis then picked up a rock and threw it at Bronson, striking him over the right eye just at the outer edge of the eyebrow, and cutting through to the bone for an inch. The eyeball raised out of its socket by the force of the blow, and the man was knocked senseless.

Spectators picked him up and took him to his home, when a physician was called. This morning he was suffering intense pain and it is the opinion of the doctor that he will lose his eye. It is very probable that his life will be endangered, owing to the inflammation and supuration which will have easy access to the brain through the optic nerve and the veins leading from the eyeball to the cavity behind. Dupuis was arrested last night after a chase by Marshal Carney, and this morning was turned over to the prosecuting attorney, who will in all probability send him to the reform school. Sommers, who was also arrested as an accessory, and who was instrumental to some extent in bringing about the trouble, is also held and will be given the same medicine by the court if it is possible.

Both of the boys belong to a gang that has infested the city for some time, and which has been drinking and posing as bad men for some little time. They have been recognized as candidates for the reform school or the penitentiary for some time by the officers, who are not at all surprised at the trouble, and who have but little inclination to be lenient with them now that they have at last brought their career to a climax.

FOUR TEMPERANCE SERMONS.

Yesterday Was an Active Day for Local Option in Pendleton.

Yesterday was temperance day at the churches of Pendleton. In the forenoon two sermons were preached, the afternoon a general rally was held and in the evening, two more stirring sermons were given on the live topic of temperance and local option.

Rev. L. D. Mahone preached at the Presbyterian church in the morning and at the Baptist in the evening, and Rev. G. L. Tufts preached at the M. E. church in the morning and at the Christian church in the evening, and at 3 o'clock a rally of all the churches was held at the Methodist church, south, all in the interest of local option and temperance work.

All the meetings were well attended and the work in this city is now well under way.

There will be a mass meeting tonight on the same subject at the Congregational church, to which all the friends of temperance are cordially invited. The campaign in this state is being conducted on aggressive lines and promises to be stronger than any of the anti-temperance forces imagine at the coming election.

Revs. Mahone and Tufts have been actively engaged in the local option agitation in Eastern Oregon for several weeks.

GOLF CLUB.

Meet This Afternoon to Plan for the Season.

The Golf Club held a meeting this afternoon. The purpose was to elect officers and put the club onto an operating basis after the long lapse of the winter.

All members are now delinquent in their dues, owing to the fact that there has not been a meeting for several months, and since the last one all the memberships expired.

The rent for the ground is also due and will be provided for, and plans for the season will be made.

STOCK LOSSES ARE LIGHT.

G. L. Horseman of Gurdane, Estimates Loss for the Winter at Less Than Two Per Cent.

G. L. Horseman, the well known stockman from Gurdane, estimates the stock losses in Southern Umatilla county at two per cent at most, and he thinks perhaps less than this. The loss has been from natural causes almost entirely, very few young stock dying from rough weather or want of feed.

He says the reports that the loss anywhere in Umatilla or Grant counties reached 15 per cent, as reported is entirely unfounded, as there was no greater loss farther south than in this county, except in rare instances.

WONDERFUL MARKSMAN.

J. W. Bailey is One of the Finest in the Northwest.

J. W. Bailey, of Hunt's Junction, is in town today for a short visit with old friends. Mr. Bailey is a trackman for the W. & C. R. at the junction, and is one of the most expert rifle shots in the country. He drifted into a shooting gallery last evening and announced that he was 65 years of age, but that he could beat any man in the crowd shooting for money, marbles or chalk. To prove his word, he laid himself across the counter on his back, and with his head pointed towards the target rang the bell 47 times straight without a bobble. Mr. Bailey can handle a revolver as well as he can a rifle.

Notice to Contractors.

On and before April 28th, the executive board of the Eastern Oregon State Normal School will receive sealed bids for grading Normal school grounds and laying concrete walk.

Plans and specifications may be seen at the Normal School building, Weston, Oregon.

The executive board reserves the right to reject any or all bids. Address R. Alexander, chairman executive board, Pendleton, Oregon. Pendleton, April 18, 1904.

Mrs. William Slusher Returns. Mrs. William Slusher and daughter have returned from an extended visit to California.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

A French Naval Officer

In 1720 brought a coffee plant in a flower pot to the West Indies. From this one tree originated all of the coffee trees of the American continent, and which today furnish about three-quarters of the world's supply.

The tree is rather dwarfish in size and grows to about the height of an American wild plum, blossoming in the spring and yielding one crop annually. The ripening period lasts for five or six months, and one often sees the ripe berry and blossoms on the same tree. The blossoms are white and fragrant.

We blend our own coffees. Saturday special—six bars laundry soap 25c.
