VAUDEVILLE NOW ASSURED.

K. J. Taylor Will Open a Park on the O. R. & N. Lot at the Same Place Occupied Last Year.

K. J. Taylor, manager of the Frazer theater, has completed arrangements for opening a vaudeville park on the O. R. & N. lot occupied by the park last season, and expects to give the opening performance about June 1st.

He will arrange a convenient inclosure with good seats and will make the park an attractive and pleasant place of amusement. It will be on the regular Shield's circuit and will get all the best performers on the road.

Returns From Stock Farm.

Frank G. Mitchell, of the firm of Brock & McComas, has returned from a week spent on his stock farm near Fulta, across the Columbia river near The Dalles. Mr. Mitchell sent several Wade cattle which he bought at the sale, to his farm some time ago, and went up last week to see that they all made the trip in good condition.

SHEEPMEN HAPPY.

Baker County Flockmaster Delighted at Present Prospects.

Miles A. Lee, the sheepman and heavy wool shipper of Baker county, says that the late spring, which is 30 days behind time, will have a splendid effect upon all the flocks of Eastern Oregon, and the bountiful supply of water now pouring down the hills on every side will insure good pasturage well into the summer. Yearlings this season will be stronger and fatter and bring better prices than ever before. The increase in the flocks promises to be very large.

Wool this year will be of much finer quality and cleaner than last season, because the sheep will not have to run in dust long before shearing time, which this year will be about May 25 in Baker county.

Early this month one Baker county man sold his wool left from last year's crop for 17 cents in Philadelphia. This is an indication that prices this year will go higher.

Band Concerts.

The Pendleton Band, under the direction of Professor McMinn, is preparing to furnish concerts twice a week through the summer. The band now has 18 members and will give the second of its series of open-air programs on the streets next Saturday evening.

Something New.

"Less" things are stylish just now. The Horseless carriage started the hobby, wireless telegraphy put further zest into it, and now we have the seamless back. It's a good idea, too. Did you ever look closely at the back of your coat and see how the seam breaks up the pattern of the cloth? Do it now for the fun of the thing, and you'll catch the idea. The whole back is the latest wrinkle of custom tailoring, and Crouse & Brandegee, the manufacturing tailors of Utica, New York, with their usual progressiveness, have incorporated this in two or three of their new season's styles. Their idea is to meet the wishes of all classes of patrons. Nothing new is attempted in the tailoring line or is offered by the custom tailors that is not put forward by Crouse & Brandegee in their ready-made service.

AFTER A REFRESHING BATH

On a sultry day, the prospect of putting on such exquisitely laundered linen, white and faultless in finish, is a pleasure to the man that has his shirts, collars and cuffs "done up" at our laundry. Our aim is to please our patrons, and we spare no pains to do it, as we want the patronage of every man in Pendleton.

DOG AND POLL TAX FOUNDRY CHANGES

WILL GO TO A FINISH FIGHT IN NEAR FUTURE.

City Attorney Will Crowd the Issue — Turner Brothers Will Fight the One, and W. D. Fechter the Other — New Question at Law Raised in Relation to Taxing Canines, That is Formidable.

The dog tax and the poll tax questions will soon be settled if the personal enmities of City Attorney Carter will allow him time to file papers and prosecute the test cases, as directed by the council.

A list of all in the city who are reported to be the owners of dogs has been furnished to Mr. Carter and he has notified most of them that they should pay their tax as directed by the city ordinance. In nearly all cases the warning has been heeded, and the owners have come into the office of the city marshal and bought their tags. A few, however, have not paid, and still refuse to do so. The Turner brothers, expressmen, claim that they should not be asked to pay on the ground that they have their dogs assessed with their other personal property, and therefore should not be asked to pay two taxes on the same piece of property. This view, however, is not shared by the city officials, and it is probable that their case will be selected as the one by which to test the validity of the city's ordinance.

The case of the City vs. W. D. Fechter, which was filed some time ago, following his refusal to pay the poll tax, is still pending and will be brought up at the convenience of the attorney. These two cases will settle, by their outcome, the question as to whether or not the taxes can be collected by the city.

JOHN P. WILBUR IN TOWN.

Going to Pilot Rock to inspect Stocks of Wool.

John P. Wilbur, superintendent of the Union Woolen Mills, was in town yesterday on a short business visit. Mr. Wilbur is on the hunt for wool, and left in the afternoon for Pilot Rock and vicinity.

The story is told on Mr. Wilbur that he was visiting the trade in Portland some time ago, and in the course of his travels went to see Meier & Frank, and asked them if he could not sell them a few of his white blankets from the Union mills. Mr. Meier, who was with the visitor, stated that he had some very superior blankets on hand, having just received a large consignment from a California mill, and that it was useless to talk blankets at that time.

Mr. Meier was so enthusiastic about the quality of his blankets that he took the mill men down to inspect them, and great was his astonishment to see a large number of blankets from the Union mills. Wilbur sold them to a San Francisco jobbing house, which had in turn sold them to the Portland firm. When the consignment was sold, however, the next order was made of the Union mills.

TO GREET DAVENPORT.

Pendleton's "Webfoot Club" Will Welcome the Cartoonist on Thursday Evening.

It is proposed by the former residents of the Willamette valley, now living in this city, that a sort of "Webfoot Club" be formed on Thursday evening for the purpose of welcoming Homer Davenport, at the Spokane train, at 5:35.

A large number of former residents of Salem and vicinity now live in Pendleton and most of them are personally acquainted with Mr. Davenport and all of them admire him and his art. His lecture at the Frazer on Thursday night, April 25, promises to be the most interesting attraction of the theater season this year.

The seat sale opened this morning at 10 with a rush.

NEW IRRIGATION WHEEL.

J. S. Mathews Has Invented a Device Which May Revolutionize All Present Methods of Irrigating.

J. S. Mathews, the veteran O. R. & N. pump man, has invented an irrigation wheel, which promises to revolutionize irrigating methods, if rightly applied to rivers and streams. He has been working quietly on the plan for some time, and has at last completed a model, which he will exhibit at the farmers' picnic at Echo, next Saturday, which he believes will lift water from a stream by its own motive power, more cheaply and successfully than any device in existence.

It consists of a wheel, with folding wings, which open as the wheel turns in the current, and close in time to lessen the friction which the extended wings might cause. The wheel lies flat on the water, and is what is termed a side-shot, power, and will run successfully in very shallow water, without the necessity for a dam or mill race. The wheel can be placed anywhere in the water and if of sufficient size will generate power enough to raise water any distance with proper gearing.

It can be constructed very cheaply and if arranged with the right kind of troughs and gearing can be made to serve in any part of a field, touched by a stream, without costly preparations for a site.

A patent has been applied for and Mr. Mathews will place the model on exhibition at Echo, during the farmers' picnic next Saturday, for inspection.

RIGBY-CLOVE COMPANY NOW OUT OF BUSINESS.

Pendleton Capitalists Could Not Be Interested in Reorganizing Foundry Company as Desired by Judge Geisler — Zeigler & Mays Will Take Immediate Charge of Foundry—Rigby-Clove Combined Investors Will Be Built Elsewhere—Perhaps in Portland.

Owing to the fact that none of the local capitalists of the city could be interested in the formation of the proposed new company as wished by the Rigby-Clove foundry managers, the interests held by the Rigby-Clove people in the plant were yesterday transferred to A. F. Mays, who formerly owned the property. Mr. Mays in turn has sold a half interest in the business to W. L. Zeigler and the place will be known in the future as the Mays & Zeigler Foundry Company.

The transaction is not in fact a sale, being but the return of the plant to its former owners. The Rigby-Clove people had never bought the foundry but had secured an option on it when they commenced the management of the foundry about a year ago. This option has never been taken up and when it was found that none of the Pendleton capitalists would interest themselves in the plan proposed for reorganization, the company holding the option turned the plant back to the former owner.

It is stated that Pendleton capitalists will now back the new people in running their property as a foundry and machine shop and will advance money to put the place in first-class running shape.

The main thing that held the people back from investment in the reorganization scheme was the amount asked for. It was intended to incorporate the plant for $50,000 and in addition to that to bond the property for $30,000, making an investment of $80,000, which amount the prospective investors would not shoulder.

Mr. Clove is now in Portland looking after his interests there and it is probable that the combines of the Rigby-Clove pattern will be taken to that city where some arrangement will be perfected for putting them on the market. There are now 10 of them in various stages of completion in the sheds at the foundry, and these may be fitted up here, but after that the manufacturers will seek another field in which to work. The foundry will be opened under the new management as soon as arrangements can be made for its equipping, and will endeavor to do first-class machine and general foundry work.

Forfeited $10 Bail.

A young lad from Umatilla, the son of A. B. Stevens of that place, was arrested last night for having raised a disturbance in one of the Chinese restaurants on Alta street. He was taken to the city recorder's office where he deposited $10 bail for his appearance this morning to answer to a charge of disorderly conduct. He failed to appear at the time set this morning and the amount was forfeited to the city.

A LINGERING COUGH

The cough that holds on in spite of all remedies needs energetic and above all thorough treatment. A mere cough mixture won't do. Root out the cold that causes the cough.

NO MAY DAY PROGRAM.

Public Schools Will Not Celebrate Bond Issue Until It is Surely Voted.

Owing to the bond difficulty there will be no special services by the public schools this first of May. It had been the intention of the schools to have May Day festivities in honor of the school bonds having been voted by the people of the district, but now that it is not known whether or not there are or will be any bonds, the pupils and teachers feel a little delicate in holding the celebration at this particular time.

The May Day exercises have been abandoned, therefore, and no program will be prepared unless it be by the different rooms separately.

Freewater Eagles Scream Here.

E. J. Lawler, A. J. Kelly, Joe Lawson, W. W. McCoy and C. B. Ingle formed a company of Freewater visitors who came down last evening to attend the meeting of the Pendleton Aerie of the Eagles. They returned home this morning.
