WILL VISIT IN WASHINGTON.

Mrs. Jane Bounds and Daughter, of Baker City.

Mrs. Jane Bounds, of Baker City, and daughter, Miss Mattie Bounds, were guests at the Hotel St. George yesterday while waiting for a train to Spokane.

Miss Bounds gained some notoriety last week by disappearing from her home in Baker City and had to be located by the police. It was thought at first that she had run away with a member of the Marguerita Fischer company, but that was disproved, and then it was surmised that she had been lured away by a procuress, but this was found to be incorrect, and now the mother and her family are en route to Washington, where they will visit for a time.

Will Locate Here.

F. E. Landreman, of Fond du Lac, Wis., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cook, of South Thompson street. Mr. Landreman is a machinist and is looking for a location. He has visited all over the Northwest and has decided that Pendleton is the best in the lot and will locate here.

Colonel Raley Will Defend.

Colonel James H. Raley, who has been retained by Charles Cunningham to help in his defense before the United States court at Portland, left this morning to be present at the opening of the trial.

THREE CASES IN SUPREME COURT

FAMOUS BREWERY CASE IS HERE ON AN APPEAL.

Plaintiff Alleges Failure to Carry Out Terms of a Contract to Manufacture Beer at Burns—Present Action is an Appeal by the Plaintiff, Who says Partner Couldn't Make Good Beer—Divorce Suit Appealed From Malheur County—Case of Illegal Possession From Crook.

The supreme court was busy all of the forenoon listening to the argument in the case of Woldenberg vs. Berg. The cases at this term all seem to have more argument to them than those of the past two terms, and it will take the court longer to finish its work here than at either of the other sessions.

The cases argued and submitted today were the following three:

Brewery Case From Harney. L. Waldenberg, appellant, vs. C. Berg, respondent. An appeal from Harney county, Martin D. Clifford, judge. A suit in equity to settle differences arising from the settlement of a partnership in a brewery plant at Burns.

The plaintiff, Waldenberg, owned a brewing plant and brewery site in Burns, but had no knowledge of the business, and went to San Francisco to find a man to run the plant. Here he met the defendant, Berg, and an agreement was drawn up, by the terms of which he and Berg were to own and operate the plant at Burns. Waldenberg was to furnish the money and Berg the experience. In the event of one or the other failing to carry out the terms of the agreement the one so doing should forfeit $1,000 to the other.

Owing to "the inability of the defendant to make a salable beer," the plaintiff attempted to dissolve the partnership and brought suit for damages. He lost the case and damages were awarded the defendant. Waldenberg now appeals, and asks that the decree of the lower court be reversed, and that an independent suit be brought to establish amount of damages.

Thornton Williams and Biggs & Biggs are the attorneys for the appellant; Parish & Remhold for the respondent.

Appeal in Divorce Case.

Hattie Jones, plaintiff and appellant vs. William Jones, defendant and respondent. An appeal from Malheur county. It is the suit brought to secure a divorce on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment. It was decided for the defendant and plaintiff appeals.

Will R. King, R. J. Slater and L. M. Narwood represent the appellant; John L. Rand and William Miller the respondent.

Damage Case From Crook.

Charles Altschul, respondent, vs. William T. Casey, appellant. An appeal from Crook county, W. L. Bradshaw, judge.

It is a suit brought to recover damages for wrongful possession of land. The respondent claims to own a piece of land which is used by appellant, and being unable to secure possession brings suit for $100 damages, which is granted. The defendant appeals.

Huntington & Wilson are attorneys for appellant; Williams, Wood and Linticum and W. R. Elliott are attorneys for respondent.

This position by the W. & C. R. is practically simultaneous with the decision of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, which has been widely heralded as "the first" to acquiesce in the wishes of the stockmen as expressed in their joint conference in Chicago, February 25, with the traffic managers of the Western roads.

IN COUNTY COURT

MET THIS MORNING IN ITS REGULAR SESSION.

Papers Were Served on the Court in the O. R. & N. Tax Case and Will Be Given Immediate Attention—Request for Appropriation to Help Support an Old Lady, Was Rejected and She is Remanded to Her Relatives.

The county court met this morning for its regular May session. Its attention was occupied with the accounts of the county which have accumulated during the past month.

The papers in the suit instituted by the O. R. & N. against the county for a writ of review in the circuit court to decide the question as to whether or not the taxes as assessed by C. P. Strain and levied by the county court were excessive and to prevent the county from taking steps towards the collection of the same, were served on the court when it convened this morning. The allegations of the plaintiffs will be gone over, and it is possible that the matter will be turned over to the county attorney for such action as he deems best to take.

Fred C. Davis was present at the opening of the court this morning, and presented a request that the county contribute $8 a month or more towards the support of his mother, Mrs. Catherine Davis, an aged lady of 86 years. The court investigated the matter and found that Davis, the son, is a man about 40 years of age and apparently strong and healthy. Besides that there are living in the county and near vicinity, John Guirado, a nephew, at Meacham; Walter Swart, a son at Bingham Springs; Henry Swart, a grandson, at Bingham Springs; Jerry Swart, of Athena; James Swart, of Kamela; Leta Guirado, a niece, at Kamela, and Mary Mason, a granddaughter, at La Grande, all of whom are able to contribute a little, at least, towards the support of their aged relative, and who, in the estimation of the court, should be anxious to do even at a sacrifice, before asking the county to take the matter in hand. The request was therefore refused, and the relatives of the old lady will have to struggle along as best they can in attempting to raise the $8 a month among the eight of them.

The court does not wish to establish a precedent in such cases, for if it did it might force the county into bankruptcy.

Assessment Progressing.

J. M. O'Hara, who has been taking the assessment in the Weston precincts, has finished his work and has turned his books in at the office of Assessor C. P. Strain and C. O. Henry has finished the assessment of the Athena precinct. The work of assessment is progressing rapidly and will be finished for the county in a short time, when the office force in this city will begin to make up the rolls from the data furnished by the field men. Mr. Strain is in hopes of getting his books in the hands of the clerk in better season than ever before so that there will be plenty of time and to spare in checking them up.

Berry Crop Very Good.

S. Torgenson, a prominent berry raiser of Milton, is in the city today on business, preparatory to handling a large quantity of all kinds of berries this year. He says the blackberries, strawberries, raspberries, and all other kinds of fruit will yield an enormous crop this season, but that cherries are going to be light. He expects to begin shipping about May 20. Help will be scarce in the Milton and Freewater districts.

C. E. S. Wood in Town.

C. E. S. Wood, of Portland, is in town in attendance on the supreme court. Mr. Wood is one of the prominent attorneys of the metropolis, and has been retained as associate counsel in one of the cases now on the docket.

Dr. Goffin, of Moro.

Dr. Goffin, of Moro, Sherman county, was a business visitor in the city for a short time today, having come here in company with a patient from Moro, who is seeking treatment at the hospital.

Mrs. Alice Guard, of Pilot Rock, accompanied by her son, left last night for Lower Lake, Cal., where she was called by the serious illness of her mother.
