INDIAN SCHOOL TO BE REMOVED

CARLISLE INSTITUTE WILL BE ABANDONED.

Equipment and Students Will Be Transplanted to Helena, Montana—Eastern Climate and Environment Unfavorable to Development of Western Indians.

The secretary of the interior and the commissioner of Indian affairs, have decided to remove the government Indian school from Carlisle, Pa., to Helena, Mont., where a magnificent tract of 700 acres of land, six miles from the city, has been secured, on the present site of the Wesleyan Methodist University.

The heavy expense of transporting Indian students to and from the Western tribes to Carlisle has caused the government to take this step. Nearly all the students at Carlisle are members of the Western tribes, and they imbibe the Eastern agricultural habits and Eastern habits at that school, until they are not fitted to follow their chosen field of work when they return to the West and find that their teaching has been along a different line from that followed in the West.

San Francisco, May 23.—The three-masted steam schooner Winnie Odell, loading with gasoline, was almost entirely destroyed by an explosion at the foot of Sixteenth street, shortly before 8 o'clock this morning, blowing six men into the water. A few seconds after the explosions, which were four in number, the vessel broke from her moorings and went adrift in the bay, greatly endangering shipping. She made straight for the Golden Gate, narrowly missed a number of vessels at anchor. The vessel and her $25,000 cargo are a total loss.

In addition to the cargo of gasoline, a large quantity of powder, all consigned to Cape Nome, was on board. The powder failed to explode with the gasoline, creating great apprehension, as the hulk drifted toward the Golden Gate. The Odell was built at Eureka, Cal.

Their story was that they came up to Hood River to pick strawberries, but finding they were not ripe, came up here. Cards written to relatives in California would indicate they were on their way to Iowa. Judge Blakeley will investigate their cases and report to Supt. Gardner.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 23.—A score of the descendants of Caspar Wistar, living in Philadelphia and Germantown, journeyed to Stouchsburg today to attend the annual Whit Monday feast of roses at Tulpehocken Reformed church.

Nearly 150 years ago Caspar Wistar of Philadelphia sold to the congregation land upon which the present church and parsonage stand. There was a condition in the deed that a red rose was to be paid annually. It was never observed until two years ago, when the back red rose rent was paid by presenting the Wistar descendants with 142 red roses. Since then the Wistar descendants contributed money for a new organ in the church. In recognition of this the congregation decided to add a white rose in the annual rental. The presentation of the two flowers was made this morning in the presence of more than 1000 persons.

MADE A RECORD IN WASHINGTON

PENDLETON MARKSMEN SHOT IN HARRINGTON.

Stillman Ties With the Champion From Seattle, But is Barred From the Trophy—Some Extra Good Scores Were Made at the Practice Shoot on the Hill Yesterday.

H. J. Stillman and James Spence have returned from Harrington, where they attended the Washington state shoot and upheld the honors of the Pendleton association of sportsmen. Dr. T. H. White, who was also of the party will return home this evening. All of these gentlemen shot into the money during their stay, and come home well satisfied.

Mr. Stillman shot in the main trophy event of the tournament, and tied at 37 out of 40 targets, with six Washington sportsmen. He shot off the tie and tied again with Ed Ellis, of Seattle, at 37 out of 40. The trophy went to Ellis, as Stillman was not eligible to it, being a non-resident of the state, and for that reason he did not shoot off the tie with Ellis. This event was shot over two traps with 20 birds to each trap.

Good Shooting Yesterday.

Several members of the Pendleton Sportsmen's Association had a practice shoot at the grounds on the hill yesterday morning at which some good shooting was done.

Fred Waite headed the list with a percentage of 94. He shot 141 out of 150 birds, and made a straight run of 67 killed. J. V. Tallman broke 81 out of 105 with a per cent of 77. L. L. White made a per cent of 66 with 99 dead out of 150, and S. R. Thompson broke 91 out of 150, making a per cent of 60.

FORMERLY OF PENDLETON.

Annie Morrison and Ed Grant in Limbo at Butte.

Butte, Mont., May 22.—Annie Morrison, of Baker City, Or., who says she ran away from home a year ago and has traveled 1,300 miles on the brakes in men's clothes since that time, from Portland, Or., to Minnesota, was arrested here today for wearing men's attire and fined $20. Being unable to pay, she was committed. Her companion, a man named Ed Grant, who says he is out of the Oregon penitentiary on parole, was fined $200 for carrying concealed weapons and held pending a message from the Oregon officials.

The girl is 48, tall, slender and pretty. She says her parents abused her. She evinced no perturbation when arrested, saying she was so used to men's clothes she did not realize she was committing an offense.

The Ed Grant mentioned in the dispatch was indicted by T. G. Halley on December 26, 1902, for the larceny of a horse belonging to Hugh Robie. He and Ed Weston, the notorious horse thief, were jointly charged with the crime and Grant was found guilty and sentenced to the penitentiary. He was afterwards brought back here to bear witness against his partner at the time of his trial. He was well known to the Umatilla county officers for some time before being sentenced to the penitentiary, and is recognized as a hard character. Annie Morrison is also known to the police of this place. She knew Grant while he was here and associated with him here before he went to the penitentiary.

CARNEY RAIDS THE GAMBLERS

Acts on His Own Initiative for the Benefit of the City Treasury.

FOUR MEN HAULED INTO COURT SATURDAY NIGHT.

Two Men Paid Up, One Was Dismissed and One Pleaded Not Guilty—Gradual Resumption of Operations By the Fraternity Since the Wholesale Raids of Some Weeks Ago—No Prognosis is Risked as to Future Attitude of the Administration.

Marshal Carney put his finger in the gambling pie Saturday night and hauled four of the gents of the cloth into the recorder's court, where they were released under $75 bonds. The men went back and opened their games again and were arrested the second time and put under bonds of $100, which cooled their ardor and they refused to play, for the rest of the evening, at least.

They were arraigned in the recorder's court this morning and William L. Devonshire and W. J. Hays were each fined $37.50, which they paid and were allowed to go.

George E. Rinker was dismissed for lack of evidence, and George Hayes pleaded not guilty. He claimed that he was a partner in the Merchants' Cafe, where the games were running, and that he had not gambled since being in the city. Sam Roberts, proprietor of the Merchants' Cafe, testified that Hayes was a partner and that he had not been gambling, and the court dismissed him.

The gamblers have been opening for some time, little by little since the Halley raid of some months ago. Games have been running in the back rooms of some of the houses behind closed doors, but none of the managers wished to take a chance at the open thing until about a week ago, when Roberts brought his machines out into the open of his back room and sent out word that he was in the business.

The fact that the games were open was reported to District Attorney Halley, but he was busy and about to go to Heppner to attend the circuit court, so let them run. On his return from Heppner he telephoned to Roberts, so it is said, and told him that if the games were not closed he would arrest the bunch. They closed for several days.

Friday last they opened again and did a rushing business all that day and during Saturday. Saturday afternoon Marshal Carney learning that they were in operation again and notified the managers that they would have to close, but the warning was unheeded and the games ran on into the night.

About 10 o'clock in the evening the marshal placed the men in charge of the games under arrest and had them put under bonds. On their second offense the bond was increased and the games closed.

Mr. Carney made the arrests on his own responsibility, not having been asked to do so by anyone. He takes the stand that he knew the games to be running, that the city needed the revenue, and that it was his duty in accordance with his oath of office to see that gambling in the city was closed. Whether or not he will follow up his present stand is not known, as the city government which placed him in office is not identified with that policy.
