ADVERTISING THE FAIR.

Portland Postoffice Will Turn Out Lewis and Clark Letters Abundantly.

Within 10 days all the letters leaving the Portland postoffice or any of its postal stations will be branded with the name of the Lewis and Clark expedition, says the Telegram.

Secretary Henry E. Reed, of the Centennial Company, has placed the manufacturing of dies in the hands of a local stamp concern, and these will soon be completed.

Two large dies are under course of manufacture for the electrical stamp cancelling machine, eight hand dies for each of the stations and four additional hand stamp cancellers for the main office are also being made.

When these are all placed in use an average of about 45,000 letters daily will be stamped with the words: "World's Fair, Portland, Oregon, 1905." These words will be inscribed on a little scroll effect across the impression made by the stamp.

THE OREGON GRANGE.

Clackamas is the Banner County in the State.

The Oregon Daily Journal, speaking of the grange in Oregon, says: "Clackamas has the banner county membership. It has 19 granges and about 1300 members. The report of Worthy Lecturer Buxton shows this comparison: Four years ago there were 29 voting members, now there are 56. Four years ago there were 61 granges in good standing, now there are 97."

The Tamest Bear in the World.

"There is an animal which every Zoo in the world would be glad to obtain a specimen of," said the director of one of the leading zoological parks in the United States. "It is the Koala, or Australian bear—the only bear in Australia.

"Though occasionally taken to Europe, it has never lived long away from Australia. Yet it takes kindly to captivity, and makes a charming pet when captured young. It is the tamest bear in the world. Even the wild adult animals will allow themselves to be handled without making the least resistance."
