WILL MEET NEWELL

THE COMMISSIONS OF TWO STATES IN JOINT SESSION.

Washington's Commission Invites Oregon Commission to Meet With it Which Will Be Done After the June Election—Newell is Now En Route to the Northwest—Much Anticipated From the Session.

The Washington state irrigation commission has extended a formal invitation to the members of the Oregon commission to visit them on the arrival of F. H. Newell in this section, to consider plans for formulating a law to cover all of the phases of the water question in the two states.

T. G. Halley, secretary of the Oregon commission, has received a letter from Mr. Newell stating that he had changed his intention of coming West by way of the northern route, and would instead have to go first to Yuma, Ariz. From that place he would go to Southern California, arriving there about the first of June. After that his movements were undecided, depending on circumstances, but it was his wish and intention to be able to be with the commissions of the two states some time during the early summer.

For various reasons the Oregon commission will make no effort to do anything before the joint meeting. Some of the members are to be out of the state, and the rest are mixed up in politics, so that it is impossible to call a meeting. About the first opportunity therefore will be when Mr. Newell comes, and after that dates will be set.

HOLT BROS. Side Hill Combined Harvester

The latest improved two-wheel, side-hill combined harvester has proven a boon to wheat raisers. It is the most successful, most economical, and easiest machine to operate ever built.

These harvesters have been given abundant trials right here at home and all users are highly pleased. None have been dissatisfied and all are high in their praise.

The Holt side-hill harvester on a side hill is able to stick to the side of the hill, while the header will slip down the hill. The main wheels are vertical, which braces the machine to the side hills. It works equally adapted to level land.

The Holt harvesters are sold exclusively in this section by

NAILING THE LIES

LETTERS TO JUDGE HARTMAN REFUTE HIS PERSECUTORS.

T. P. Gilliland and H. L. Frazier Clear Up the Lies Told About Hartman's Connection With the Treasurer Folsom Affair—Hartman's Property Was in His Own Name and Was Willingly Offered in Settlement of the Debts—No Notes Taken From Hartman, Says H. L. Frazier.

It is a pleasure to the people of Umatilla county to see one lie after another against Judge Hartman voluntarily refuted by those who know what they are talking about and who are of the opposite political faith.

The Morning Tribune attempted to make capital out of the Treasurer Folsome affair and has made malicious insinuations about Judge Hartman's action in the matter. Judge Hartman was one of the bondsmen of Treasurer Folsome, and the following letters from respected citizens of Umatilla county, both of whom are republicans, will set the voters right on the matter and brand this last attack of the Tribune as a willful misstatement of facts and county records.

The first letter is from County Commissioner T. P. Gilliland, and is as follows:

Pilot Rock, Oregon, May 21st, 1904.
Hon. G. A. Hartman,
Pendleton, Oregon.

Dear Judge:
In reply to your letter of the 18th inst., inquiring of me in regard to the stand taken by you in the Folsome treasurer matter, I distinctly remember of your stating to the county court that all of your property was in your own name and you would turn the same over to the county to pay your part of said bond if the court so desired.

Yours very truly,
T. P. GILLILAND.
The second letter is from H. L. Frazier, president of the Bank of Milton and is a clear cut, voluntary statement from a business man, who wishes to see justice done, and is as follows:

Milton, Oregon, May 19, 1904.
Mr. G. A. Hartman, County Judge,
Pendleton, Oregon.

Dear Sir:
Yours of yesterday at hand and contents noted.

I don't think we took any notes from any one but Tom Rourke, but it has been some time and we might have had others, but I am quite sure you had none in the batch. If my memory serves me right you stated that you were ready to pay your part when the rest of the bondsmen were. But when we found that we could not hold the bondsmen for it we thought we had better take what we could get. I think Mr. Gilliland will tell you the same. The records will show something about it, as everything that I had anything to do with is on record, even the indexing business.

I am sure you did the square thing about the Folsom business. Hoping Rigby will beat all of you and be elected, I am respectfully yours,

(Signed,) H. L. FRAZIER.

INDIANS COMPLAIN.

Object to Sheep Driving Across the Reservation.

The Indians are beginning to complain of the sheepmen for driving their flocks across the reservation contrary to the government regulations.

Owing to the fact that the roads across the reservation are the only means the sheepmen have of getting their sheep across the mountain ranges without going 40, 50 or more miles around, it is not likely that any action will be taken in regard to the matter, provided the sheepmen do not abuse the privilege.

It is claimed by the Indians that the flocks are allowed to graze along the road and to run out over the reservation, and if this is the case, perhaps some action will be taken to stop the practice. But if the sheep are simply driven through the reservation, and not allowed to spread out more than is necessary they will not be restricted.

ROADS ARE LONGER.

Changing Conditions of Settlement Make Differences in Distances.

Nothing indicates the increased cultivation of Baker county lands more than the actual increase in distances from one point to another brought about by changes and relocations of county roads to conform to the tracts of land recently fenced, says the Baker City Democrat.

This condition is most noticeable in Powder river valley, where there is a constant change in the roads. For instance, eight years ago the distance by road to Haines could be covered by a single or double rig in one hour or less. Now it requires one hour and a half to make the trip.

And changes in the roads will continue until finally all roads will conform to section lines. This is the condition that confronts the farmers and it remains for the people to accommodate the situation.

THE SHANIKO SALES.

Buyers Explain the Extraordinary Prices Which Prevailed.

The woolmen who have been attending the sales at Shaniko have returned and are now waiting for the next salesday to arrive.

They report the sales at Shaniko to have been pretty brisk, but the buying was done for the most part by one firm. One-half of the 1,750,000 pounds sold was bought by Charles Brigham, representing the firm of Whitman, Farnsworth & Thayer, of Boston. The rest was scattered and divided among the other 16 men attending the sale.

That the salesday scheme is a good one is shown by the prices of the wool sold at Shaniko, and also by the stories of the buyers, who say that Brigham wanted the wool and they wanted to make him pay for it. In other words, the competition of the buyers forced the price higher than it would have been at private sales.

The wool that was sold for 19 cents was a lot of about 10 or 15 sacks offered by U'Ren, and was a collection of extra fine or "pet" wool grown from a small flock of sheep. Aside from this, however, all of the wool brought better prices than at any sale so far held this season.

EUREKA NEEDS RAIN.

Rich Washington Wheat Belt Suffering From Drought.

County Surveyor L. W. Loehr, who spent last week along the Snake river reports that continued drought was beginning to tell on the crops, especially on the spring wheat, says the Walla Walla Union.

Some fields of the latter will scarcely be worth harvesting, if the dry weather continues. The rain of Tuesday, however, reached as far as the "flat" and undoubtedly did much to help the yield there.

Some of the farmers in the Eureka region are rather sore at themselves that they did not sow more fall wheat than they did. It was possible for them to have done so, but it was feared that the ground was too dry. The fine appearance of the fall grain this year has shown the fallacy of their fears.

EYEBALL REMOVED.

Elmer La Hue Compelled to Submit to an Operation.

As a result of an injury to his eye some days ago, Elmer La Hue, a young farmer living near Helix, this morning submitted to an operation for the removal of the injured member.

This is the case in which the victim was struck in the eye by a red-hot harrow tooth while attempting to sharpen it at the forge on his farm. He was brought to Pendleton where he has been since undergoing treatment for the injury, but pus formed behind the eyeball, making it necessary to remove the entire member to save the man's life. This was done at the hospital this morning. At last reports the injured man was resting easily, and will, unless complications set in, recover.

AGED MAN DIES.

Father of Louis Hunziker Passed Away in California.

Louis Hunziker received word yesterday afternoon that his father died at his home in Cloverdale, Cal., yesterday at noon after a short illness. The funeral was held this afternoon.

The deceased, G. Hunziker, was 80 years of age this month, and had been in good health up to a short time before his death. The cause of death was not given in the telegram received by Mr. Hunziker. The deceased had once been a visitor in Pendleton for a few days.

CASE OF APPENDICITIS.

Arthur O'Brian Has Been Seriously Afflicted.

Arthur O'Brian, the son of R. M. O'Brian, the well known farmer living near Pendleton, has been quite ill for some time with a severe attack of appendicitis. For a time his life was despaired of, but it was this morning reported that he was much better and would in all probability recover.

Forfeited $5.

John Doe is in trouble again, and this time he paid the usual $5 for the privilege of being drunk last night. He was arrested about midnight for being too noisy in one of the saloons down town, and rather than spend the night in jail, put up the money for his bail, which amount he forgot to call for this morning when court was called.
