ELEVEN TO THREE

PENDLETON WORKED OUT UNION EASY.

Good Ball Was Played Early in the Game, But Very Dull Playing Characterized the Latter Half of the Game—Fans Noted Only One Really Able Play From Start to Finish—Wonders Went to Adams Today.

If Manager Cameron, the Dugdale of the Inland Empire, is not able soon to find some aggregation of ball jugglers who are competent to measure up with his team from Wonderland, the Pendleton people will refuse to visit the scene of slaughter. It is awful to see the defenseless and the young go down before the unmerciful march of victory at the ratio of 11 to 3, as was the case yesterday afternoon when the Union team came to town after the scalp of the Wonders and failed to land.

The game was good yesterday up to half way through, and then everyone grew tired and loafed along in spite of the efforts of one or two of the team to play fast, and in the face of the prayers of the audience.

In the second half of the first inning Pendleton made the first score, and in the first of the second Union put a knot in the result. In the last of the fourth Pendleton added two to its credit and in the last of the fifth put another mark on the book. In the first half of the sixth Union scored once, and again, when the visitors came to bat in the seventh, a single score was counted. Pendleton made one in the seventh and six in the eighth, making the score 11 to 3 in favor of the home team.

The only really good play in the game was a double in the last half of the sixth from Crawford at short to Craig at second, and from there to Rose at first. The rest of the work up to the middle of the game was fast and clean, but after that it was one-sided and dull.

The Wonders left this morning for Adams, where they played the boys of that town this afternoon.

The positions of the two teams were as follows:
Union—Ross, 1b; Mulenshill, c; Craig, 2b; Crawford, ss; Patton, 2d; Bainers, cf; Robinson, lf; Wright, rf; Foster, p.

Wonders—Strand, ss; Alexander, 2b; Froome, 1b; Knapp, c; Jones, cf; Foster, rf; Hartman, 2b; Matthews, lf; King, p.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Beautiful and Impressive Observance at Cemetery.

The memorial services of the Woodmen of the World were held yesterday afternoon and were largely attended. The members of the camp and of the circle of the Women of Woodcraft assembled at their hall in the afternoon and went from there to the cemetery, where the unveiling ceremonies were held.

About 100 members of the Pendleton camp were in line, and a large number of ladies also were present. Dr. C. J. Smith made the address of the day, and spoke feelingly of the custom of the order and of the appropriateness of the day as observed by them.

Miss Chloe Stanfield recited Abraham Lincoln's favorite poem, "Oh, Why Should the Spirit of Mortal Be Proud?" The address and the recitation, together with the impressive ritual of the order made the exercises beautiful, and a fitting tribute to the memory of the members of the order who have dropped from the ranks.

Off for the East.

Mrs. M. A. Thompson left this morning for Ottumwa, Iowa, where she will be the guest of relatives and friends for several months. Before returning she will visit several other of the cities of the East and the St. Louis fair.

Figures Don't Lie.

The postoffice report shows total newspaper postage paid for quarter ending March 31, $63.25. Paid by East Oregonian, $41.29. Paid by Guide, Tribune, Hawawinn and Stock Journal, $21.96. The East Oregonian paid nearly double the postage of all the other Pendleton papers.

BUGGY GIVEN AWAY

J. E. STRODE, WAITSBURG, WASH., LUCKY MAN.

Winning Number Was 823, and No One Having Guessed it Exactly, Mr. Strode Gets the Prize by Guessing Nearest, with $25—Buggy Cost $100 at A. Kunkel's and is Now Held Awaiting Mr. Strode's Order.

J. E. Strode, of Waitsburg, Wash., formerly a Umatilla county farmer, won the rubber-tired buggy given away today by the East Oregonian, his guess being the number 825. The unknown number was 823, and no one having guessed it exactly, Mr. Strode won the contest by guessing nearest the right number, which was not known until the envelopes were opened by the committee of business men in charge of the contest.

There were over 800 guesses in the contest from all over the Northwest, and all imaginable numbers were included in that collection. The unknown number was absolutely unknown to any until the committee opened the sealed envelopes containing the figures comprising it, and while there was a wide range in the amounts guessed, about 20 people came reasonably near the right number.

The buggy was given away absolutely free, and is a beautiful vehicle, costing $100 at the implement house of A. Kunkel in this city, and is now held awaiting the orders of Mr. Strode, to whom it belongs. The following guesses were nearest the right number:

- 801, W. H. Babb, Medicine Hat, Alberta.
- 801, A. W. Grover, Helix, Ore.
- 802, H. E. Cook, city.
- 813, Mrs. J. T. Huston, Ukiah.
- 815, Frank Beal, Milton, Ore.
- 825, J. E. Strode, Waitsburg, Wash., winner.
- 834, John H. French, Vinson, Ore.
- 844, Ernest Eggerth, city.
- 847, J. S. Beckwith, city.
- 847, M. M. Johns, Athens.
- 851, H. C. Means, Ashwood, Ore.
- 851, C. Stanton, Helix.
- 856, J. T. Liewallen, Adams.
- 856, D. McDonald, Myrick.
- 856, James Nelson, Vinson.

Statement of Committee.

The committee having charge of the contest has issued the following statement to the public in regard to the manner of selecting the winning member and awarding the prize:

"We, the committee of business men who conducted the East Oregonian guessing contest for the rubber-tired buggy, met at the East Oregonian office and opened the envelope which contained the unknown number which was formed by us and which has been in the possession of M. A. Rader, the chairman of the committee since the contest was inaugurated.

After opening the large envelope by breaking its seal, we opened the three smaller envelopes. The first to be opened contained the figure 8, the second the figure 2, the third envelope contained the figure 3, making the number 823. We broke the seals on the ballot box and carefully examined all guesses. As A. E. Strode, of Waitsburg, Wash., was the nearest to the number, we declare him winner of the rubber-tired buggy.

- A. KUNKEL.
- M. A. RADER.
- GLENN WINSLOW.
- G. A. ROBBINS.
- E. T. WADE.

THE ORPHEUS COMPANY.

Excellent Musical and Literary Program at the Christian Church, Saturday Night.

The program rendered by the Orpheus Musical Company at the Christian church, Saturday night, under the auspices of the Woodmen of the World, was one of the best of the kind ever rendered in this city.

The company is made up of artists, and it is unfortunate that more of Pendleton's people did not take advantage of the opportunity. The violinist, Bernhard Walther, is a performer of rare ability, the pianist, Catherine de Vere, the vocal soloist, Jean St. Remy, and Dorothy Walsworth, the elocutionist, were all high class artists and responded to encores after every number.

The singing by Miss St. Remy was a rare treat, her voice being one of the sweetest and most remarkable ever heard here. The Woodmen deserve the congratulations of lovers of good music for bringing this company to Pendleton, and it is particularly unfortunate that the performance was not more liberally patronized.

CITY JAIL EMPTY.

Saloons Closed and Prisoners Out for a Holiday.

The city jail is empty for the first time in several days, and will, it is hoped, remain so until after the election. Those who have been spending their time as the guests of the city were released this morning in order that they might enjoy the holiday. Since all of the saloons are closed, there was no great danger that they would find their way back before the polls had closed at least.

EN ROUTE TO PULLMAN.

Ladies Were the Guests of Pendleton Friends for a Day.

Mrs. W. B. Peacock of Portland, and Mrs. George Hart, were in town today for a short time, while on their way to Pullman, where they go to visit Mrs. Will Lyons, the sister of Mrs. Hart. Mrs. Hart has just returned from Manila, where her husband is in the commissary department of the government. Mrs. Peacock is the wife of the former partner of W. H. Dindinger, they having been interested in a store in Albany together.

While here the ladies were the guests of Mrs. Caspar Van Dran, at the Hotel Pendleton.

J. W. MALONEY APPOINTED.

He Succeeds Sargent as Treasurer of the K. of P.

James W. Maloney has been appointed grand master of the exchequer of the domain of Oregon, for the Knights of Pythias. He is to succeed Edward M. Sargent, who dropped dead of heart disease in Portland some time ago. The appointment was made by Emil Waldman, the grand chancellor.

The appointment came as a surprise to Mr. Maloney, and will prove of importance to the city, since a great quantity of business will pass through his hands at the bank in handling the checks and warrants of the order.

LAST RALLY.

Local Option Advocates Closed Their Campaign Last Night.

The Christian church was crowded last night with people who came to attend the last local option rally before election.

R. J. Slater, Mr. Turner, T. G. Halley, S. A. Lowell and Rev. J. H. Leiper, of Portland, the field secretary of the Northwest Sabbath Association, addressed the meeting in 10-minute speeches. The meeting was enthusiastic throughout, and the managers of the campaign are hopeful of good results.

Statement by Miss Raymond.

Miss Ida Raymond, the young lady who attempted to take her life a few days ago by taking chloroform, wishes to deny that she is the woman mentioned in the Spokane papers as being well known in that city by her habit of intemperance. She has never been in the least trouble in that city, and has never used intoxicants. The first trouble of her life was that of last week, which was correctly stated in this paper, and the report from Spokane is all a mistake.

Fans From Union.

Mrs. M. R. Woodard, Miss Claire Crawford and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ross, all of Union, were the guests of friends in Pendleton yesterday, having come down to attend the baseball game between the Wonders and the Union team.

To Illinois for Her Vacation.

Miss Dora Y. Parks, for the past year one of the teachers in Pendleton Academy, left this morning for her home at Dunlap, Ill., where she will spend her vacation. She will all probability remain in the East.

Formerly of Pendleton.

Arthur Zoellner, of Baker City, was the guest of friends in Pendleton today. Mr. Zoellner was formerly one of the force of the Boston Store, but for several months has been employed in one of the leading stores of Baker City.

May Move to Walla Walla.

George Peringer of Pendleton, is in the city looking after his race horses which he has quartered at the fair grounds. Mr. Peringer may decide to remove to Walla Walla.—Walla Walla Statesman.

Woman's Club Meeting.

The Woman's Club will meet tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. at the Commercial Association parlors. This is the last meeting of the current year and it is hoped every member will be present.

Closing Rally.

The closing rally of the campaign was held at the court house Saturday evening by the republicans. A small audience gathered to hear the speaking, and no great enthusiasm was shown.

Dwelling Finished.

Louis Greenwald has finished the work on his new house on Lincoln street, and will move into it the middle of the next week.

The case of Postmaster Bancroft, of Portland, is now in the hands of Senator Mitchell.
