FOR CONSUMPTIVES

BINGHAM SPRINGS SANI-TARIUM A NOVELTY.

Dr. Bingham Believes in Fresh Air and Wholesome Food—Will Make a Specialty of Treating All Degrees of Consumption—Summer Resort is Changed to a Home for the Afflicted.

It will be a matter of regret to many that the Bingham Springs summer resort has been changed to a sanitarium for consumptives. Dr. Bingham, who has in the past leased the place as a summer resort, decided to eliminate that feature and remodel it for a health resort for tuberculous patients.

New bridges are being put in, new bath houses constructed, the old dance hall and bowling alley is being remodeled for a hospital.

An East Oregonian representative visited Bingham Springs a day or two ago and found Dr. Bingham busy in supervising the alterations.

"Plenty of eggs and meat, plenty of pure mountain air and rest will effect cures in many cases," said the doctor. "I am putting tents up and the patients are required to live in them constantly. Of course, when winter comes I will move them into the hospital, but even there they will be compelled to spend much of their time on the porch and in the open air."

"In the Adirondacks similar resorts are maintained, where a high percentage of cures are effected. Forced feeding is insisted upon, as well as fresh air. The average person does not pay enough attention to getting a plentiful supply of pure air, especially in his sleeping compartments."

"Consumption is well called the great white plague. A consumptive expectorates on the walk. It dries and the germs are carried by the dust. A person whose mucous membrane is diseased or affected either by catarrh or a bad cold breathes in some of the germs which find lodgment in the nasal passages or in the lungs, and there is another victim."

"Another prolific source of contagion is the sleeping cars or steamer berths. A consumptive leaves behind him a trail of contagion. I had a patient recently die, a strong, healthy woman, of consumption."

"We traced it back till we found she had occupied the same state room on her return from Europe that a consumptive had used on the journey to Europe. Too much care cannot be taken in destroying the sputum of consumptives."

"Anti-toxin is a possible danger. I injected some anti-toxin into a patient recently, whose right lung was affected, but who probably would have lived two years and the anti-toxin and other germs beside those of tuberculosis and the patient did not live over 60 days. For this reason I am making my own anti-toxin."

Taking several teaspoonfuls of sputum from one of his patients whose case is far advanced, he injected it into a horse. The first injection was made a week ago. He hopes to render the horse immune by repeated injections and to procure a good quality of anti-toxin for use on the patient from whom he obtained the sputum.

"There is no reason to fear injection from the sewerage of my patients which is discharged from here into the Umatilla river as the organic matter will be oxidized before it reaches Pendleton or other points where the water is used for drinking purposes," said Dr. Bingham. "I expect to get a contract from the O. R. & N. to take care of all their tuberculous patients. In this country there is more consumption among the Chinese than among any other class; next come the Indians, then the negro and last the white race."

"It is a disease that should be fought constantly and intelligently. As an example of what carelessness will do, some time ago a Walla Walla woman, prominent in church work, kissed a friend of hers who was in the last stages of consumption. This woman took the disease and her daughter nursed her and both of them died, as did also the daughter's husband, and two of their children—all needless deaths, all from the kiss of a consumptive. I hope here to be able to effect cures which are not possible in the cities."—Fred Lockley.

NORRIS & ROWE COMING.

Enlarged, Refined, Up-to-Date Circus to Be Here Next Thursday.

Once more the glorious circus time is upon us and once more is the coming of Norris & Rowe's new big show heralded. No circus traveling is more liberally patronized or more heartily applauded by an appreciative public than this great western enterprise.

The show has grown and grown until they have assumed the proportions of a large circus, and two rings and an elevated stage are utilized to exhibit the army of performers whose daring flights through the air thrill the hearts of those witnessing them. Under the mammoth tents will be seen this season a wonderful galaxy of talents of all kinds; graceful, clean limbed athletes, the always absurd clowns, the tumblers, gymnasts, acrobats, equilibrists, contortionists and trained animals which go to make this show one of the greatest of its kind now traveling. Norris and Rowe will exhibit at Pendleton Thursday, June 16, at 2 and 8 p. m.

Try the hot free lunch at the Merchants' Cafe, 12 to 1 at noon; 4 to 6 p. m., and at midnight.

True labor unionism goes deeper than mere wages.

FLAG ANNIVERSARY.

Stars and Stripes Were Adopted 127 Years Ago.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 14.—Today is Flag Day, the 127th anniversary of the enactment by congress that the flag should consist of 13 stripes, alternate red and white, and a union of stars, one for each state, in a blue field. The American Flag Association, which takes this day under its particular care, recently sent out a circular broadcast through the country, urging patriotic societies, school children and the public generally to observe the day with appropriate ceremonies, and to see that the flag should "greet the rising and salute the setting sun."

It is but natural that the day should be more generally observed in Philadelphia than in other cities, for it was in this city, in a house still standing at 239 Arch street, that Betsy Ross made the first flag. The house was today visited by delegations of school children and others, and during the forenoon patriotic exercises were held under its roof.

Startling Evidence.

Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption Coughs and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, Bentonsville, Va., serves as example. He writes: "I had bronchitis for three years and doctored all the time without being benefited. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all lung and throat troubles, consumption, pneumonia and grip. Guaranteed by Tallman & Co., druggists. Trial bottle free, regular sizes 50c and $1.

Arkansas Democrats.

Hot Springs, Ark., June 14.—The democratic state convention was called to order here today. The work of the convention will consist of a ratification of the results of the April primary. Governor Jeff Davis will be renominated and the delegation to the St. Louis convention will probably be instructed to vote for W. R. Hearst.
