WILL INVESTIGATE

PROBLEMS OFFERED
BY BINGHAM SPRINGS.

The Consumptive Sanitarium an Object of Suspicion and of Possible Danger—A Danger That Increases as the Distance Lessens to Bingham—Will Be Looked Into by Representative of the State Board of Health.

Dr. C. J. Smith has returned from a visit to Portland, where he attended the meeting of the state board of health.

Dr. Smith's attention has been called to the condition of the Bingham Springs Consumptive Sanitarium, and it is his intention as a member of the state board to investigate it and see if the conditions prevail there that are reported. What his action will be is not known, but it is supposed that he will take measures to have the place put in a sanitary condition if it is found not to be so now.

It is reported by those who have visited the place that all of the closets connected with the institution are emptied into Bingham Springs creek, which empties directly into the Umatilla river. If this is so, all of the sewage of the place is floated down the river for the benefit of those who live along its banks between that place and this.

While it is true that the distance from Bingham Springs to Pendleton is made up of several miles, it is none the less unpleasant to the residents of Pendleton whose water supply is taken indirectly from the river, to have the idea in their minds that they are drinking the sewage, purified and refined by distance though it be, from a sanitarium for the cure of consumptives.

J. A. Borie, president of the Commercial Association, in speaking of the matter, does not think that the people of Pendleton are directly affected so much as those living along the stream further up; but he thinks that even if this is the case, the city is menaced by these people. The Indians, who are predisposed to consumption, use the water direct from the river, and at points very close to the sanitarium. If it is at all dangerous at any place, it is dangerous to the people there, and if it brings them under the pall of the disease, they will be sure to spread it among the people of the city.

Mr. Borie does not think that it is the province of the association to take a lead in the investigation unless the health authorities fail so to do. He thinks, though, that the management should be compelled to put the place in such a condition that there can be no possibility of danger to anyone, however close he may be to the buildings.

It is certain that the condition of the institution will be looked into, and some measures taken, whether by the state board of health, the county authorities or the city, to have the sewage taken care of in a proper manner, that there may be no chance of infection, either in the immediate vicinity of Bingham or far away from there.

When a man sets popularity before his eyes he is likely to let principle out of his heart.

IN SOCIETY

Anderson-Davis.

A wedding of interest to the people of Pendleton occurred in Portland on Wednesday afternoon, June 15, at 4 o'clock, when Miss Anna Anderson, of that city, was united in marriage to Ben K. Davis, the well known young attorney of Pendleton.

St. Marks' Episcopal church had been beautifully decorated with palms and white carnations, and was filled with the friends of the young couple. The bridal party was ushered into the building by the strains of Mendelssohn's march by A. R. Wright, the organist of the church.

The groom was supported by Fred W. Lampkin, of Pendleton as best man, and waited at the altar for the bride, who, accompanied by her matron of honor, Mrs. N. P. Sorensen, of Astoria; her maid of honor, Miss Christine Anderson, sister of the bride; and bridesmaid, Miss Eva Solderen, advanced down the center aisle of the church to the strains of the march.

The ceremony was spoken by Rev. John E. Simpson, rector of St. Mark's, who united the applicants by the impressive ring ceremony of the Episcopal church.

Charles W. Myers, of Pendleton, and Alfred R. Kerrigan, of Portland, were the ushers.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the bridal party and a few intimate friends of the principals repaired to the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Margaret Anderson, where a reception was held from 1:30 until 5:30 o'clock. The residence had been tastefully decorated with roses and ferns in anticipation of the reception, and presented the appearance of a fairy bower, in which the friends gathered for their congratulations and farewells to Mr. and Mrs. Davis.

The bride was gowned in a simple costume of white swiss and carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses. The matron of honor and the bridesmaids were costumed in pale blue silk organdy with picture hats to match, and each carried arm bouquets of Caroline Tustin roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis reached the city this morning, and for a short time will be at home at the home of C. P. Davis, remaining there until the groom has made a decision as to where he will locate permanently.

Mrs. C. P. Davis will entertain a few friends this evening in honor of the homecoming of her son and his bride.

Missionary Meeting.

The women of the Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church met at the residence of Mrs. C. E. Troutman yesterday afternoon in a social session. About 40 women were present and ice cream and cake were served on the lawn. A most delightful time was enjoyed.

Will Entertain Monday.

Invitations are out for a party to be given Monday evening at the home of Mrs. T. W. Ayres, by Mrs. Ayres and Mrs. E. A. Vaughn, in honor of their sister, Miss Bertha Matlock, and cousin, Miss Nora Matlock.

George Hartman, Jr., to Wed.

The wedding of George Hartman, Jr., of the First National Bank, to Miss Alice Grey, of Astoria, is announced to take place at Astoria on July 6.

HAND BADLY INJURED.

Horn of a Stock Saddle Driven Through and Against It.

Ira DeWitt, a young man who has been working on the David Ingram farm on Birch creek, for the past year and a half, met with a peculiar and painful accident yesterday afternoon.

DeWitt started to come to town, and caught a horse to ride that had not been under the saddle for some time. When he mounted, the animal began to pitch and buck and finally threw himself, catching the rider's hand between the sharp steel horn of the heavy stock saddle and the ground, and driving it through the palm.

The third and fourth fingers were torn from the hand, while all of the small bones in the back of the hand were broken and crushed and spread apart. DeWitt came to town, went to a doctor and had the injury dressed. It may be able to save the hand, but it will be permanently disabled in any event.

JESSE MOORE GOES EAST.

Umatilla County Pioneer Will Visit a Brother in Missouri Not Seen for 54 Years.

Jesse Moore, the pioneer stockman of Butter Creek, accompanied by his daughter, Katie, will leave tonight for St. Joseph, Mo., to visit a brother whom he has not seen for 54 years. Mr. Moore was born in Cooper county, Missouri, 63 years ago, and being left an orphan, left home when he was young, lost trace of his family until a recent visit to Missouri to purchase a carload of fine bulls for his Butter creek stock ranch.

He came to Willamette valley in 1852 and after residing at different points in Western Oregon, finally came to Umatilla county 45 years ago, where he has lived continuously since. He will now spend some time in the East visiting relatives and looking over scenes of his boyhood.

WILL SERVE MEALS.

Presbyterian Ladies at Shooting Tournament.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church are preparing to obey the scriptural injunction, "Feed My Lambs," during the tournament to be held in this city the last three days of the week.

One of the things that has been inconvenient in connection with the tournament, has been the distance to town from the shooting range, and so much time being lost in going to and from meals. The ladies will overcome this drawback by serving meals to the contestants from 9 o'clock in the morning until 3 o'clock in the afternoon on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the three days of the tournament. The proceeds will be devoted to the church.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC.

Most Enjoyable Affair for the Little Folks.

The Congregational Sunday school and friends had a picnic at Byers' grove on Wednesday last. About 100 children and young people enjoyed themselves a good part of the day in feasting on cakes and sandwiches, swinging and playing games, racing and jumping. All voted the event a success in every way.

There are many who are opposed to Byers' grove as a proper place for a school building, that believe it to be an ideal spot for a city park.

IN POLICE COURT.

Varied Assortment of Bums Sentenced to Jail Terms.

Tom Traynor was sent to the city jail this morning for five days, for having assaulted Henry Shorter with one of the uprights taken from his bootblack stand in front of the Baker & Garrison saloon. Traynor is one of the remnants of the circus, and was pretty drunk yesterday morning; so drunk, in fact, that he commenced an argument with Shorter on the relative merits of the Russo-Japanese war, which soon became so heated that a club had to be employed in making the gestures. Shorter was pretty badly bruised and had his assailant arrested.

Three vags were sent to the cooler for three days each, and one for five days for being more of a vag than the rest.

Three drunks were sent up for three days each, and Thomas Balcum, a stranger who thought he could both outrun or whip the policeman as occasion demanded, will visit in the city's summer residence for 10 days.

FLETCHER SOLD OUT.

Hobach Will Consolidate Two Lines of Business.

W. D. Fletcher has sold his confectionery store on Court street, near the Hotel Bickers, to Otto Hobach, the baker, and will give possession the first of the week.

Mr. Hobach will still occupy his brick building on Thompson street, as a bakery and will do his baking there, but will bring his products to the Court street place, where he will keep them for sale. He will still continue to handle candy and ice cream as Mr. Fletcher has.

DEATH OF A BABE.

Child Was Ill But Two Days of Pneumonia.

The 10-months-old girl of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Reeves died at their home in this city yesterday after a two-days' illness with pneumonia. The body was prepared for burial and was taken to Woodburn, the former home of the parents, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Reeves. Mr. Reeves is an O. R. & N. employe, working in the car repairing department.

Old Friend of W. D. Fletcher.

J. R. Reynolds, bandmaster with Norris & Rowe's circus, visited with W. D. Fletcher while in the city last Thursday. Mr. Reynolds is an old friend of Mr. Fletcher's brother-in-law, who played with Reynolds in Phinney's United States band in the East for a number of years, and he enjoyed his visit with Mr. Fletcher very much. Mr. Reynolds and Frederic Redhead, a brother-in-law of Mr. Fletcher, played last year in Ennis' famous band at the Eastern summer resorts.

Weston is Good Enough for Him.

H. C. Adams, the banker, of Weston, was in town today for a short time while returning from a week's visit to Portland. Mr. Adams is glad to get home again, and is better pleased with Umatilla county in general and Weston in particular than ever. He reports indications to be bright for a heavy crop both in grain and fruit in the vicinity of Weston, and sees bright times ahead for the county.

Ten Carloads of Sheep.

John Howard, the Eastern sheepman, who has been in the vicinity for some time, has ordered 10 cars for sheep to be shipped out next Monday night. The sheep have been picked up around Pendleton, and are to be delivered here Monday in time to load for the evening train, which leaves over the W. & C. R. at about 7:30. They will be shipped East, where they will be sold in the Chicago markets.

McLaughlin Recovered.

Jack McLaughlin, who has been confined to his room for some time with a severe attack of quinsy, is convalescent, and was out for the first time Monday. He will be back in his place at the freight office of the O. R. & N. Monday morning.

Mutton Sheep Sold.

The Frye-Bruhn company has bought the mutton sheep of George Adams, numbering 1400 head, and will ship them to Seattle in a few days for the market.
