BAND INSTRUMENTS ARRIVE.

W. D. Fletcher Receives the Shipment of Instruments for Boys' Military

The shipments of band instruments for the Boys' Military Hand has arrivfrom the factory and the band will be immediately organized.

W. D. Fletcher, organizer and lead-er of the band, has fitted up rooms in the old band rooms on Johnson street, and will at once begin practicing for the series of street concerts which has promised the city during the next four years. The shipment comprises instruments costing over $400, and is one of the finest collections of band instruments ever brought to Eastern Oregon. The members of the band will be selected carefully, from the list of applicants now in the hands of Mr. Fletcher. It will be organized under a set of by-laws, prescribing that the members shall be of good moral character, obey the bandmas ter's instructions, be temperate, gen-tlemanly and civil and attend meetings for instruction and rehearsal and conduct themselves in every way win the respect and esteem of the

The course of instruction for the class comprising the boys military band will be of four years' duration. in which time the hand promises to give a number of tree street concerts

Mr. Fletcher is one of the oldest bandmasters on the Pacific coast, having organized and conducted bands in California and also being one of the first organizers and leaders in this city, some of the best players in the present Pendleton band having come from his class

RAILWAYS EMPLOY MANY MEN.

Salaries Are 60 Per Cent of Operating Expenses.

The number of persons in the emed States, according to the tatest report of the interstate commerce commission, is 1,189,315, or an average of 594 employes per 100 miles of line.

The classification of these employes shows that 48,318 were enginemen, 50,651 firemen, 35,070 conductors and 91,383 other trainmen. There were 50,489 switch tenders, crossing tenders and watchmen.

Disregarding 1982 employes not assigned to the four general divisions of employment, it appears that the serv-ices of 41,071 employes are required for general administration, 399,592 for maintenance of way and structures 228,280 for maintenance of equipment and 518,390 for conducting transpor-

The report contains the statement of the average daily compensation of the 18 classes of employes for a serin of years beginning with 1892, and also another giving the total compen-sation paid to more than 99 per cent of the railway employes for the fiscal years 1895 to 1902.

The amount thus shown as paid in splaries and wages to employes dur-ing the year ending June 30, 1902, was $676,028,592, which was $65,314. 891 in excess of what was puld during

The compensation of the railway employes for 1902 is equivalent to 60. 56 per cent of the operating expenses of the railway companies and 39 16 per cent of their gross earnings.
