SUNBONNETS

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS

FORMERLY OF PENDLETON, NOW OF DOUGLAS, ARIZONA

C. E. Bull Left Here in 1882 and Had Not Returned Until Now—His Father Founded the East Oregonian—Mr. Bull and His Brother Are Both in the Newspaper Business in the Southwest—Few Pendleton Sights Look Natural to Him.

There arrived in Pendleton last evening by the Portland train, C. E. Bull, now a resident of Douglas, Arizona, who will spend some time visiting here. Mr. Bull had not seen Pendleton until last evening for 22 years, as he left here for New Mexico in the spring of 1882, and has not been north of California since, until now. He is greatly enjoying meeting old friends, identifying some localities, and trying to identify still more, but generally not succeeding.

Mr. Bull's father, M. P. Bull, founded the East Oregonian in 1874, and conducted it several years, disposing of it to the gentleman of whom it was purchased by C. S. Jackson, Mr. Bull, Sr., and his two sons, C. E. and Munson, were all printers, and the latter are now both in the newspaper business, but at widely separated points. The former, who is visiting here, is the editor and publisher of the International American, published at Douglas, Arizona, which town is in the southeastern corner of the territory near the Mexican border. Munson is editor and publisher of the Herald, at Portales, New Mexico. Douglas is a rapidly growing and prosperous town of between 5000 and 6000 inhabitants, and the International American is an afternoon paper with daily and weekly editions.

Other members of Mr. Bull's family, all of whom are known to the old settlers, are his brother, Mack, who is now manager of a warehouse at Moro; his sister, Miss Mabel, who is a jeweler in Portland, and another sister, Mrs. Mollie Stearns, who resides in Oakland, California.

Mr. Bull speaks of Marvin Turner, the lawyer, formerly of Pendleton, but now of Silver City, New Mexico, where he has been very successful in the practice of law, and is in the New Mexican legislature. L. Kearney, also formerly of Pendleton, is following the practice of law very successfully at Clifton, Arizona.

The many, radical changes which this place has undergone during the past 22 years are almost confusing to Mr. Bull, who is only sure of Main street, the river, the hills and the Main street bridge. Even the latter is natural only in its relation to the street and the hills, as it is the successor only to the bridge which stood where it stands, but which was taken out by the great flood of November and December, 1882, a few months after Mr. Bull went South.

APRON CAUGHT FIRE.

Pasco Girl's Clothes Burn From Her Body.

Walla Walla, June 24.—With the whole of the back left arm burned to a blister, besides other small burns, Miss Lillian Rosencrance, of Pasco, was brought to St. Mary's hospital yesterday. Even more of the surface is burned than in the case of Mrs. William Nave of Walla Walla, upon whom the process of skin grafting has been so successful.

Miss Rosencrance was preparing the noonday meal Tuesday, her only companion being her sister, Lena, 14 years of age. The corner of her apron caught fire from the stove and communicated to her dress, of this summer material, progressing with such swiftness that the first intimation of danger was a blaze almost enveloping her face. Miss Rosencrance was so severely frightened that she ran through the house till nearly every particle of clothing had burned, her sister trying in vain to smother the flames with a blanket, but was unable to reach her until the flames had subsided.

Miss Lena did what she could to alleviate her sister's sufferings, then went to her father. A physician was called, who advised Mr. Rosencrance to bring the patient to the hospital for proper care, as her critical condition requires the best possible medical attention.

NEW SPOKANE HOSPITAL.

Episcopalians Dedicate a $60,000 Building.

Spokane, June 25.—The new St. Luke's hospital, Episcopal, was formally opened today. The institution, which cost nearly $60,000, was planned seven years ago. The grounds were donated by John A. Finch and besides other efforts to beautify them 10,000 trees have been planted. The institution is in debt but $6,000, which amount cannot fail to be wiped out within a year or two. The new buildings were started but one year ago.

The new hospital is by all means the best equipped in the city.

STEAL WATER.

Ritzville in Danger of Fire From Reduced Supply of Water.

Ritzville, June 24.—Theft of water from the general supply at Ritzville, and the utmost wastefulness in its use by those who do not steal outright, is making trouble in this place. With the engines working full force and full time, the water in the reservoir has been known to be lowered as much as two and three feet during a single night. The city council is up in arms, and a drastic ordinance is the result. Among other protective measures is one cutting down the irrigation hours per week. Some of the time the supply of water is so low that the protection against fire is very insufficient.

NEW PACKING PLANT.

Independent Packing Company Will Build at Portland.

Denver, June 24.—Portland, Ore., is to have a $500,000 packing plant in connection with the campaign of the Independent Packing Company against the beef trust. This definite announcement was made in Denver today by officers of the National Livestock Association, who will journey to Portland for the meeting July 9, when preliminary arrangements will be completed.

FARMERS' MEETING

EXAMPLE OUGHT TO BE FOLLOWED ELSEWHERE.

Its Plan Embraces Many Most Desirable Features From Both Educational and Social Standpoints, Besides Affording Much Needed and Very Desirable Recreation — Independence Convention Will Be a Three-Day Affair.

The Salem Journal rises to remark that big farmers' conventions are now being held from time to time where the farmers meet and discuss the best and most approved manner of proceeding in the production of their crops and listen to addresses on subjects in which they are vitally interested by men who have made the matter a scientific study or both as farmers or instructors, and in the agricultural colleges of the country.

Such a convention of farmers is about to be held at Independence, Polk county, where, at a two days' picnic given by the farmers and hop growers of that section, a convention of farmers and stockgrowers will be addressed by four of the professors of the Oregon Agricultural college and by leading farmers of the valley, headed by Prof. Withycombe.

A farmers' picnic will begin Friday forenoon at Independence, and there will be the usual pleasures of a picnic with a fine musical program, addresses of welcome and all the features of a big convention. Governor Chamberlain will deliver an address. Basket dinners and a program of races from a fat man's race to an auto race and other sports will follow, and in the evening addresses before the farmers' convention will fill in the time.

Saturday the same program, varied from the first day's, will be repeated, and the evening's meeting in the big auditorium will again be devoted to the sessions of the farmers, and the discussion of matters of interest to the farmers.

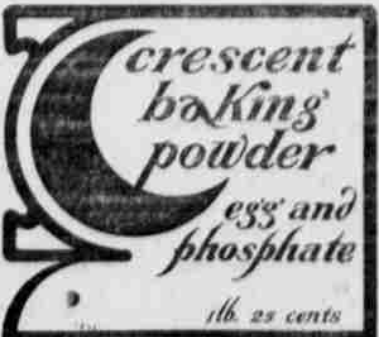

The gathering promises to be one of the best yet held by farmers in the state, and is certain to be of interest to all who attend. Farmers from all parts of the Willamette valley will be present, and will take on the nature of a farmers' institute combined with the pleasures of a country fair.

Coronation of King Peter.

Vienna, June 24.—The dates for the coronation of King Peter have been definitely fixed at Belgrade for August 29, 30 and 31 next. It will take place in the cathedral with great pomp. Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria and Prince Nicholas of Montenegro are expected to be present at the ceremony as guests of the king. The foreign courts will be informed through diplomatic channels, but no direct invitations will be sent. The same dates have been fixed for the grand celebration of the 100th anniversary of the liberation of Serbia under the leadership of Kara George.
