IRRIGATE INDIAN LANDS

Government Will Reclaim Deserts Along the Colorado River,

The recent action of congress in passing Senator Bard's amendment to the Indian bill has put another definite task upon the reclamation service. The secretary of the interior is now authorized to subdivide and utilthe Indian lands along the Colorado river. The reclamation of the of the land, country adjacent to what has been sometimes called the "great Ameri-can Nile," is thus assured.

The plans to irrigate these lands have long been regarded with special favor in Southern California.

The passage of Senator Bard's amendment is especially interesting, as it is now possible for the secre tary of the interior to carry out an agreement made with the Indians years ago to the effect that their might be subdivided and irrigated by a private corporation. Suitable laws were passed, but the company failed to build the works, after pr and the Indians have been waiting hibition for other relief. From time imme-morial they had been accustomed to cultivate the lands along the river in spots wet by the overflow. These areas have now passed into the hands of the whites.

All that is left to the Indians is desert land that, without water, is valueless. With water, however, it can be made to produce several crops Under the amendment to the Indian bill, relief has finally come to the impoverished Indians.

The secretary of the interior is now free to build the necessary canals under the terms of the reclamation law, and to allot to each Indian five acres of land with water. He need not wait on any private corporation As the Indian families average from five to six persons, this would give them ample lands for their supjudging from the experience the Mormons in Utah, where the av-

Contest Among Writers to Portray Resources and Opportunities of Oregon-Articles Must Be Written by Oregonians, But Published Outside Old Standbys and Some New Ones the State-The Word "Webfoot" Is Barred From the Contest.

In order to stimulate a spirit of pride in the state of Oregon among the younger writers and correspondents in the state, the Portland Commercial Association has offered prizes amounting to $200 for the best written articles on Oregon.

The following circular letter has been sent out, giving the details of the contest and it is hoped that every person able to write 1000 words on the resources of Oregon, will enter the contest as it is intended by it to bring out the different points of view. on the state and its wonderful resources and opportunities.

Following are the regulations governing the contest: To the People of Oregon, Greeting: The Portland Commercial Club of fers two gold medals and $200 in cash prizes for articles on Oregon, under the following conditions:

For the best article appearing in the regular edition of any newspaper or other publication printed outside of the state of Oregon, to be competed for only by persons residing in Ore-gon and not living in the city of Porttand, choice of a gold medal or $50 in cash

For the second best article, either the gold medal or $50 in cash, depending upon selection made by the winner of first prize.

Article winning third prize will be given $25.

Fourth prize will be $15, the fifth orine $10. To residents of Portland a gold medal and $100 wal be distributed in prizes upon exactly the same basis as he gold medal and $100 are to be distributed to residents of Oregon outside of Portland

The reason for having these arti-cles printed outside of the state is that we want the people away from home to know our advantages, and then we desire the Portland and Oregon papers to be relieved from any embarrassment that might arise through having to decline articles. Articles containing the expression "Webfoot" will not be allowed to compete.

The governor of the state will be asked to appoint a committee to decide as to the winners in the state contest, while the mayor of Portland will be requested to name the committhat will select the winners in this city

One of the chief reasons for offering these prizes is to give the younger generation an opportunity to do some pleasant work during vacation. This is a busy age and no article is desired exceeding 5000 words-those of about 1000 words preferred. No articles will be accepted in com petition except where the newspaper or other publication is submitted complete. The articles submitted become the property of the Portland Commer cial Club, to be used as desired.

The contest closes October 1, 1904. We believe that there will be an in teresting competition for these prizes and feel sure that many newspapers throughout the United States, Canaevice and other language will be accepted.

Feeling certain that this effort will and co person result in much good to Oregon, we are. H. M. CAKE.

EXCRUCIATING EFFORT.

King's Pitching Only Good Feature of Long Game.

The baseball game yesterday on the Alta street grounds was an excruciating affair, according to the comment of the fans, enthusiasts and managers, all of whom agree that it has been a long, long time since the equal has been seen, and that it is to be hoped that it will be still longer before its equal is seen again.

When the game ended the score stood 16 to 10 in favor of the Won-The game was won in the last two innings. The first seven innings stood eight to seven in favor of the Stars. Then luck changed with vio-lence, and the game closed 16 to 10 in the Wonders' favor.

It is said that the only feature of the game that showed anything but the most unpromising mediocrity from start to finish was King's pitching. He pitched 18 strike-outs, and did finely from the beginning of the game until it ended. The positions yesterday were as fol-

Stars—Bryson, catcher; Bryson, pitcher; Hutchinson, short stop; Bo-gard, first base; Drake, second base; Castle, third base; Downey, left field, Means, center field; Beacham, right
