FIRST GRASS BEEF

DROVE OF 200 FAT CATTLE
COME IN FROM RANGE.

Camas Prairie Growers Sell Entire Herd to Carstine Brothers, of Seattle, Through L. Stubbiefield, of Pendleton—Price for Steers 3 1/2 Cents, Cows, 2 3/4 Cents and Bulls 2 Cents—There Are Yet 1000 Head of Fat Cattle on the Camas Prairie Ranges.

The first drove of grass beef shipped out this season arrived from Camas Prairie last evening, and was sent over the W. & C. R. last night, to Carstine Brothers, of Seattle.

The drove consisted of 200 head of choice range cattle, fat as butter balls and one of the prettiest bunches of beef ever sent out from this point.

The cattle belonged to Henry Lazinka, George Linsner, Jacob Born, Mossie Brothers and Ralph and Sam Clark, who combined their herds and drove in together, making the distance of 50 miles in three days, although the dust and heat were almost intolerable part of the distance.

The cattle were purchased for Carstine Brothers, of Seattle, by L. Stubbiefield, the popular and well known buyer of this city, at the following prices: Steers, 3 1/2, cows, 2 3/4, and bulls 2 cents.

This first shipment of grass beef for 1904 is at least three weeks later than last year, the first shipment last year having been made about June 10 by the same parties.

These cattle have been on the best range in Eastern Oregon since early in the spring, and were in prime condition and suffered but little loss of weight by the three days' drive in the hottest weather of the season.

While the prices are about one-half a cent lower than last year, the growers are fairly well satisfied with the result of the sale and feel that the indications are for higher prices later in the season, as there is no over production of cattle in that district. There are fully 10,000 head of choice beef cattle in the Camas prairie district ready for the market now, and other drives will follow this one regularly as the stuff is needed in the markets.

The number of cattle left ready for the market in the Camas prairie district is about the same as at this time last year.

DROUTH IN WEBFOOT.

All Crops Need Rain Badly, for First Time in Nearly 30 Years.

The dry weather of the last two weeks has resulted very disastrously to the hay and grain crop of the Willamette valley, and, from present indications, not one-half a yield will be harvested, says the Salem Journal.

The oat hay crop especially has suffered, and many farmers are cutting the crop now in order to preserve the quality, as it is being injured by the drouth. Clover hay has not suffered very much, but all other kinds have, and it is safe to predict a good-sized shortage in the market this fall.

This is the first time in almost 30 years that Oregon has felt the effects of a dry spell. The extremely heavy rainfall of the spring caused the ground to settle, and when the sun finally put in an appearance the result was that the surface of the soil baked and the injury to crops followed.

The rain within the next few days would help the grain crop, but the damage has been quite heavy, and a part of it will never be remedied.

SHORT SALMON RUN.

Great Disappointment Among the Fisheries People.

Astoria, June 28.—The run of salmon is still remarkably short and all of the canneries report that the pack is more than 50 per cent less than at this time last year. Since the opening of the season there have been few fish in the river, the result of the high water, and the scarcity has continued without any change. The fish are smaller than usual, curtailing the amount put into cold storage.

Deputy Fish Commissioner Burton of Washington, who came down from Cathlamet yesterday, reports that the packers on the north shore of the river are all complaining, and that the pack there is quite as short as that on the south shore.

The river is now going down and an improvement is looked for shortly, although it is agreed there will be a shortage of salmon until late in July, when the heavy hatchery runs come into the river.

Vermont Republicans.

Montpelier, Vt., June 30.—The republicans of Vermont assembled in state convention here today with John W. Stewart of Middlebury, presiding. The convention will name candidates for governor and other state officers to be voted for at the state election in September, and also to choose four presidential electors. Charles J. Bell of Walden, leads in the number of instructed delegates for the gubernatorial nomination. J. A. DeBoer is the next strongest candidate among those aspiring to head the ticket.

Porto Rico's New Governor.

San Juan, June 30.—Arrangements on an elaborate scale are being made for the inauguration next Monday of Beekman Winthrop, the new governor of Porto Rico. In San Juan the day will be observed as a general holiday and the induction into office will be accompanied by imposing ceremonies. Delegations of Porto Ricans will be present from all parts of the island. In addition to the formal ceremonies of inauguration there will be a grand display of fireworks and other kinds of festivities.
