St. Louis, July 9.—Shortly before noon leading delegates representing New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Missouri went into consultation on the vice presidential nomination in Shehan's room at the Southern hotel.

New York brought out Gray, of Delaware. Tillman, who later joined the conference, urged the nomination of Daniel of Virginia, stating, "It's time the South was recognized."

The tip is strong that Harmon, of Ohio, will be given the nomination. Nearly all the delegates in the hall claim his nomination is certain.

Will Be Harmon, of Ohio.

St. Louis, July 9.—The conference on vice president broke up at 2:20 without announcing a definite conclusion. Statements were made, however, that Judson Harmon, of Ohio, is practically the unanimous choice of those present.

Dubois, of Idaho, is sarcastic in treating the matter, stating that availability for the second place seemed to depend on whether the candidate supported Bryan. If he did, said Dubois, he (Harmon) is not available.

It is said New York has definitely declared for Harmon. Conferences are proceeding all through the hall, and there is a rumor the silver men will try to compel an adjournment until 8 in order to allow an opportunity to rally forces. The heat in the hall is fierce, and enthusiasm is at a low ebb.

Adjourned Till Evening.

At 3:20 the convention recessed till 5:20.

Hearst in Line.

Before taking the recess Delegate Lawrence, representing Hearst, read a telegram from the latter saying he would support Parker and the platform.

Conference in Progress.

Parker is a Cheerful Swimmer.

Esopus, N. Y., July 9.—"Is that so?" cheerily remarked Judge Parker at 7 this morning, emerging from his Hudson river plunge, as the information of his nomination was given. The nominee's curiosity went to the extent of asking for details of the final vote, but he refrained from making any comment.

"I shall say nothing whatever on the subject until formally notified of the nomination," said the judge at his home. The nominee cordially greeted a number of newspaper men.

Judge Parker retired last night at 10, and did not show himself until 6 this morning, when he went to the river for his usual swim.

Milwaukee, July 9.—E. C. Wall this morning telegraphed his congratulations to Parker, promising him his vigorous support.

A STRONG TRIO.

The Howards Were Highly Appreciated in Pendleton.

From the standpoint of local theatergoers next Monday will be a blue day in the Pendleton calendar. It will witness the departure of the three Howards—Frank, Sam and Mable—the most accomplished and versatile trio of theatrical constellations shedding their light on the local boards in many moons.

During their brief sojourn in this city the Howards have peculiarly endeared themselves to their audiences. They know their limitations, which are not narrow, and do not poach on forbidden ground. Happy and original in their interpretation of farce and comedy roles, withal clean and wholesome in every line, their productions appeal irresistibly to one's sense of the ludicrous. The risk is not included in their repertory.

Of Mable Howard, it should be added that she has an excellent soprano voice, sweet, of rich timbre and well cultivated. As a Tyrolean yodler she appears to special advantage. Taken as a whole, it may be said of the trio that not for them were written the lines, "We Don't Care if You Nebber Comes Back."

Reported Fatal Accident.

It was reported by passengers reaching here on the train from Portland this morning that an unknown man was struck by a train last night near Arlington and instantly killed. His badly mangled body was found this morning and taken to Arlington by the crew of the train from Portland. The man is supposed to have been a tramp who was killed while intoxicated.

HOUNDED TO DEATH.

Mineowners of Colorado Drive Man to Suicide.

Denver, July 9.—W. H. Morgan, assayer and president and general manager of the Grouse Mountain Gold Mining Company, was found dead today in a lodging house in this city. He had committed suicide on July 4 by taking poison and then shooting himself. He was one of the first parties deported from Cripple Creek. Letters left by him show he had been threatened and driven to desperation. One letter, apparently from the dead man's wife, is as follows:

"Dear Will: I saw General Bell tonight to let me get some groceries and he said he hoped Denver would soon be put under martial law so he could search for you. He said he would fix it so no union man could vote at next election. He talked awful to me."

"Now, dear Will, please stay in hiding and do not let this horrid man get a hold of you for they will never let you get away. I hope to God this terrible thing will soon be settled in some way, so you can return to your home again. I do not see why innocent men should be made to suffer. You say you are discouraged. Brace up and write soon to
