...Old Rare Coins. Chairman of Walla Walla has a collection of old rare coins and interesting pieces of currency. They were obtained by the Province of Pennsylvania over a century and a half ago. Both belong to the same class as shillings, being struck by four inches in size. They are shillings and were printed in the early days of the colony. On the back of each is a picture representing a vineyard with a leaf. The one of higher value is that which is printed in red ink and is called a red shilling. It is said to be worth $1000.00.

...Sack of Klondike Dust. Yesterday Will Retzler of the Senate saloon was the recipient of an express package that reminded many of the early days in this section. Not only was it unique, but one that would have been most acceptable to any citizen of the town. It was a buckskin sack containing $300 in gold dust and tagged with the address of its present owner, Long ago Mr. Retzler was requested by a friend in Alaska to loan him a few hundred. This sum Mr. Retzler wired to his friend and the obligation was squared by this Alaskan commercial method.—Walla Walla Statesman.

...Hoppers Are Thick. William M. McKinley was up from Rock creek yesterday with a load of produce. He says the grasshoppers are doing considerable damage in his neighborhood, his own ranch having suffered to the extent of $200 or $400. The pests attack alfalfa fields, gardens and orchards and a new crop seems to hatch every day or two. W. G. Flett is saving part of his peach crop by enveloping the trees in muslin covers.—Condon Globe.

...Miners May Strike. Pittston, Pa., July 11.—Owing to the many misunderstandings which exist between the miners and mine operators in the Wyoming and Lackawanna district, the annual district convention of the miners begun here today is expected to be one of the most important sessions the union has ever held. Several serious strikes are to be considered and acted upon. Chief among these is the threatened strike of the Ontario and Western miners because of the action of the company in refusing to withhold the amounts due check docking bosses and check weighmen as salaries.
