BOY WITH STEADY NERVE.

Nine-Year-Old Slept Alone at the Shooting Range.

Little Ward Manker's bravery may be admired by his parents, but his mother does not like his way of displaying it. She was kept in a state of mental unrest bordering on hysteria a few nights ago by her 9-year-old son remaining out all night. When he turned up the next day it was learned that he had slept alone on the grounds of the Pendleton Sportsmen's Association.

It appears that the youthful scion of the house of Manker and a playmate of about the same age, Wesley Mimms, agreed to go out to the shooting grounds together. Ward went first and sat down to wait for his chum. Something caused Wesley to fail to go. After waiting about an hour Ward lay down and went to sleep.

His mother became anxious as to his whereabouts during the evening and had relatives and friends scouring the city for him. She was well nigh frantic and had not slept a wink when the little fellow made his appearance at 8 o'clock the next morning.

"Why didn't you come home sooner?" she asked.
"Well," answered the lad, in a matter of fact way, "I didn't wake until about midnight, I guess. I concluded there was no use coming in that late so I just lay down again and slept through until the finish."

CARNIVAL NOW AT ITS HEIGHT

CROWDS THROUGH THE GROUNDS UNTIL MIDNIGHT.

High Dive Successfully Made by Mangels. But His Monte Cristo Dive Failed This Morning and He Was Almost Drowned—Will Bravely Make Another Attempt and if Successful Will Then Give Public Exhibition of the Feat—Candidates for King of the Carnival Are Popular and Numerous—Voting Closes Tomorrow Night.

The second night of the Eagles' carnival was a grand success, the grounds being crowded until midnight with a jolly, interested crowd of people, who enjoyed the various features very much.

An immense business was done by all the attractions, and it is difficult to judge which is the leading attraction in point of attendance, although the monster serpent, Samson, is the general favorite.

The high dive was accomplished by "Dare Devil" Mangels twice yesterday, once at 4 and once at 10 p. m., both feats being entirely successful, and thrilling in the extreme.

This morning he attempted the Monte Cristo dive from his 100-foot ladder, but failed to cut himself out of the sack and landed in the reservoir while sewed in and was almost drowned before the attendant could rescue him.

He will attempt the dive again tomorrow morning, and if successful will then give a public exhibition of the daring feat, which has been accomplished by but two other men in the world of amusement, so far as known.

This feat consists in sewing the diver in a tight sack in which condition he is pushed from the top of his ladder 100 feet high, and is supposed to cut himself free in the descent and alight in the water, head first.

It is a difficult and thrilling feat and is perilous in the extreme. In attempting it at The Dalles, he alighted outside of the reservoir and was caught by two attendants who were there to assist him, should he fail to get out of the sack in time, and both were injured.

The following candidates are now being voted for for king of the carnival, and as the voting will close at midnight tomorrow night, friends of the various candidates are urged to vote early and often. The following aspire to the honor: Leon Cohen, Lee Teutsch, T. D. Taylor, J. T. Hinkle and Conrad Platzcoeder. Any of these birds would wear wings with grace and the eagles will take pleasure in putting the feathers on any of them that the people may select.

The Dixie Carnival Company carries about 170 people, who are all quartered at the various hotels and lodging houses in the city, the average living expenses per capita amounting to $1.25 per day, which makes a total of about $215 per day, being spent for living expenses alone, to say nothing of other supplies that are needed by the various attractions.

New Attraction Tonight.

As an additional attraction for this evening, Conrad Platzcoeder, candidate for king of the carnival, has consented to make the high dive and will be taken to the top of the ladder blindfolded, to save his nerves for the plunge. For fear that he will feel reluctant about making the drop, the committee in charge of the carnival has wisely decided to open a keg of beer under the ladder, just as Mr. Platzcoeder reaches the top, and think by practicing this ruse on him, that there will be no doubt about him taking the leap at the scheduled time.

It has been suggested that all candidates for king take this dive to test their fitness for the position of king. Lee Teutsch will attempt the Monte Cristo dive tomorrow and Joe Hinkle has been practicing in the Umatilla river for two days to get the proper graceful twist necessary to beat Platzcoeder's appearance while turning the somersault in the air.

SEES DEMOCRATIC SUCCESS.

Dr. B. F. Allen of Vicksburg, Miss., Talks of National Politics.

Dr. B. F. Allen of Portland, a representative of the Vicksburg Daily American, of Vicksburg, Miss., is in the city today, and in speaking of the prospects of Judge Parker, democratic candidate for president, said: "The Roosevelt enthusiasm seen in the West is found nowhere else in the United States. The South will be against him on account of his negro policy. Wall Street is against him because of his pretended fight on the money power, and if Judge Parker can get Wall Street's actual, bona fide support, he will make Roosevelt the race of his life."

"The mention of Roosevelt's name in the South does not conjure up any enthusiasm among his republican supporters. He is looked upon as too adventurous to inspire much interest among the conservative elements."

"Fate is all against Roosevelt. In the entire eventful history of the United States, no accidental vice-president has ever been nominated or elected to the presidency before, and if Mr. Roosevelt succeeds it will be a reversal of all the ethics of former campaigns."

"While Parker is looked upon in the East and South as a reserved, silent man, yet he is clean and strong, and has never been defeated for office. He did not seek this nomination, and the monied interest, which absolutely control the country, are satisfied with his policy, and they are not satisfied with Roosevelt. It looks like a democratic year."

AFTER SHEEP BUTCHERS.

Believed That Three Men Will Be Taken in Custody Today.

By tonight the authorities expect to have in custody all the three men charged with holding up J. Ruball, a herder for David & Eyraud, on Milk river, with a revolver and stampeding 6000 sheep.

Sheriff Taylor went to Milton to bring in one of the three cattlemen charged with the crime. He was arrested by Deputy Blakely.

Hospital Filled With Patients.

For the first time this year, St. Anthony's hospital is filled to overflowing with patients, there being no rooms vacant and but few beds vacant in the wards. There are now 25 patients in the hospital and several have been turned away for lack of room. Many patients from distant points have recently been received, including five from Union county and several from Southern Umatilla and Grant county. The hospital is rapidly taking its place among the leading institutions of the kind in the Northwest, and with its fine equipment and efficient management is attracting more patronage than it can handle at this season of the year.
