AN INDIAN LAWSUIT.

THREE HUNDRED TWENTY ACRES ARE IN DISPUTE.

Plaintiff Sues for Eighteen Hundred Dollars Cash, and for a Decree of Ownership—She Also Asks for a Receiver—Issue Was First Made in 1885 and Decision Largely Depends on Recognition or Non-Recognition of an Indian Divorce.

What promises to develop into a most interesting legal action has begun in the circuit court. Through Attorneys Halley & Lowell suit has been filed by Tse-lap-tse-lap, an Indian woman, against Wa-sis-pum, another Indian woman, better known as Annie Pond, and Joseph A. Brooks. The suit is over reservation lands.

It is alleged by the plaintiff that in March, 1885, Soox-kap-up-kap-up was allotted 160 acres of land in pursuance of an act of congress, and his daughter, Its-kee, also a quarter section. Tse-lap-tse-lap says she was the wife of Soox-kap-up-kap-up and the mother of Its-kee. The girl died in 1894 and the husband in 1897.

The plaintiff claims that the 320 acres of land owned by the two reverted to her, but that Wa-sis-pum, who claims to be a sister of Soox-kap-up-kap-up, has wrongfully taken the land and leased it to Brooks. She demands that she be paid $1800, the income from the land since it belonged to her, and be decreed by the court the rightful owner. Her attorneys are to ask the court immediately that a receiver be appointed to take care of the wheat crop until the questions at issue are adjudicated.

Carier & Raley appear for Brooks, and R. J. Slater and J. T. Hinkle for Wa-sis-pum. Demurrers were filed today on the ground that the circuit court has no jurisdiction. It is said the defense will be that the plaintiff and her deceased husband were divorced according to Indian custom. The plaintiff's attorneys deny that such was the case, and say that if it was, Indian marriages are recognized by the courts, but not Indian divorces.

AWFUL SQUIRREL PEST.

Palouse Crops Have Been damaged by Them.

Reports from all parts of the Palouse country are that squirrels are worse this season than for many years, and a vast amount of damage has been done to wheat fields.

Big sums have been spent for poison and ammunition to kill the pests. In some localities the damage has been heavy, while in others, but a few miles distant, it is comparatively light. John Wilton, of Colfax, who has a large farm on the Cottonwood, near Thornton, said:

"I have never seen squirrels so bad as this year. I spend more money for poison and put in more time killing squirrels this year than ever before, yet they appear to increase all the time, and have done an immense amount of damage. I believe the squirrels have destroyed from 8 to 10 per cent of the crop of Whitman county this year. I have a field of 250 acres and am satisfied that if all the damage in that field were confined to one spot it would cover 25 acres. This is fall wheat. Spring wheat has not been injured much, as it is too late for the squirrels to bother, if there is a field of fall wheat near."

While it is thought Mr. Wilton's estimate is too large, there is no doubt that the total damage in Whitman county by squirrels this year will reach into hundreds of thousands of dollars. Mr. Wilton's estimate of damage would place it more than half a million dollars for the county, the crop being estimated at from 12,000,000 to 14,000,000 bushels this year.

Officials Get a Scare.

What at first was thought to be a well-planned attempt to wreck the coming passenger train on the O. R. & N. east of Baker City last night resulted in a very narrow escape for Superintendent M. J. Buckley and several engineers, who were on an inspection trip.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Buckley and two engineers, who were out on inspection, arrived in Baker City and took the helper engine from here, which was in charge of I. T. Mayfield, the Union-Companion mine. The while inspecting bridges, and running at a high speed between stations near Weatherby they slowed down to about 20 miles an hour.

Here the engine struck a new spike which had been placed on the rails. The big machine was almost overturned, but was stopped as soon as possible by Mayfield. Mr. Buckley, believing that the spike had been placed on the rail maliciously, and seeing an emigrant camp near by walked over there and charged the man he met with the deed.

The man denied all knowledge of it, but two of his boys came up and said they knew all about it, and had put the spike on the track for fun. The father pleaded for his boys, said they never saw a railroad before and as the crowd looked rather innocent Mr. Buckley let them go with a good lecture, but the track walker will keep them under surveillance.—Baker City Herald.

Special Excursion to the World's Fair

The Denver & Rio Grande, in connection with the Missouri Pacific, will run a series of personally conducted excursions to the World's fair during June. These excursions will run through to St. Louis without change of cars, making short stops at principal points en route. The first of these excursions will leave Portland June 7th, and the second June 17th. The rate from Pendleton will be $60.00 to St. Louis and return. Excursionists going via the Denver & Rio Grande have the privilege of returning via a different route. This is the most pleasant way, as well as the most delightful one, to cross the continent. The stops arranged give an opportunity of visiting the various points of interests in and about Salt Lake City, Denver and Kansas City. If you wish to accompany one of these excursions write at once to W. C. McBride, 124 Third street, Portland, for sleeping car reservations.

NEWS THREE WEEKS OLD.

Morning Tribune Finds Out About Easter Oregon's Oldest Citizen.

Three weeks ago the editor of the the East Oregonian visited Union and met Moses Lore, a French Canadian 165 years old, said to be the oldest man in Eastern Oregon. On returning to Pendleton a column biography of Mr. Lore was written by the editor of this paper and published in the Daily East Oregonian of June 28.

The article proved to be interesting to Eastern Oregon exchanges, as well as the Portland papers, the Telegram using it in full under a La Grande date line, and several esteemed contemporaries closer to Mr. Lore's home than the East Oregonian and evidently ashamed to be scooped on such news under their very noses, used the article as original copy, without credit to this paper.

After three weeks, the Morning Tribune finds that the article is good reading, and in its issue of Sunday morning, July 17, run it entire, credited to the Blue Mountain Eagle, which paper "lifted" it from the East Oregonian. It is yet good reading, although three weeks old in Pendleton.

UNION COUNTY HORSES.

Fall Wheat in Grande Ronde Damaged by Frost.

G. W. Benson, formerly county clerk of Union county, was in the city today disposing of 35 head of horses. All were working animals, and the owners deems it possible that he will have to go on to Colfax to sell the remainder.

"The frost did considerable damage to fall wheat in Union county," said Mr. Benson, "but little injury to the spring crop. This country is a month earlier than the Grande Ronde, and harvesting will not begin there."

for about three weeks. The hay crop in Union county will be large."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

By local applications as they can not reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

London Chess Tourney.

London, July 18.—The first of a series of three important chess tournaments to be held in England and on the continent this summer opened in London today. The tournament is being held under the auspices of City of London Chess Club. It is open to both professional and amateurs, and involves also the amateur championship of Great Britain.

Found Statue of Apollo.

Paris, July 18.—French archaeologists, excavating at Carthage, have found a colossal statue of Apollo, standing close to the ruins of an altar. The statue is said to be of matchless beauty, and nearly intact, only the forearms having suffered injury. The statue will be placed in the Louvre.

Figuring on Foundations.

The contractors are now figuring on the specifications for the foundation work of the new school building and it is probable the contracts will be let Saturday night next. The foundations will be of stone exclusively except the flues.
