ENDING OF TAYLOR CASE.

Divorce Granted and Division of Property Effected. In the case of Moses Taylor vs. Melissa Taylor, action for divorce, the divorce was granted by Judge Ellis on the ground that the defendant has causelessly used abusive language and made slanderous and abusive charges against her husband. The division of property was made on the general plan of giving the wife one-third, but as a matter of fact, she gets somewhat, or slightly more, than one-third, as follows: The home place (160 acres of land) about half way between Weston and Athena, valued at between $10,000 and $12,000; a brick business house in Athena, now occupied by the Fair Store, and valued at $7500; the following cash awards: $1,000 on October 1, 1904, and $1000 on the first days of October, 1905, 1906, 1907 and 1908, and $500 on the first day of October, 1909 and 1910 respectively.

CLEARED $66.66.

Eagles Come Out Slightly Ahead as Result of Carnival Week.

The Eagles came out ahead on last week's program just $66.66 cash. As King Conrad succinctly puts it, "We are ahead just $66.66, as we ought to value our experience at not less than $500." The public shares the regrets of the order that its profits are not greater.

The heaviest item of expense was $2 per day for the 10 ticket takers. The order's share of the gross receipts was $400.

The Eagles all speak in terms of praise and real appreciation of the character of the company's manager, James Simpson, and his methods of doing business, and he took from here an unqualified indorsement to that effect signed by all the officials of the order.

A noticeable and singular, and as yet unexplained fact is that during the entire carnival week the number of arrests was fewer than usual and the police court docket was correspondingly lighter.

LITTLE GIRL KICKED.

Thelma Thompson Receives Body Injuries Thought to Be Serious.

Thelma, the 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Thompson, was kicked by a horse last Saturday evening and severely hurt. She lay unconscious, or partly conscious for several hours, and suffers considerably now, as she has most of the time since the accident.

A team hitched to a wagon stood in front of the family home on South Main street. While playing about, the little girl fell off the sidewalk, which is there about three feet higher than the level upon which stood the team. She rolled beneath one of the horses, which was startled and kicked the child once on the right side of the abdomen, and again over the kidneys. It is possible that the injuries may prove more serious than they are even now known to be. Only time will develop that fact, or that the injuries may be slight.
