

July Shoe Sale

At this time of the year we desire to clean out our shoes of all odds and ends regardless of cost. We have had a success so far this month. We are asking for good stylish, serviceable shoes that we can't afford to pass us by.

Children's shoes in sizes 8 1/2 to 2; regular price $1.20, $2.00, $2.25 and $2.50, all go during sale at $1.00. See outside display.

Ladies' slippers in sizes 3 to 6, all widths in patent kid and kid. Many nobby styles, regular values $1.75 to $4.00. July sale price 75c to $2.00.

Ladies' fine shoes in light or heavy soles, our regular $3.50 to $5.00 lines; broken lines and not regular of a kind, but can give you a good assortment to choose from. They are selling now for from $2.00 to $2.50.

Men's fine dress and work shoes, about 700 pairs in all, are being closed out regardless of cost; $1.25 to $2.00 now buys a $2.00 to $3.50 shoe.

Best of all. The Royal Blue $3.50 shoe for men. We have them in 10 different styles. Exclusive agents in Pendleton.

WHERE IT PAYS TO TRADE

WOULD FARM THE CRATER.

German Wants a Lease of Hawaiian Volcano.

Not long ago a Portuguese started a small farm on top of the extinct crater of Puncbowli, on the island of Oahu, in the Hawaiian islands, growing melons and vegetables for the local market.

His enterprise may be followed on a much larger scale by J. L. Coerper, who has applied to the Territorial Government for a lease of the well known Diamond Head crater.

Coerper came here from Germany and is a good judge of soils, says a Honolulu paper. He has made up his mind that the choicest products of orchard, vineyard and truck patch can be raised in abundance in the Diamond Head crater.

Coerper is especially smitten with the idea of cultivating a vineyard of such grapes as grow at home of his boyhood. And watermelons would grow with impunity, for the crater is bug-proof and beetle-free.

No worm has ever been known to creep up its calcined walls and no moth or winged insect ever rises above the rim of the crater except to be hurled far out to sea by the winds which blow from Kalmuki.

A vegetable garden in Diamond Head crater would, therefore, be insured for all time against pests and no entomologist would be required on the payroll.

Coerper, who has a practical eye, has surveyed the Diamond Head steeps, and figures that a pack trail to the summit would cost less than $1000.

Up this pack trail would go the seeds and cuttings to start the isolated farm. Down the trail would come long lines of burros laden with the fruitage of foresight and toil, to the Honolulu market.

The application for a lease of Diamond Head has not been acted on yet, but awaits its turn with other important matters in the land office.

With a roar like Niagara, a monster reservoir at Scottsdale, Pa., burst Monday and 300,000,000 gallons of water swept over the valley below, doing $50,000 worth of damage to farms and villages.
