GOODMAN DIVORCE SUIT.

The Well Known and Wealthy Stockman is the Plaintiff.

Wm. S. Goodman, the well known cattleman and alfalfa farmer of Hudson Bay, has filed a petition for a divorce from Irene B. Goodman, to whom he was married in 1879. He also asks for the care and custody of one minor child, aged 17 years. There is one other child, the issue of this marriage, 24 years of age.

Mr. Goodman alleges simple but persistent desertion as his cause of action, alleging that his wife has neglected and refused to live with him for the past seven years, and that her home has been for several years at Seattle.

Mr. Goodman further asks that all the property now in his name be secured to him as against his wife's efforts to secure it, if she should make such effort, as she has large holdings in the state of Washington which belonged to her individually and in her own right.

Mrs. Goodman is the daughter of the well known physician named Stewart, of Walla Walla.

IN PROBATE COURT.

First Case Under the Inheritance Tax Law in This County.

The first case in the probate court of Umatilla county wherein the effects of the new inheritance tax law can be tested, affects the estate of Harvey E. Young, deceased, of Freewater. Young left approximately $18,000, as shown by the special appraisement made yesterday, the schedule of which was filed this forenoon. Other estates have been left in this county since the law was passed, which were much larger than this, but which, under the terms of the law, were not subject to it.

Reverted to the County.

The entire estate of Charles Poff, the stranger who was accidentally drowned in the river near Echo in June, has been probated, and reverts to the county. It consists of just $14.10 cash, and was in his pockets when the body was found. His father, who lives at Tacoma, was communicated with, but wrote that he was too poor to take any responsibility whatever, and for the county to dispose of the body, which it did. The $14.40 was turned over to the county by Coroner Cole today.

Judgment for $1800.

Judgment was this afternoon rendered in the circuit court by Judge Ellis, against the O. R. & N. in favor of Louise Anderson, who sued for the recovery of the value of wheat destroyed in the Cayuse fire a year ago last March, alleging that the negligence of the company was responsible for the loss. The judgment is rendered in conference with a decision by the supreme court just rendered, confirming the result of the trial of the case in the lower court, and is for $1800.

Elks' Meeting Tonight.

There will be a meeting of the Elks tonight at 7:30. Business of importance. All members requested to be present.

The Catastrophe.

"Did you hear about the catastrophe down at the Browns' last night?"
"No. What happened?"
"Why, Mrs. Brown gave the baby a bottle to play with, and while she was in the kitchen it fell out of the cradle and broke its neck."
"What the baby?"
"No; the bottle."
