IS HEAVY DEFICIT

TREASURY BALANCE LOWEST IN SEVEN YEARS.

With No Expenses But Ordinary Ones the Working Balance at the Disposal of the Secretary of the Treasury is But $27,000,000—Deficit is Alarming Under the Conditions Existing.

Washington, July 26.—Just 20 days of the present fiscal year and month have passed, yet the figures show that the government has expended $19,110,280 more than it has taken in and that the working balance in the treasury is less than $27,000,000.

The new fiscal year began on July 1. The deficit of more than $40,000,000 with which the last year closed was declared by republican leaders to be due wholly to the acquisition of the Panama canal at an expense of $50,000,000 and to a loan of $4,000,000 to the Louisiana Purchase exposition. For the 20 days of the new fiscal year the expenditures have amounted to $47,840,000, and the receipts have been only $28,729,719. There have been no expenditures except those connected with the actual running expenses of the government and to extravagant appropriating.

For the first 20 days of July last year the total receipts were $31,248,554 and the total expenditures $38,120,000. So far this fiscal year, therefore, the expenditures exceed the same period of the last fiscal year by close to $10,000,000.

It will be noticed that but a small part of the large increase in the deficit is due to a falling off in receipts for the month, the total income up to date this fiscal year being $28,729,719, as against $31,248,556 one year ago. With a steadily decreasing income and rapidly increasing expenditures there is promise for the coming fiscal year of a serious deficit, in just the ordinary running expenses.

It is said that Secretary Shaw is by no means satisfied with the situation, and is confronted with the prospect of having to call on national bank depositories of some of the money placed with them at a time when the treasury had so much money it did not know what to do with it. The actual working balance of the treasury—that is, the amount contained within the treasury proper, was today less than $27,000,000—the lowest sum in seven years. It has for many years been a tradition of the treasury that the actual working balance should not fall below $50,000,000.

That he might keep his balance somewhere near $50,000,000, Secretary Shaw a few months ago called upon national banks for government funds on deposit with them, and collected altogether more than $50,000,000. Now that the balance is far below what it was two months ago, Secretary Shaw hesitates to make a call, because it will reveal to the people the fact that the administration is every day running behind its income, and is steadily using up the surplus.

BUILDING & LOAN MEN.

Largest Convention of the Kind in the United States.

Sault Ste. Marie, July 26.—Nearly six hundred millions of dollars—every dollar of it the savings of thrifty wage workers of the United States—were represented here this morning when the annual convention of the United States League of Local Building & Loan Associations was called to order by the national president, James Clarence of Philadelphia. It is one of the largest conventions in the history of the league.

The delegates, representing nearly every state of the Union, were cordially welcomed, and President Clarence combined a response to the greetings with his annual address. The feature of the session, however, was the annual address and report of Herman F. Cellarius, of Cincinnati, the general secretary, who was listened to with profound attention. The report contained figures which showed that, while the number of local associations and total membership is not so large as it was a decade or so ago when the building and loan business reached its zenith, the business as a whole is in sounder condition than ever before, many of the weak and irresponsible organizations having been weeded out. Pennsylvania continues to lead in the number of association, with Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and New York following in the order named.
