COLLECT POLL TAX

COUNCIL ORDERS THE CITY MARSHAL TO ACT.

Session Was Uninteresting and Little Outside of the Regular Business Was Transacted—Liquor Licenses Were Transferred—Salaries Were Paid Amounting to $616.50—Blocked Streets Will Be Cleared by Street Committee—Petition for Vacation of Street in Byers Grove Presented.

The city council in session last evening transacted little aside from routine business. The salary list for the month of July was reported by Recorder Fitz Gerald as $616.50. It was approved and warrants ordered drawn.

A petition for the vacation of Byers street between the lots where the new public school will be erected, was referred to the street committee. Report will be made at the end of 30 days.

The liquor license of Sam Roberts was transferred to George Cruise, and the license of Van Dran brothers was transferred to J. J. Kelley.

The city marshal was instructed to make a thorough canvass and collect delinquent poll tax. The marshal is empowered to levy on personal property for the payment of delinquent poll tax where its collection is not forthcoming.

The street commissioner reported to the council that a great many complaints were being made of the unnecessary blockading of streets. The matter was referred to the regular committee.

PETITIONS FOR STOCK INSPECTOR

MANY CANDIDATES FOR J. E. BEAN'S POSITION.

Next Term of County Court Will Be the Scene of a Hot Fight, From Present Indications—Perry Gould, A. H. Sunderman or James Hackett Would Accept the Job—All Well Known Sheepmen Who Believe the Office is Worth Going After.

The county court, will according to all present indications, soon be the center of a hot fight around which will revolve several candidates for stock inspector in this county, and as large a crowd of interested partisans of the various candidates as can be gotten into the contest.

The issue will be made by the filing of petitions for the appointment of an immediate successor to the present incumbent, J. E. Bean, who has filled the office almost four years. Mr. Bean's removal is favored for the following alleged reasons:

Objections to Mr. Bean.

First—"He does not know scab when he sees it."

Second—"He many times ignores his duty and will do nothing when confronted with the evidence that scab exists."

Third—"He has been known to issue certificates of health by request merely, without attempting to inform himself of the real condition of the flocks, but taking the word or request of sheepowners whose flocks may not have been actually infected at the time said certificates were made out."

There may be other alleged reasons for the removal of Mr. Bean, but the above incorporate all the reasons that might be supposed to have considerable weight if backed with evidence.

Mr. Bean, when interviewed this morning by an East Oregonian representative, added his own individual reason to the above enumeration. It was briefly: "Other men are after the job." Further than this, Mr. Bean would not talk, simply claiming in general terms that there is no legitimate animus in the clamor for his removal, and that he did not propose to cross bridges before he came to them. When the "fight" comes he will be on hand. At present he is sawing wood and saying nothing.

Numerous Candidates.

The candidates thus far for the inspectorship are A. H. Sunderman and Perry Gould, who are said to have petitions in circulation, and James Hackett, who may be said to be a "receptive candidate," in the sense that there is no petition out for him (that can be scented, at least.) From the little that can be gleaned on the subject, Mr. Hackett really has Mr. Sunderman's support, or more properly speaking, Mr. Sunderman will be very willing to deflect his following to Mr. Hackett if it transpires that he himself has no chance for the appointment.

Few of the heavy sheepmen can be "located" on this proposition, though it is believed all have decided preferences in the matter which they will wait till the county court meets to voice. The partisans of Mr. Bean dispose of his competitors' chances by minimizing their strength, claiming that their petitions do not have nearly the number of signatures they claim.

Perry Gould is a partner of William Slusher in the sheep business, and is a recognized factor in the sheep business, though not nearly so well known as his partner. Mr. Sunderman is a sheepman widely known personally. His holdings are principally in the southern part of this county, and in Union county.

Salary is $700 Per Year.

Seven hundred dollars is paid the stock inspector in this county per annum, and the tenure of office is not established except by his voluntary continuance in the position, or by the county court, which may indefinitely continue one man in office, or may appoint his successor at any time.

Judge Hartman made several futile attempts to reduce the salary of the inspector while he was chairman of the board. He claims that $700 is altogether too much to pay a man for services that do not require over two months of his time during the year.

Others do not subscribe unqualifiedly to this view of the subject, saying that the county judge also has much time to devote to his private affairs, though he is paid a salary of $1200 per annum, and cite to the fact that the inspector must at all times be ready to leave home and his private business in response to the requirements of the office, which in cases constant interruptions if the incumbent attempts to follow any other occupation.

EXPECTS GOOD PASTURAGE.

Grant County People Rejoice Over Prospects of Good Grass.

Ranchmen in Northern Grant county are hopeful of an excellent range this fall. J. F. Slaughter, of that section of the state who is in Pendleton today, stated that for the first time in several years the bunchgrass in Grant county has gone to seed. "This means," he said, "that the stockmen will have an abundance of feed during the fall and winter."

"The weather in some portions of Grant county, during the past few weeks has been dry, but the large amount of rain during the spring came just at the right time."

Mr. Slaughter is well known in Pen-

leton. He resided here for a number of years and was engaged in school teaching. "I am still at it occasionally," he remarked, "but for the most part I keep busy on my farm."

ECHO SUGAR BEETS.

Will Be a Success, According to Superintendent F. S. Bramwell.

F. S. Bramwell, superintendent of the sugar factory at La Grande, has been at Echo for several days, returning home yesterday. The Echo people are delighted at his opinion of the beet sugar outlook for that neighborhood.

Mr. Bramwell states that every prospect confirms the opinion of expert sugar beet culturists that the Echo district is peculiarly adapted to the industry.

The beets there are in fine condition and about twice the size of the beets in the Grand Ronde country, owing to the season being earlier and the soil warmer.

SMALL GRAIN FIRE.

Local O. R. & N. Train From Walla Walla Delayed by Blaze Near Blue Mountain.

The arrival of the local O. R. & N. freight from Walla Walla yesterday afternoon was delayed over an hour by a small fire in a wheat field at Blue Mountain, which for a short time threatened the railroad property and the adjoining fields.

The train was moving slowly up the Blue mountain grade when the fire was discovered. The train crew worked for over half an hour before they succeeded in stamping out the flames. Practically no damage was done by the fire.

It is thought to have been caused by a spark from the engine.

DRUNKS IN COURT.

Moneyless Vagrants Enjoy the Cooling Shade of the City Jail.

One vagrant and two drunks was the extent of the cases on the police court docket this morning. H. Welch, the moneyless one, who had previously been ordered to vacate the city, was sentenced to serve four days in the city jail. James Lamont pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was given a sentence of three days. J. G. Warren was sentenced to serve five days.

Warren yesterday afternoon promised the police that he would leave town. When arrested, at 11:30 o'clock last night, he attempted to explain that he was waiting for the departure of the Portland train, which had departed 15 minutes previous.

No Sunday Game.

There will be no game of baseball in Pendleton next Sunday. Manager Frank Downey, of the local juniors, received word last night from La Grande, calling off the match. The reason assigned by the La Grande boys is that most of the players are absent on vacations at present. "We may be able to arrange a game for the Sunday following," said Mr. Downey, this morning, "or at some other date in the near future."

Prosperous Freewater.

A. S. Pearson, recorder of the city of Freewater, was in the city this morning, on business, returning home on the morning train. He is highly elated over the bright prospects before his prosperous town, which is the only town in Umatilla county out of debt and with a surplus on hand. Several new buildings are now being erected and farm and fruit lands are increasing in value very rapidly.

Visitors From West Virginia.

Mrs. Walker Allen and her son, Lindley, of Wheeling, W. Va., are visiting Mrs. Allen's mother, Mrs. A. L. Sharon, and her brother, Linn Sharon. They will not return East until October or later, and will spend some of the intervening time on the coast. Mrs. Allen resided in this county some years, but has been a resident of the East about 12 years.

Wheat Market Dull.

The condition of the local wheat market remains unchanged. A few small sales have been made, but for the most part these have been transacted by farmers who desire money for harvest expenses.

New Hotel Annex.

F. E. Van Dusen has returned for a few days from La Grande, where he has the contract for the annex to the Hotel Foley. It will be built of brick and will double the capacity of the establishment.

Luther Rothrock a Delegate.

Mayor Matlock today added the name of Luther Rothrock to the list of Pendleton delegates to the Oregon Development League meeting to be held in Portland August 2 and 3.

Mrs. Katherine Reynolds, of Sheperdstown, W. Va., denies the rumor that she is to wed Henry Gassaway Davis, nominee for vice president.

HORSE THIEF GETS BUSY.

Sheriff Painter Pursuing a Suspected Man Over Blue Mountains.

Walla Walla, Wash., July 28.—The sheriff's office is puzzled over the disappearance of a horse, the property of W. G. Whitney, and a saddle and bridle belonging to Thomas Cullan. Whitney and Cullan reside near the state line.

The horse, which is a valuable driving animal, was taken from Whitney's pasture a few nights ago. Cullan's saddle and bridle disappeared at the same time. "Cooney" White and another man, upon whom suspicion rests have not been seen since the night the horse was taken. A man answering the description of White's companion, passed the Weston Mountain toll gate the next day. He was riding a horse, thought to be the Whitney animal.

Sheriff Charles S. Painter, armed with a John Doe warrant has gone to Elgin on a hunt for the horse and the persons who took it.

Mr. Whitney has offered a reward of $25 for the recovery of the horse or conviction of the person who stole it.
