HONEYMOONS' COST

THOSE SPENT IN WASHINGTON MAY VARY IN EXPENSE.

Bridegrooms, as a Rule, Are Regardless of the Price of Things on Bridal Tours—How $300 a Day Was Spent in a Hotel in the Capital.

Why is it that so many bridal couples come to Washington to spend their honeymoons? Perhaps the question cannot be satisfactorily answered, but the fact remains that the capital is a great Mecca for the newly wedded. Some people say that it is because Washington is restful and that at this one period in their lives men and women do not care for bustle.
They want to be able to devote some thought to each other without fear of personal accident. Whatever the reason, the fact remains that the annual influx of brides and grooms amounts to at least 20,000 persons.

The manager of one of the hotels of the city was asked in regard to the expenses of a honeymoon.

"Is a honeymoon in Washington too expensive for a man with a moderate salary," the reporter asked, "or can it be reduced to an economical basis without displaying the limitations of the bridegroom's purse should he happen to be of the less wealthy class?"

"That question need not be a vexed one," replied the affable manager. "A honeymoon in Washington can be as costly as the purse can buy or it can be spent on an amazingly small amount. If you will, of course, consider the luxury afforded by our modern hotels.

"At this moment I have in mind a man from Chicago who brought his bride here on their wedding trip. Their living expenses amounted to something like $300 a day, that amount being spent in the hotel. But, then," the manager added, "this man had an almost unquenchable thirst for rare old wines and things in season and out of season. But there is just one thing I wish to say in connection with the American bridegroom. I cannot recall one instance where the quality does not hold good, be he a man of wealth or one of modest income. He never questions the price of things. This even proves true concerning the engagement of our apartments. He spends his money generously and without consultation.

"I remember we had as guests at the same time with our $300 a day couple a newly wedded pair from New England. Their daily expenses were $10. Now, using these figures, which are entirely accurate, one can quickly see that luxurious living—it can be purchased for the latter amount—is not so frightfully expensive as our out of town friends picture. Really the amount of money to be spent is more a matter of taste than the condition of one's purse."

At this juncture the manager reached and threw open the door of the state bridal suit, displaying a veritable glimpse of fairyland. This chamber is the most expensive room in the hotel. Its size does not differ materially from the less elegantly furnished rooms, but in magnificence it rivals the most gorgeous bedchambers of European palaces. One speedily realizes that to comprehend its beauty color temperament becomes a necessity.

Investigation reveals walls of plain moire damask, the color of which deepens from the faintest shade of shell pink to the rich blush of the rose. This effect is continued in the less rich hangings and draperies of the same tints, while the carpet reflects the same lines, which become lightened by windows covered with rare old lace. The furniture is of Louis XIV. period, the color scheme is carried out in the upholsterings of figured damask in dainty floral designs and scroll effects, while the four poster bedstead, with its canopy, is said to be an exact copy of the original at Clugny, the cost of the bed alone being enormous.

"But how do you make the expenses run up to $300 a day?" inquired the reporter.

"Quite easily enough. This room, including bath, is $25 a day. Such guests as occupy an apartment of that sort demand a private dining room, the latter ranging in price according to the elaboration of the room and the table furnishing, say $25 for the dining room a day, and $50 is disposed of at once.
Now, $100 for three meals for two people is not so much, after all, when priceless wines are served with luncheon and dinner.

"Game, fruit and vegetables out of season are worth their weight in gold, so $100 is a mere bagatelle. The remaining $150 is paid for drawing room, room and board for maid, exclusive of carriage."

Meanwhile the couple from New England were serenely content in their apartment—a bright room, with adjoining bath and every comfort, which cost them $3 a day. Their meals, being ordered judiciously from an elaborate menu, amounted to $6, while the combined tips of husband and wife reached the sum of $1, making the total $10.
These two young people enjoyed the life in the public dining room, seeing well dressed guests at table, which frequently proves one of the most pleasing sights of their trips. There they had music, lights and flowers galore, which they were at as much liberty to enjoy for their $10 a day as the western couple for their $300 a day.

"True, our state bridal suit is in constant demand, still a honeymoon can be spent in Washington on a wonderfully small amount of money without displaying penurious qualities, a trait of character from which the average American bridegroom is absolutely free."—Washington Post.

FOUR YEARS AGO.

King Humbert Was Assassinated
July 29, 1900.

Rome, July 29.—Today was the fourth anniversary of the tragic death of King Humbert, who was assassinated at Monza, July 29, 1900, by Gaetano Bresci, an anarchist. In accordance with custom the anniversary was observed by commemorative exercises throughout the kingdom. In the capital there was a pilgrimage of many thousands of visitors to the tomb of the dead king in the Pantheon. King Victor Emmanuel, accompanied by Queen Helena and members of the royal family, visited the tomb and spent an hour in prayer. The tomb was almost hidden beneath a mass of magnificent floral offerings.

The anniversary has renewed interest and speculation in the fate of the assassin, Bresci, concerning which numerous contradictory stories are told. It has been reported at intervals that Bresci is dead, but this is not generally credited. The probabili-ties are that he is still confined in prison and that he is totally mad as has been reported.

TARIFF LITERATURE.

Great Efforts Will Be Made to Corral the Younger Voters.

New York, July 29.—The American Protective Tariff League is preparing to distribute an enormous quantity of protection literature among the voters of the country during the presidential campaign. Secretary Wakeman states that the league's distribution of documents direct to voters will amount to more than 1,000,000 copies.

A catalogue of several hundred thousand voters who will cast their ballots for the first time in November has been procured, and no efforts are being spared by the league to convince the new voters in all sections of the country that President Roosevelt should be supported at the polls.
One of the most important of the latest publications of the league is entitled "American Tariffs from Plymouth Rock to McKinley." Another book brought out by the league and described as the "Tariff Hand Book" is intended as an aid to speakers and writers in the present campaign.

Conference for Christian Workers.

East Northfield, Mass., July 29.— The general conference of the Christian workers, which was founded by the late Dwight L. Moody, began its twenty-second annual session today under conditions which point to an unusually successful meeting. During the three weeks the conference will be in session the speakers will include Prebendary Webb-Peploe, London, England; the Revs. G. Campbell Morgan, D. D., East Northfield; Cleland B. McAfee, Chicago; H. G.
Weston, D. D., Crozier Theological seminary; Len G. Broughton, D. D., Atlanta, Ga.; and R. A. Hume, India.
Cooker T. Washington, Turgegee, Ala., and C. Spencer Walton, South Africa.

Night Was Her Terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Charles Applegate of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but, when all other medicines failed, three $1.00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure coughs, colds, la grippe, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Tallman & Co.'s drug store.

Special Excursion to the World's Fair.

The Denver & Rio Grande, in connection with the Missouri Pacific, will run a series of personally conducted excursions to the World's fair during June. These excursions will run through to St. Louis without change of cars, making short stops at principal points en route. The first of these excursions will leave Portland June 7th, and the second June 17th. The rate from Pendleton will be $60.00 to St. Louis and return. Excursionists going via the Denver & Rio Grande have the privilege of returning via a different route. This is the most pleasant way, as well as the most delightful one, to cross the continent.
The stops arranged give an opportunity of visiting the various points of interests in and about Salt Lake City, Denver and Kansas City. If you wish to accompany one of these excursions write at once to W. C. McBride, 124 Third street, Portland, for sleeping car reservations.

McFadden vs. Langford.

Manchester, N. H., July 29.—The postponed fight between George Mc-Fadden and Sam Langford takes place here tonight before the Pastime Athletic Club. McFadden appears to be in his old-time form and is confident of winning. The winner will meet Jimmy Gardner for the lightweight championship of New England.

Pistol for Sale.

There is a 32-calibre Smith & Wesson revolver for sale at the East Oregonian office, which is practically as good as new, as it is in perfect repair, never having been out of repair, and from which not over a dozen rounds have been fired since its purchase from the retailer. Can be bought for just one-half what it cost the present owner entirely new.
