FAIRBANKS HAS HEARD THE NEWS

VICE PRESIDENT CANDIDATE IS NOTIFIED.

Outlines His Political Views and Expresses Great Hope for the Success of His Party—Calls Attention to Seemingly Demoralized Condition of Democracy—Will Make a Regular Speech of Acceptance Later.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 4.—In a large tent in the middle of the beautiful grounds surrounding the candidate's home, and in the presence of a distinguished company of his fellow partisans, Fairbanks was notified of his nomination by the republican party to the high office of vice-president, last evening.

Two hundred guests participated in the Fairbanks notification in luncheon which was served in a tent.

Replying to Root's address, the senator said he accepted the commission with a profound sense of the dignity and responsibility of the exalted position, and plunged into a review and discussion of party politics, beginning with the gold standard and other monetary economy and policies so forcibly renounced, he said lie at the very foundation of our industrial life. The republican party since it preserved the integrity of the republic never rendered a more important service to the country than when it established the gold standard.

The enemies of sound money were powerful enough to suppress all mention of the gold standard in the platform lately adopted by the democratic national convention, and the democratic leader in two campaigns had declared that after the campaign is finished he will undertake the reorganization of the democratic party for the purpose of advancing the radical principles for which his element of the party stands.

Therefore, it is not the part of wisdom to abandon vigilance in safeguarding the integrity of our monetary system.

The wisdom of the protective policy finds complete justification in the industrial development of the country. When altered conditions made changes in schedules desirable their modification can be safely entrusted only to the republican party.

The convention was wise, not only in its enunciation of party policies, but in the nomination of a candidate for president. The charges made against him in the democratic platform find an irrefutable answer in his splendid administration, never surpassed in all the history of the republic, and never equalled by the party which seeks his discredit.

We have ample record of deeds done, of beneficent things accomplished in the public interest. We have peace, great prosperity at home and are upon terms of good neighborhood with the entire world. These conditions constitute the strongest possible assurance for the future.

Later he would avail himself of an opportunity to further express his views concerning the questions now in issue, and thanked the members of the committee.

LIFE OF FAIRBANKS.

Half Million Copies Will Be Distributed Immediately.

Indianapolis, Ind., August 4.—To the campaign literature being distributed by the republican national committee there will be added this week a volume containing the biography and speeches of Senator Fairbanks, the candidate for vice-president. The book was prepared by W. H. Smith, a veteran newspaper man of Indiana. A half million copies of the book in paper-bound form will be distributed throughout the country during the campaign just begun.

The author says that the biography of Senator Fairbanks was a hard one to write as far as variety is concerned. "His boyhood," Mr. Smith said, "did not offer the incidents that the boyhood periods of other men offer. He was just a farmer boy of very ordinary life. At college he was just a good student, while his rise in politics has been so rapid that it does not give much material for the biographer."

RUSSELL SAGE NEAR NINETY.

He is Now Compelled to Rest, and Works But Little.

New York, August 4.—Russell Sage, dean of American financiers and one of the most widely known men in the country outside of public life, is on the threshold of four score and ten. Today he entered upon his 98th year, looking every bit as young and as vigorous as he did a decade ago.

But even a man of Uncle Russell's remarkable vitality and energetic temperament is forced to pay attention to the mandates of Father Time when he gets near the 90-year mark on life's journey. It has been Mr. Sage's favorite boast that he never took a vacation during his long business career, and his recent statement to the effect that no man absolutely needs a vacation from business started a controversy that swept over the entire country. Whether or not the veteran financier has changed his views in this particular it is certain that, since his illness of a year ago, he has been persuaded by his wife and his physician, Dr. Munn, to release himself from the cares of business almost entirely. He now visits his office at very rare intervals, spending almost his entire time at his summer home at Lawrence, L. I.

ANTS KIDNAP THEIR FOES.

Raid Neighboring Villages and Carry Off Many Prisoners.

Dr. H. C. McCook tells of a species of kidnaping ants which make organized attacks on other ant villages for the purpose of capturing slaves. Here is an account of the attack:

"At last the muster is complete, mysteriously, but effectively, the signal 'Forward!' is given, and the column moves from the hill. There is no regular alignment, but a show of solidarity, a holding of the ranks within close compass and touch—a 'roust step,' in fact. There is no general; there are no subordinate officers, but such is the sympathetic unity that they seem to move in response to one will and command. If every warrior is a law unto himself the law so binds and animates and compels all alike that the ends of an organized cohort are served.

"Assault, battle and pillage follow quickly upon the sortie. The objective point of the march is not far away. A hundred yards distant is a Fuscan village. The route thereto lies across the edge of a grove, over a footpath, along a fallen tree, under whose shelter and shaded by tufts of grass is the devoted commune. It is feeble in numbers, and there is a bare show of defense as the freebooters hurl themselves upon the hill and plunge into the open gates. The villagers flee at the first onset through unsanctioned or secret passages. Some run the gauntlet through the assailing ranks. All who can carry a part of the family treasures—eggs, larvae and pupae. Like their Broodingagian brothers of the human race, when disaster befalls their first care is for their offspring. The fugitives mount into nearby clumps of low wood plants, whence they look down upon the devastation of their homes—with what feelings? For one must suppose that the midgits do feel, though sometimes he would fain hope otherwise.

"Meanwhile the invaders issue from the gates, bearing in their jaws the Fuscan young and occasionally an adult. They take the home trail, but not in ordered ranks. It is as if you please now. They are welcomed back by their black confederates, who receive the captives and take them—their very own sisters perhaps—into the domestic quarters. The soldiers hurry back to the scene of action, for their work is not yet finished."—Harper's Magazine.

Butter Fat Profit.

Here is an item that will interest eastern farmers: Dan Ingalls, during the month of June, received $125 from the sale of butter fat from 15 cows. In addition, the milk fed to the hogs amounted to fully $16. Eastern people interested in dairying will do well to paste this item in their hats, and when they become discouraged with the prospects for dairy farming where they are at present located, they can recall the fact that Clatsop county is the paradise of the dairy rancher.—Astoria Daily News.

LONG CHAIN OF ELECTRIC ROAD

UNION COUNTY TO BE EN-CIRCLED BY A LINE.

Electric Road Aggregating 100 Miles Supplied With Power From Minam Creek in Blue Mountains. One of the Immediate Possibilities of Grande Ronde Valley—Company Now at Work on the Plan—Franchise is Asked From County Court—Line From Summerville to Pendleton a Vague Possibility.

One hundred miles of electric lines, every town in the county connected by electric road, all the country districts brought into immediate communication with the county seat, factories furnished with cheap electric power, lights for all the towns and hamlets and crossroads in Grande Ronde valley, and thousands of surplus horse power to set to new enterprises in the future, is the possibility that lies in store for Union county, if the county court grants the franchise now asked by a company of capitalists headed by Thomas H. Crawford of Union.

A company is now at work on a plan to encircle Union county with a chain of electricity, generated at a waterfall on the Little Minam, 15 miles north of Union, and conveyed to Cove and Union on a line of poles.

The plan contemplates the construction of a line of electric road aggregating nearly 100 miles, beginning at Union, in the south end of Grande Ronde valley, and from there to extend to the Cove, eight miles distant around the foothills, from the Cove 12 miles to Imbler, then four miles to Summerville, thence 22 miles to La Grande, then 12 miles to Union, with a cross line direct from Cove to La Grande, the county seat, a distance of 14 miles.

The waterfall at which the monster plant would be located will furnish an unlimited amount of power. It is high up on the Minam, where the stream of water does not diminish during the dry months, and where the installation of a power plant would be very inexpensive.

The towns and hamlets of Union county all lie on a contiguous territory that a chain of electric road could encircle the foothills and touch every place of importance in the county.

All that now lies in the way of the consummation of the plan is the franchise from the county court, permitting the use of the county roads for the electric line.

From Summerville to Pendleton, across the Blue mountains, is only 40 miles, and a line to this city, tapping the main power line at Summerville would be an inexpensive venture, owing to the convenience of the poles to the line. Such a move is possible.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggist, price 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

SHIPPING WOOL TO THE EAST.

Elgin Sheepmen Sending Product to Boston Market.

Jeane G. Ferney has returned from an extended trip through Union and Wallawa counties in Oregon, says the Walla Walla Statesman. Mr. Ferney states that there is a big movement of wool to the east at Elgin. Nearly all of the sheepmen in those two counties this year sold their wool to buyers from Boston, who offered them a better price than they could obtain from the coast buyers. As a result all the wool in that section of the country is now being delivered at Elgin in sacks. Upon its receipt it is then baled and shipped direct to Boston. It is estimated that there will be fully 150 carloads sent from Elgin within the next 30 days.

Crops in the Grande Ronde valley are reported by Mr. Ferney to be much below the average. During the early spring there were several very heavy frosts which destroyed many thousand acres of wheat.

Honestly, now, if you saw a real live woman who looked anything like the pictures in the fashion papers, wouldn't you call for help?

HEALTHY PLANTS

Require the Most Careful Attention as Well as Good Soil.

Did you ever see a rosebush which—despite the most beneficent environment of soil—of sunshine—and of atmosphere,—seemed never to achieve a healthy growth?

A ton of manure will not help a plant that has a canker eating out its heart.

You must destroy the cause before you can remove the effect.

You cannot cure Dandruff and Baldness by rubbing on hair lotions, and rubbing in vaseline, etc.

You must look to the cause of the trouble—it's a germ at the roots of your hair which causes it to fall out.

Newbro's Herpicide destroys the germ, and healthy hair is the sure result.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 5c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. F. W. Schmidt, special agent.
