CHINESE INTERPRETER HERE.

Prominent Portland Celestial Who Figured in Oregon's War Preparations.

The appearance in Pendleton today of a short, heavy set, ruddy checked Chinese, his black hair clipped short to his head and his clothing of the latest American cut, attracted much attention. He is Seid Gain, interpreter of the Chinese Inspector's office at Portland, and the son of Seid Beck, one of the most prominent Orientals in the Northwest.

Seid Beck, or Seid Gain, Jr., as he is familiarly known and the name by which he prefers to be called, is an American in nearly every sense of the word.

Among his own people he is a leader and at the outbreak of the Spanish-American war formed what is known as the Portland-American born Chinese military organization.

Since his appointment in the immigration service Seid Beck, Jr., has not taken such an active part among the boys, although he still retains a captain's commission in the battalion.

READY FOR TEMPLARS.

San Francisco Will Prepare an Elaborate Welcome for the Conclave. P. C. Gerhardt, a traveling man

AVOID CHAPS

If we knew anything better than F. & S. TOILET CREAM, for healing chaps, cracks and roughness, and keeping the skin smooth, soft and fair, we would have it.

Keep F. & S. Toilet Cream on hand and use it, and your face and hands will be free from summer skin discomfort.

Tallman & Co. LEADING DRUGGISTS

from San Francisco, is in town. He brings enthusiasm about the preparations being made for the entertainment of the Knights Templar by San Francisco, and a graphic description of the same.

The electrical display will be actually finer than has anything of the kind ever produced anywhere else for any purpose, even at Buffalo, or at St. Louis.

The two commanderies mentioned have bought 500 black riding horses in Tennessee, Kentucky and California, one-half of which will be ridden by members of each lodge.

UNION CHURCH MEETING.

Services Next Sunday at the South Methodist instead of Presbyterian Church.

On next Sunday evening the union service will be held in the South Methodist church instead of in the Presbyterian church, as announced.

The minister to deliver the sermon next Sunday evening is Rev. G. L. Hall, of the Baptist church.

Union Young Peoples' Meeting.

The attendance at the Young Peoples' prayer meeting in the Baptist church last Sunday evening was gratifying, as also was the excellent spirit manifest in the meeting.

Marriage Licenses.

License to marry was today issued by County Clerk Frank Saling to Tom Denny and Miss Bridget McDavid, both of this county.

"CHINK" IS HELD

SHUNG KEE, OF PENDLETON, DETAINED AT PORT TOWNSEND

Immigration Inspector J. H. Barbour is in the City Investigating the Chinaman's Right to Admission as a Merchant—Many Chinese Claim to Be Merchants Who Are Plain Cheap Cooks Seeking Admission.

Shung Kee, who declares he is a Chinese merchant of Pendleton, is in the detention shed at Port Townsend, Wash., awaiting identification so that he may return to this city.

The Chinaman's papers allege that he is a merchant of the firm of Gooey, Tong Yeek Company, of Alta street.

The Chinaman may be all right," said Mr. Barbour, this morning, "but we never know until we make an investigation. I recall one Celestial who declared he was a Pendleton merchant and it developed that he was a cook."

Inspector Barbour says that his department has all the work it can attend to at the present time. "We have been making a number of arrests," he declared, "but have been unfortunate in securing conviction. The people of Portland appear to have a sentiment against the arrest of Chinese who are violating the immigration laws. They appear to think we are oppressive. I am merely obeying instructions in trying to see the laws followed out."

Mr. Barbour remarked on the busy appearance of Pendleton. "I believe," he continued, "that Pendleton is the best town outside of Portland, in this state. Baker City and Astoria have to depend, the one on its mines, and the other on its canneries, for an existence. Pendleton has natural resources around it, that make the business."

HOTTEST IN 14 YEARS.

Corn on the Umatilla River Below Pendleton is Burned Badly by Hot Weather.

"The hottest weather experienced in 14 years' residence here," is the way B. C. Kidder expressed it today, in speaking of the warm wave that has been caressing Pendleton theometers during the past few days.

"The gardens, and especially the corn, are badly crinkled by the heat and many of them are suffering severely on the river below town. "Crops are looking well and fruit is ripening rapidly but the green gardens are badly in need of a little cooler weather for the purpose of completing their growth."

MAY RUN EXCURSION.

O. R. & N. Would Accommodate Pendleton People Wishing to Attend the Circus at Walla Walla.

"If the people want it, we can certainly run an excursion to Walla Walla on August 17, the date of the Ringling circus in that city," said B. R. Wolfe, the enterprising ticket clerk of the O. R. & N. offices today.

"It being the middle of the week, and a very busy season of the year, the excursion plan is at a disadvantage, but if sufficient people signify their intention of going to the circus to warrant it, an excursion train, leaving here in the morning and returning from Walla Walla after the evening performance, will be arranged."

Last year Ringling's circus exhibited in Walla Walla on August 13 and about 50 people from this city attended. There are a number who have already expressed a desire to go to Walla Walla and if those who intend to go will make it known to Mr. Wolfe, it will aid him in determining whether to ask for an excursion train.

EXPECTS BIG BUSINESS.

R. Alexander, Pioneer Merchant of Pendleton, Preparing for Heavy Trade.

R. Alexander has the courage of a full set of convictions that the coming fall and winter will be in every sense prosperous for every line of legitimate business.

Anyway, he is putting in the largest fall stock he has ever before purchased for the Umatilla county trade—largest in tons weight, largest in freight charges and the largest to pay for.

A special force is engaged at the Alexander Department Store in rearranging goods, packing them away closely and making every other possible preparation for storing the immense mass of goods away that is already here and coming by every freight train.

AFTER STOCK SHEEP.

More Nebraska Buyers Are in the Umatilla Margets.

Howard Stevens and L. B. Hunter, of Kearney, Neb., are in the county negotiating for stock sheep. If they can find what they want they will send several thousand head to the plains of Nebraska for full feeding the coming winter.

The tendency of the sheep men to hold out for good prices is making terms difficult to arrange between the buyers and producers, but the general feeling is that the sheep producers are liable to get a little the better of the compromises that are imminent.

An incident which lends color to this belief is the fact that central and south-central Nebraska this year raised an immense crop of forage of all kinds peculiar to that country, and the facilities of the feeding sheepmen to fatten cheaply and quickly are greater than at any time for several years.

SOLDIER FROM AFRICA.

Young Scotchman Now in Pendleton Who Served in Boer War.

Yesterday a strapping, well-built young Scotchman dropped into the shoe department at the Boston store and bought a pair of harvesting shoes. He discarded the shoes he had been wearing, and thereby hangs a tale.

They are utterly unlike anything in the shoe line ever before seen in Pendleton. They are of heavy leather without laces or buttons and are fastened by a strap that fastens around the ankle. On the heel is fastened a heavy plate of steel. They were issued to him while serving in the English army in South Africa.

The name of the young man is R. D. McFarquhar. He is 25 years old but looks older.

"Two years' service in South Africa will age a man 10 years," said Mr. McFarquhar. He enlisted in January, 1900, in Ross county, Northern Scotland, in the Second Seaforth Highlanders, and was later transferred to the second Scottish Horse. He was discharged October, 1901. The Victoria medal he wears was awarded for gallantry in the battle of Wittebergen.

If all of Britain's defenders are of the same sturdy stuff as this young "Highlander," Britain would be able to maintain her supremacy.

HIGH NOTCH FOR WHEAT.

Club Reaches 62 and Bluestem 66 Yesterday Evening.

Club, 62 cents; bluestem 66 cents. The highest prices paid this year for wheat prevailed on the local market yesterday and today. It is estimated that fully 40,000 sacks of this season's crop changed hands yesterday—in all about 85,000 bushels.

"A decline almost invariably follows a rapid advance," said E. W. McComas, a prominent wheat dealer, and the way prices have gone up within the past few days has been marvelous. The buyers on the stock markets in Chicago and New York attempted to hold back prices when they start to soar, and the result is generally a rapid decline.

This does not argue, however, that a dropping off in prices just now would be permanent.

Must Remove Old Closets.

The health committee of the city council advises all property owners and renters upon whose premises sewer connections have lately been made, to take immediate steps to remove the abandoned earth closets and clean out and fill up the cesspools. During an account of the prevailing hot weather these spots have become nuisances in some neighborhoods, and before the hot weather ends they are very liable to become, to a certain extent at least, originators of the disease.

Improvements for the Journal.

The Oregon Daily Journal is adding a fourth color attachment and an attachment to permit the printing of 32 pages instead of 24, as at present. These improvements make the Journal printing press the finest on the Pacific Coast, and the business that justifies the great expense of installing these attachments speaks well for the city of Portland and the enterprise of the Journal.

Formerly of Umatilla County.

Stevens & Hunter, the Nebraska sheep feeders who are here trying to buy stockers to fatten in Nebraska, for many years lived in Umatilla county, with headquarters in the Pilot Rock country. They left Oregon for Nebraska about three years ago.

One Hundred More Students.

W. D. Lyman, who recently visited Pendleton in the interest of Whitman College, has reported to the college management that he estimates 100 new students for that worthy institution at the beginning of the coming school year.

The "White Horse Combines."

The Drumheller Brothers, of Walla Walla, are operating three large combined harvesters on Eureka Flats and every one of the 40 horses used about the machines is pure white, no other color being found in any of the teams.

Second Time Fined.

Isaac Coralline, for big drunk and disorderly, was fined $5 this morning by Police Justice Thomas Fitz Gerald. This is the second time this week that Coralline has been before the court this week.

The Modern Way

To cure a weak stomach is to take Hostetter's Stomach Bitters to the very first symptom. It does away with starving and dieting yourself because it puts the stomach in proper condition to digest the food. In this way it cures indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, heartburn, insomnia, headache, cramps or diarrhoea. Nervous and sickly women also find the Bitters unequalled as a regulator and tonic. We urge a fair trial.

NURSES GRADUATE.

Walla Walla Hospital Training School Has Turned Out 13 Graduates.

The annual graduation exercises of the Walla Walla hospital training school, will be held on September 8. There will be three nurses graduate this year, one of them Miss M. E. Beck, being a resident of Pendleton. The others are Miss Eva King and Miss Mayme Elliott.

Superintendent James Mullinix, of the hospital, who is in Pendleton today, said: "The hospital is now under the control of A. J. Kelly and myself. No practicing physician is connected with the establishment and the institution is open to all doctors.

"Since the training department was inaugurated on April 16, 1899, 12 nurses have graduated from the hospital. The course is two and a half years and the graduates will be received in any hospital in the United States."
