WITHEE ON SEWERS

INSPECTOR SAYS RESIDENTS ARE TOO SLOW.

Many People Who Are Able to Make Connections Have Neglected to Do So—Others Borrowed Money to Comply With the Law—There Are Yet Many Connections to Make and the City Will Make an Example of Some Delinquent, it is Thought.

The work of connecting private properties with the sewer laterals drags irritatingly, and Mr. Withee reports it as a hard proposition to handle from any reasonable man's standpoint. During July connections at the rate of one a day for the month were made; now the work lags, and the promise seems to be that an example must be made of some one for the benefit of the many.

A good many complied with the ordinance just as promptly as they could possibly get around to it, whether they could afford it or not. In fact, the scrupulousness of this class is in strong contrast with the utter indifference and contempt for the public welfare of another class which is far more able to comply with the law but does not. Some people actually ran in debt to meet the requirements.

Others who have abundant means—some of them actually retired from active business except looking after their investments—show the greatest indifference to the ordinance, and seem to have no appreciation of their duties toward their tenants and the community at large.

It is from this class that an example will probably be made later on.

Mr. Withee speaks of a certain element "who are just naturally mean." They may not be particularly picaresque, and they seem to be intelligent enough to appreciate every phase of the situation, but they are mullah and defiant and would rather have their own way, and resent any presumption by the city that it has any authority over them.

Another class affords some amusement and considerable annoyance. They put off connecting as long as they thought it was safe, even until the hot weather was well advanced, and then flinging open their doors and windows so that not a breath of tainted atmosphere could possibly get past the house from any direction without going through it, began to sniff for evidences that other people were not doing their duty.

They can smell a drain or cess-pool farther than anybody else in town, and roar louder about it, though the water has hardly yet found its way through their own connections.

Harvesters Are Scarce. For some reason or other there is a dearth of threshing machines, both steam and horse power, in this section of the great wheat belt. Many theories for the cause of absence of the big harvesting outfits are being advanced by the farmers of this neighborhood, who are becoming anxious to see their grain in the sack and transported to the warehouse.

One theory is that grain in the Walla Walla valley ripened much later this season than customary and the machines over there are delayed in moving to the wheat fields of Umatilla county early as in former years. Should this be the case it is feared by some that machine men who are threshing Walla Walla grain, may cut this territory and go to the Palouse, where the grain is now ripening. Another reason given is that outside machine men had heard over-drawn reports as to the number of combines in operation here, and will not come on that account—Athena Press.

There is more Catarah in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarah to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarah Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggist, price 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

FATHER BENEDICT DEAD.

Priest Stricken With Apoplexy at The Dalles.

This morning when Father Desmairs entered the Catholic church about 7 o'clock he was shocked to find Father Benedict lying on the floor near the altar. He attempted to raise him, when he fell unconscious in his arms. Summoning help he carried him into the parsonage near by and sent for Dr. J. A. Reuter, who at once said he had been stricken with apoplexy and he considered he was beyond help. He lingered until 2.30, when he breathed his last.

The good father had ridden up from the Benedictine home, near Crate's Point, to receive holy communion and it is supposed the heat overcame him, causing the stroke.

At the hour of going to press we were unable to learn anything as to the former name of the deceased or as to his life, further than that his secular name was Betts. He is supposed to be about 45 years of age.—The Dalles Chronicle.
