LEWIS AND CLARK RELIC.

S. P. Haney Finds Trees on Snake River Bearing Inscriptions.

S. P. Haney, of this place, last January found near Snake river, directly east of here, and on the Oregon side of the river, an immense quaking asp bearing the inscription, "Lewis and Clark, 1804-05." On another huge asp near by is traced an arrow, and on still another the outline of an Indian's head. It is said that an arrow design is found at or near every authentic inscription left by the Lewis and Clark people.

Mr. Haney is in correspondence with the Lewis and Clark Exposition authorities, endeavoring to enlist their attention for securing the relic for the exposition. All the figures cut into the trees are more or less distorted and enlarged irregularly by the growth since the carving was done, but all are perfectly legible.

WORK DEFERRED.

Nothing Doing on New Depot on Account of J. G. Cutler's Illness.

It is understood that work is deferred upon the new W. & C. R. passenger depot at this place on account of the very severe illness of Treasurer J. G. Cutler, who has undergone an operation for appendicitis, at Walla Walla. Mr. Cutler has the plans and is expected to have immediate charge of the building, hence the delay. It is supposed that the building will be 40x60 feet in size, but whether it will be built of frame or brick is not yet known to a certainty outside of the management of the company.

DRUNKS ARE FINED.

Empty Crockery Crate at Owl Tea House Used as a Bed by Vagrants.

Two vagrants and one drunk appeared in police court this morning and each was sentenced to three days in the city jail. Tom Daly and James Stanley are the vagrants. The intoxicated man gave his name as Oliver Saunders.

The police this morning arrested a man found asleep in an empty crockery crate, at the rear of the Owl Tea House. The man was unconscious from drink. In his pockets was found a paper containing burnt opium.

PROGRESS OF EXAMINATIONS.

Miss Sharp Drops Out From Illness and Miss Marple is Enrolled.

The examination of applicants for county certificates to teach will end this afternoon. The state subjects will require another day. However, it is optional with applicants for state diplomas as to when they take the examinations, and they may take up the various subjects at different county meetings.

The county papers are being graded by the county superintendent and the members of his examining board, Prof. Peebles and Salt. The state subjects must be forwarded to the superintendent of public instruction at Salem.

Miss Stella Marple, was enrolled this morning among those taking the state examination. Miss Kittle Sharp, who has been taking the county tests, has been obliged to give up the work owing to illness.

The subjects today are: For county certificates—Geography, mental arithmetic, school law and civil government; for state diplomas—physiology, geography, mental arithmetic, composition and physical geography.

SOLD 5000 SHEEP.

Buyers Seem to Be Gaining Advantages in the Sparring Going On.

Douglas Belts has sold to Hunter & Stevens, for shipment to Nebraska, about 500 fat mutton for immediate delivery.

It appears that the buyers seem to be gaining some slight advantages in the contest now going on, as they paid $1.25 for old ewes and $1.55 for lambs, and all the animals are in the finest condition.

These sheep are on the mountain ranges and finer stock sheep never went out of the state. They will be fed in Nebraska for the Eastern markets. In the event of a settlement of the strikes at any time within several months and the consequent clearing up of industrial conditions, the purchasers of these sheep are reasonably sure of making big profits on the deal.

Sheep sold and shipped from this county a few weeks ago are said to have sold on the Chicago markets for $3 net, a clear profit of $1 per head, so it can be seen what is in sight for the Nebraska buyers if the Chicago situation turns out favorably.

Beautiful -how Window.

The huge, new show windows of the Peoples Warehouse have been decorated with men's furnishings and dress goods. These windows are the largest in the city and to fill them with goods takes almost as much stock as is contained in the average country store.

The hull of the steamship Discovery, has been found in the inlet at Middleton Island, Alaska, near Valdez.

JOYFUL PARTY OF REPUBLICANS

IDAHO DELEGATIONS PASS THROUGH TODAY.

Trainload of 200 Enthusiastic Delegates Accompanied by Frank R. Gooding Nominee for Governor. Transfer to Main Line of O. R. & N. Today—Morrison Lost in the Shuffle—Monte B. Gwinn Says They Will Sweep Everything.

Frank R. Gooding, of Shoshone, republican nominee for governor of Idaho, and 200 delegates to the state convention just closed at Moscow, passed through Pendleton at 11 o'clock this morning en route home. The train bearing the party consists of six Pullman coaches. The train stopped in this city just long enough to take coal and water.

Of the 200 delegates aboard, the majority are supporters of Gooding, and all wear badges bearing his name. Governor John R. Morrison, the present chief executive of the pan-handle state, who was defeated for re-nomination by the Gooding people, was conspicuous by his absence.

"Don't know where he is, except that he's on this train," was the indifferent reply of a dust-covered delegate, in answer to a query concerning the whereabouts of the governor. And the man busied himself with a huge slice of Oregon watermelon.

Among the nominees for state office aboard the train are: Dr. B. L. Stevens, of Washington county, candidate for lieutenant governor; H. M. Coffin, of Boise, candidate for treasurer; Will R. Gibson, of St. Anthony, candidate for secretary of state; Miss M. L. Scott, of Bingham, candidate for superintendent of public instruction; R. M. Bell, of Custer, candidate for state mine inspector.

Mrs. J. Allen Foster, of Iowa, noted throughout the country as a campaigner and organizer of the women's republican league of the United States, is aboard the train. Mrs. Foster was present at the Moscow convention.

Among the prominent delegates with the Gooding party is Monte B. Gwinn, of Boise, secretary of the Idaho Woolgrowers' Association, a brother of J. H. Gwinn, of this city. Mr. Gwinn is an enthusiastic supporter of Gooding. "The republicans are going to carry everything in Idaho this fall," he declared.

When the special train steamed into the Pendleton depot there was a mad scramble for the news stands by the delegates. Idaho papers were at a premium. Liquid refreshments, too, concerned a large number and when the cars pulled out empty bottles scattered along the rails showed clearly that a huge thirst had been slaked. Watermelon rinds, too, were plentiful.

Owing to the peculiar shape of Idaho and the absence of a railway line extending along the length of the state, many of the delegates are obliged to travel almost 1000 miles to attend the convention. From Boise to Moscow via the O. R. & N. and the Northern Pacific, is about 700 miles.

LOCAL WHEAT SOARS.

Advance of Two Cents Recorded in Prices Today.

Wheat on the local market advanced two cents today and in the neighborhood of 40,000 bushels were disposed of at 65 cents for club and 60 cents for bluestem. The rapid advance according to local dealers is due in a large measure to the big jump taken on the Chicago 'change yesterday, when old September wheat advanced 5 points from the opening. The quotations at the close being $1.05 1/2.

A drop is expected in the local market in a day or two out of sympathy for the Eastern market which fell two points today.

ELECTRIC SERVICE.

Henry Kepky's Residence Will Be Modern in Every Way.

The new residence of Henry Kepky just two miles from Athena, will have every modern convenience, being equipped with a complete system of water service and electricity. The water will come from a brick reservoir 1000 feet from the building, which will be filled from a well and the water elevated with a gasoline engine.

Maple Bros. are now installing the wires for the electricity, which will come from either the new system now being built from Alla Walla to Pendleton, or from a private dynamo run by an engine on the premises. Mr. Kepky has not decided which service will furnish the house with electricity.

SHEEPRAISERS RESOLUTE.

Value Their Sheep at Their Worth for Wool and Mutton.

Many of the sheepraisers are up in arms over the attitude of the buyers from abroad. They say flatly that they do not have to sell stockers and lamb muttons at the prices offered, and will not; that their necessities are not so strenuous as the buyers seem to think and in many cases try to make the raisers themselves think they are.

The raisers say that the buyers are offering but $1.25 to $1.50 for the same grade of animals exactly that from $1.70 up was paid for but a few weeks ago. The raisers are stubborn and ask from $2 to $2.25 for these sheep now and claim that that is not an exorbitant figure; that they are worth that to keep for next year's wool crop and for mutton later.

Will Return to Ohio.

D. A. DeWitt, who has been for several weeks the guest of the Friedley brothers, 10 miles northwest of Pendleton, left for Hood River and Portland this morning. At Hood River he will visit with his son, H. T. DeWitt, who is bookkeeper for the Hood River Lumber Company, at that place. At Portland he will visit with his daughter, Mrs. L. C. McClintock, who is also a bookkeeper. He will then return to his home at Ada, Harlan county, Ohio.

Plowed Deep for Barley.

Charles Hein has cut and threshed 100 acres of barley on his Tutulla farm, which yielded 3176 bushels, or 31 1/2 bushels to the acre, and the quality is fine. Mr. Hein plowed and sowed in December. He plowed eight inches deep to carry out a pet theory that the light soil of that neighborhood needed and would justify deep plowing, and the result in this case vindicated his judgment.

Visitors From Indiana.

Mrs. Elizabeth Debell and her daughter, Miss Lina Debell, and Miss Lettie Plumber, of Monticello, Ind., arrived this morning for a visit with M. A. Rader and family, who have not yet arrived from their Eastern trip, but are expected by every train. Mrs. Debell met the Raders about two weeks ago in Indiana. They were enjoying their trip very much, and were all in good health.

Special Services.

The Salvation Army will hold a special service Saturday evening next, at 8 o'clock, following which there will be ice cream and cake served. An effort is being made to make the service, both as to music and the discourses, of unusual attractiveness, and the general public is invited to attend in as great numbers as possible.

Domestic Hides Scarce.

The hide and fur dealers report an unusual scarcity of hides of domestic animals in the market this summer. The reason is the universal good health and flesh of livestock in every part of the country. Once in a while the hide of a horse or cow that has sored itself on alfalfa is brought in, and that is pretty near the limit.

Back From Lehman.

A party consisting of Mrs. Joseph Basler and children, Mrs. August Struve, William Campbell, Tex Langley and J. J. Lally returned from an outing at Lehman Springs last night. They report the nights very cool at the mountain resort now, and that many campers are thinking of coming out. There are yet about 400 people in the vicinity of the springs.

Heavy Yield on 900 Acres.

The Friedley brothers, 10 miles northwest of Pendleton, have cut and threshed 900 acres of wheat which yielded 31,000 bushels, an average of 34 1/2 bushels per acre, and of uniformly excellent quality. From 240 contiguous acres they threshed 11,025 bushels, an average of 46 bushels to the acre.

Lewis Bergevin, who farms at Spring Hollow, reports that the second crop of alfalfa on his place was really better than the first, owing to the distribution of rains. Mr. Bergevin went to Adams this morning.
