MORE ROOM NECESSARY.

R. Alexander is Confronted With An Expansion Problem.

The expanding business of the Alexander department store necessitates a corresponding expansion of quarters, and the problem is not an easy one to solve. The building will not carry a second story, being built with light foundations at a time when a two-story building on Main street was deemed outside the wildest dreams of business empire for Pendleton.

Mr. Alexander owns the lot in the rear of the store, clear through to Cottonwood, and it is possible that in time the building will be doubled by extending it through either as an annex, or with a Cottonwood street front. For the present all that will be done will be to put in all the balconies that the shape and size of the building will warrant, and completely remodel the front.

MAY BE TEST CASE.

Interpretation of Hickox's Dipping Order Do Not Agree.

The sheepmen—raisers and buyers, are all interested in the return of Dr. Lantz from Meacham this afternoon. His opinion is due concerning the meaning of the order from Hickox, the agent of the bureau of animal industry, published in full yesterday.

Some believe that the order does not mean that all sheep must be dipped whether proven to have scab or not, and should Dr. Lantz's opinion confirm these doubters of the generally accepted interpretation of the order, it is altogether likely that a test case may result by an attempt being made to export to Nebraska or to the sound without dipping a band of sheep known and proven to be entirely free from scab.

Those who put the construction to the order published yesterday, say flatly that the only recourse in the premises is Agent Hickox himself—that no one else is competent to attempt an authoritative interpretation

PENDLETON MAY LOSE THE PLANT

RIGBY-CLOVE COMPANY TO BE REORGANIZED.

Judge Geisler, of Portland, Who is Conducting the Reorganization, Has Propositions From Portland and The Dalles—New Company Would Capitalize at $75,000—Will Employ From 40 to 50 Men and Will Conduct Largest Farm Machinery Manufactory in the Northwest—It is Now Up to Pendleton.

J. Clove, of the Rigby-Clove combined harvester factory, has returned from Portland, where he has been for the past 10 days in the interest of the reorganization of the company, and the establishment of a large plant for the manufacture of the machines.

The matter of reorganization is now in the hands of Judge J. G. Geisler, of Portland, who is certain of sufficient capital to start a plant at some point to be decided upon later.

The situation at Pendleton will be thoroughly canvassed by Judge Geisler, before he decides to locate the factory, and the city will be given every opportunity to keep the institution here, where it will be the leading manufacturing plant for farm machinery in the Northwest, if the plans now under advisement are carried out.

It is the intention of the new company to capitalize at about $75,000, employ from 40 to 50 men, carry on a general foundry and shop business besides manufacture from 30 to 40 of the harvesters each year.

It is not settled yet what will be done, as Judge Geisler is now looking after offers from The Dalles and Portland, both of which cities are after the plant. While both of those places are more favorably located as to transportation competition, they are far removed from the true wheat belt of the Inland Empire and it is the desire of the new company at this time to continue the manufacture of the harvesters in Umatilla county, where the demand for them is strong and where they can be set up at the factory and started without the cost of sending experts long distances from the factory to start every machine sold.

The matter is simply up to Pendleton capital, and the city of Pendleton. If sufficient inducement is offered here, the plant will remain here. If The Dalles or Portland capital finances the new company it will go where that capital directs.

UNDER FALSE PRETENSES.

John Stott Used Arthur Rigby's Name Without Authority.

Suspected of unlawful relations with Lillie Franklin, with whom it is said he has been living for several weeks, and charged with obtaining goods under false pretenses, John Stott, 21 years of age, is in custody at the city jail. He was arrested early last evening by City Marshal Carney.

It is alleged that Stott obtained a bill of groceries from R. Alexander yesterday afternoon and had the goods charged to the account of Walter Rigby, a farmer. When it was discovered that the man had no authority from Rigby to purchase the groceries, a warrant was secured for his arrest.

For several weeks past Stott and the Franklin woman are said to have lived at the Eastern hotel in Webb street, as man and wife. Lately the two have occupied an old house in West Alta street, near the baseball grounds. The woman is about 23 years of age. A charge of unlawful cohabitation may be preferred against them.

IDAHO OVERSTOCKING.

Oregon Much the Better State in Which to Winter Sheep.

M. Pedro, the well known sheepman, is in the county and in Pendleton yesterday. He has sold to Hunter & Stevens 700 head of yearling wethers in this county. The price is not stated. He has also disposed of Frank Gudding, who is the republican candidate for governor of Idaho, 2000 head of lambs for which he received $1.70 per head.

Mr. Provo will bring 2000 ewes from Idaho into Combes Canyon to winter, which are now in the neighborhood of Council. The tendency is to overstock in Idaho as badly as in Oregon, and the results of doing so are, if anything, more serious than here, as the winters require more feeding and shelter. Mr. Pedro fed his Idaho sheep three months last year, and his sheep in Oregon none at all.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

Bids for New Buildings to Be Asked for—Miss Parrott Signs Contract.

The Pendleton school board last night decided to advertise for bids for the construction of the three new school buildings, next Saturday. Architect C. E. Troutman's plans were gone over and approved by the board.

The houses are to be constructed of pressed brick. Each will be two stories in height and will contain basements. The east and west end buildings will contain eight rooms and separate reception rooms in the basements for the boys and girls. The one on the north side of the river will contain but four rooms.

The exact cost of the buildings will be determined when the contracts are awarded.

School Clerk John Hiley, Jr., has received a letter from Miss Elizabeth Parrott, stating that she has accepted the position of primary teacher. Miss Parrott formerly taught in this city and her reputation as a primary instructor is excellent.

WORK ON POWER PLANT.

4000 Feet of the Six-Mile Barrel Flume is Completed.

The poles for the electric power works are now set to a point between Eastland and Havana, and the poles are distributed nearly to Havana. On the opposite end of the line the poles are said to be set nearly into Walla Walla.

About 4000 feet of the six-mile barrel flume from Walla Walla to Milton is finished. The amount of material entering into its construction is best comprehended when it is remembered that it is four feet in diameter.

Profitable Hay Crop.

J. S. Wheeler, who lives on the Kidder place, two miles west of Pendleton, cut 200 tons of wheat hay off 120 acres on the Kidder place, and 250 tons of wheat hay off his own place adjoining. It is believed that had he let the crop grow for grain it would easily have yielded from 25 to 30 bushels per acre. Granted that it would have yielded that much, the hay is 33 per cent the more profitable on account of the nearness to the hay market, and the very much less cost of turning out the product ready for consumption.

Round-Up in Progress.

Robert N. Stanfield, a prominent young Butter creek stockman, arrived in Pendleton yesterday evening from the Columbia river round-up. Mr. Stanfield has been ill for the past two days and was obliged to leave the range. "We are branding cattle belonging to Asa Thompson, Jesse Moore and myself. I estimate that there are about 1000 head of stock on the range. The animals are all in excellent condition and the range contains feed in abundance."

Headquarters at Sunset.

Robert Fletcher is now in charge of three gangs on the Spokane division of the O. R. & N. with headquarters at Sunset, about 70 miles this side of Spokane. He has charge of all the fence building and repairing on that division, and also all the cattle guard work, and is responsible for the purchase and distribution of supplies for the three gangs.

Ranges Drying Up.

It is stated that those whose stock are depending on the common ranges of the southern part of the county are liable to fare poorly from now on, as the recent dry and hot weather has greatly depleted the ranges except for those who have private ranges that are protected from overstocking, and in which the grass has a better chance than in the open.

No Council Meeting.

There was no session of the city council last night. Mayor W. F. Matlock and two members of the council were out of town and it was decided to postpone the meeting. There was little business to come before the body. S. M. Richardson was there to protest against the mouth of a sewer being too close to his property.

Returned to Pendleton.

P. J. Gibbins, the old gentleman who for 17 years conducted a shoe repairing shop in this place and five years ago moved to Cunningham, Wash., has returned and will make his permanent residence here. Mr. Gibbins will make his home at St. Anthony's hospital.

En Route to California.

W. B. Hinkle, brother of J. T. Hinkle, is visiting the latter for a few days while en route from his home at Grangeville, Idaho, to Oakland, Cal., where he will take post graduate studies in civil and mining engineering, at St. Mary's, a technological institute.

Child's Arm Broken.

The 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamilton fell from a high fence yesterday afternoon and sustained a compound fracture of the right forearm. The break is a serious one. Dr. W. G. Cole is attending the injured child.

Returned From Outing.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Waffle returned last evening from a five weeks outing on the homestead in the Potts country. Mr. Waffle says there is excellent grouse hunting in that district and he almost regretted leaving the mountains so early.

Health Improving.

The health of Rev. Robert Diven is considerably improved of late. He has just returned from a vacation at Milton where he revelled for some time in the fruits of that favored place.

Miles Kemler Files Demurrer.

In the action of W. G. Sullivan to compel Miles Kemler to pay $200 damages for shooting a white bull dog, the defendant this morning filed a demurrer to the complaint.

Needs a School Teacher.

O. Dahlgren, one of the school directors of District 66, was in Pendleton this morning looking for a teacher. District 66 is situated about eight miles north of Pendleton.

DEATH OF I. M. TURNER.

Had Been Partially Paralyzed From the Waist Downward.

Doynes Turner this morning received a telegram informing him of the death last night at Albany of his youngest brother, I. M. Turner. Mr. Turner visited his relatives here last winter, being at the time in very poor health from kidney and stomach troubles. Before returning to the valley he went to Hot Lake, where he took baths and other medical treatment. Shortly after that he became partially paralyzed from the waist downward, and his death, while sudden and in a sense unexpected, is no surprise to his relatives here. He was a stockman and was born and raised in Linn county.

Will Sow 1000 Acres.

J. L. Clark & Co. have cut and threshed 500 acres of wheat five miles southeast of town, on the reservation, which averaged 35 bushels per acre and all of it is No. 1. It was threshed by Frank Michaels' stationary. The Clark firm will sow 1000 acres this fall.
