

THE EXCHANGES THE INLAND EMPIRE

the right of suffrage to swear that he was not a member of any organization, religious or otherwise, which taught polygamy, and that he owed no allegiance to an ecclesiastical power higher and more binding than his allegiance to the state and federal governments.—Spokane-Review.

Experting Defunct Bank.
G. P. Clark, of the firm of Clark & Buchanan, the expert accountants of Portland, arrived here yesterday morning and a little later was busy with the committee appointed by Bank of Sumpter depositors in going over the books of that concern. Elsewhere is published a notice calling upon all depositors to bring in their books in order to expedite the work of the expert. How long the task now in hand will require none of those engaged are in a position to say.—Sumpter Reporter.

Spokane for Irrigation.
Plans for a Spokane district irrigation association will be presented to the chamber of commerce at its next meeting Tuesday afternoon. The association will be modeled after the Los Angeles association, which is composed of the Southern California members of the National Irrigation Association, and which has done so much to secure part of the federal appropriations for California irrigation projects.—Spokane-Review.

Banner Wheat Yield.
Newt James takes the blue ribbon this year for the heaviest yield of wheat. He had 160 acres planted in club which went 33 sacks to the acre. At 135 pounds to the sack and 60 pounds to the bushels this makes the yield the enormous amount of over 74 bushels to the acre.—Dayton Press-Courier.

UNION CHURCH SERVICES.
Are Being Participated in by All Churches in the City Except the Catholic and Christian.
The union church services which have been very profitable to those participating, and will continue yet for some time. During the heated season many of the members of all the congregations are out of the city and by uniting in these meetings, large attendance and greater church enthusiasm has been stimulated.
The churches participating in these valuable meetings are the Methodist, South, M. E., Congregational, Baptist and Presbyterian, and the members of all these are earnestly endeavoring to bring about a more decided fellowship among the churches, by association and spiritual education.
The union services for tomorrow night will be held at the Thompson Street Methodist church, Rev. W. L. Van Nuys, of the Presbyterian, to preach the sermon.
