OHIO VANDALS DYNAMITE BOAT

STEAMER NEARLY DESTROYED ON ST. MARY'S LAKE.

Heavy Property Damage Narrowly Averted—Dynamiting Said to Have Been Done by Parties Wishing to Empty St. Mary's Lake to Prevent Overflow and Damage to Crops—Locks and Bulkheads Almost Destroyed.

St. Mary's O., Aug. 23.—Unknown persons attempted early this morning to blow up the State boat lying near the bulkhead at St. Mary's reservoir. The boat was badly damaged. The house was nearly destroyed, the locks damaged and the escape of an immense body of water which would have destroyed many lives and much property, was narrowly averted.

It is believed that the dynamiting was done by parties wishing to empty the lake to prevent the overflow in the spring, which caused much damage to crops.

A KICK ON FISH WARDEN.

A. B. Noble Says the Grand Ronde Lumber Company Violates the Law. Pendleton, Aug. 23.—(To the Editor.)—I have just returned from a three weeks' outing at my home on Meadow creek, where I find the fishing much poorer than last year on account of a dam built by the Grand Ronde Lumber Company for use in running logs down the creek.

This dam has been built about four years. It is impossible for fish to get above it and complaint has been made about it time and again, but without avail. Game wardens have said that they would order the dam out or cause fish ladders to be built, so the fish can get over.

It will only be a short time until it will be impossible to catch fish on Meadow creek at all. A few years ago several thousand rainbow trout and greyling were planted in the stream, but they were shut in a small spring branch by means of a wire screen and one of them never has been seen since they were planted.

Individuals have been made to remove their dams to allow fish to pass up the streams and it seems that this rich company should be compelled to do the same thing. Respectfully, A. B. NOBLE.

The Portland race meeting has been extended for three weeks, making a five-weeks' meeting of it.

MRS. MAYBRICK IN NATIVE LAND

"God in His Own Good Time Will Right the Wrong Done Me," She Said.

THE LANDING IN AMERICA HER HAPPIEST HOUR.

Prepared a Statement for the Press in Which She Thanked American Friends for Loyal Aid—Her Health is Shattered, But She Hopes to Recover Under Medical Treatment—Will Remain at Home of Her Lawyer, S. V. Hayden, at Ellensville, N. Y.—Curious Crowd Gathered

New York, Aug. 23.—The steamer Vaterland with Mrs. Maybrick aboard docked soon after 5 o'clock this morning. A crowd of curious people swarmed the dock. Without a demonstration the woman walked down the gang plank on the arm of her lawyer, S. V. Hayden, and was ushered into a cab and driven uptown.

It is learned that the party will stop over a day at the Fifth Avenue hotel, and possibly tomorrow will leave for Hayden's home, at Ellensville, near Kingston, N. Y.

Statement to the Public.

During the voyage she wrote a statement to be given the press on her arrival. She expressed a desire not to be interviewed. In the statement she expressed joy and thanksgiving to be back a free woman, in her native land. There are frequent vivid expressions of gratitude to her American friends, who for years have fought for her liberty.

She said it is her intention to remain at the home of Hayden. Her health is shattered but she hoped to recover under treatment. "God, in His own time, will right the wrong that has been done me," she said. She was dressed in black and white with a heavy veil. Like a fragile statue she appeared on the deck this morning, and stood, apparently in a reverie, watching the statue of liberty and the tall buildings of the city.

The newspaper men watched her from behind the ventilators, but none of them spoke to her. As the passengers began to appear the woman returned to her state room.

Lawyer Hayden said after she returned, she said: "This is the happiest hour of my life." The custom officers did not detain the woman an instant. She clutched tightly the arm of her escort as he pushed through the crowd.

SPREAD OF STRIKE OTHER TRADES CERTAIN.

MAY COLONIZE IOWA PEOPLE REPRESENTATIVE LOOKING AT UMATILLA COUNTY.

H. M. Beeson Sent to Oregon to Select a Location for Company of Iowans Now at Athena—Was Well Pleased With Camas Prairie, But it is Too Far From Railroad—Good Farming Lands Wanted.

H. M. Beeson of Marshalltown, Iowa, was in town today en route to Athena, where he will look over the farming lands of that vicinity. From this neighborhood he will go over into the Yakima country and thoroughly prospect that, Mr. Beeson represents a dozen families, all farmers, who will leave Iowa on his representations perhaps, or at least accept them as preliminary to general plans for going West. They want general farming lands, preferably suited to stock growing.

Mr. Beeson stopped at Boise and Bliss, and has been over in the Camas Prairie country. It is probable that he would have reported favorably on the Camas Prairie district but for its distance from the railroad. As to fertility of soil and all the other needed natural advantages, he considers the Camas district unequalled, but is certain that the people he represents would not settle so far from the railroad.

CHAS. HASTINGS HELD FOR FRAUD

Retained $70 Belonging to C. L. Cox in a Recent Sale of Horses.

CROOKEDNESS WITH RIGBY CAUSED INVESTIGATION.

Hastings Sold a Team for Mr. Cox and Was to Have $5 Commission—Instead, He Kept $70 Out of $200 and Said Nothing to Cox—Hastings Made a Crooked Deal With G. W. Rigby in Selling a House That Did Not Belong to Him—Accepted $100 Payment From Rigby.

Charged with embezzlement and threatened with arrest for alleged gross fraud and deceit, is the plight of Charles Hastings, a Pendleton house mover, who was taken into custody this afternoon. The embezzlement charge is brought upon complaint of C. L. Cox, a local horseman, who alleges that Hastings retained $70 of the proceeds of a $200 horse sale, when as a matter of fact he should have kept but one-fourteenth of that amount, or $5.

Hastings yesterday secured from G. W. Rigby $100 in money and nine horses and mules, as a first payment on a house and lot, his purported property. When time came to make out the deed transferring the property it was discovered that 10 months before, Hastings had disposed of the house and lot to Al Vogel.

An attempt was made to secure Hastings' arrest on a charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses, but as no written agreement had been entered into between the house mover and Rigby, there is no grounds to base such an action. In the meantime, Hastings had disposed of two of the horses for $160. A writ of replevin will be filed to obtain possession of the two horses sold that they may be returned to Rigby.

Cox, when he learned of the Rigby affair, investigated the recent sale of two of his horses which he had commissioned Hastings to dispose of and the result was the arrest of the latter on a charge of embezzlement. It is alleged that Cox was to pay Hastings $5 to make the sale and that the latter turned in $130 as the price brought by the animals, less his commission. It is said the team was disposed of for $200.

FINISHED HEADGATE.

The ditch at the head, and for all of its present length, is 30 feet wide on the bottom and eight feet deep.

The company will buy a ditch digger—a combination of steam plow and dredger—this fall, and will the coming fall and winter dig about four miles of laterals.
