SHEEP REPORTED KILLED.
Cattlemen of Crook County Accused of Slaughtering About 600 Head on the Range.

The Dalles, Aug. 25.—The report from Antelope to the effect that Crook county cattlemen had killed 1000 head of sheep on the Morrow and Keenan range, was overdrawn, and it is now doubtful if more than 600 head were killed and injured.

The sheep killers are thought to have been small stockmen and settlers who object to the sheep ranging near their premises and not representatives of the large cattle owners as reported at first.

There were about seven men in the party, instead of 20, and the herder was not mistreated, nor bound to a tree, but was quietly ordered to remain at a safe distance so none of the spent bullets would strike him.

No arrests have yet been made, and from present indications it will be a difficult matter to identify any of the men in the sheep shooting party.

Growing River Traffic.
Shipping men point out forcibly from time to time the great necessity for more wharfage accommodations here, but there is no present indication that anything will be done in that direction in the near future.

There is a likelihood that there will soon be another steamer on the route between this city and San Francisco, and the need for another wharf is pressing.—Astoria Daily News.

Too Much for Even Utah.
It is the sentiment of the sane people of Huntington to make a reformation of our ball room ethics. This huggie-muggie dancing is becoming very obnoxious. The way some of our boys and girls—not gentlemen and ladies—have of wrestling on the floor should by all means be abolished.—Huntington (Utah) Progress.

There are ginger worms and red-pepper bugs—queer boarders—that have to be looked for, not in Schilling's Best, but in making it. There are eggs of these queer boarders, too small to be killed by grinding. Don't keep spices warm, or they'll hatch.
