DAMAGE FOR SEWAGE

S. M. RICHARDSON ASKS THE CITY FOR $4000.

Claims the Sewage From Pendleton Has Damaged Him to This Extent by Its Offensive Odor—City Will Investigate—Street Improvement Discussed by City Council—Rock Crusher May Be Purchased.

Four thousand dollars is the damage that S. M. Richardson estimates has been caused to his property by reason of the outlet of a city sewer near it. His claim was submitted to the council at its meeting last night and was submitted to the sewer committee for consideration.

Richardson declares that the sewer's discharge is very offensive and by reason of the sewage distributed on his property, he is suffering a heavy loss.

The session of the council last night was short. Liquor licenses were granted to Morgan & Bogart, J. P. Medernach and J. E. Russell & Company.

The matter of street improvement was discussed but no definite action was taken. It is the intention of the council to purchase a rock crusher to be used in preparing macadam for the streets and it is thought the street committee may visit Walla Walla to inspect the working of one there before the city makes its purchase.

READS IN COURT

UNUSUALLY INTERESTING COMPLAINT FILED.

Mrs. Lillian Read, of Umatilla, Charges Long List of Cruelties and Indecencies Against Her Husband—Said He Wanted Her to Fight a Duel in the Sage Brush—Disgusting Actions of a Husband Aired in the Petition for Divorce.

Lillian Read, of Umatilla, appeared in the state circuit court yesterday afternoon, represented by her attorney, James A. Fee, and moved a dismissal of the divorce proceedings instituted against Melvin Read, in order to file a new complaint. The motion was allowed and the new papers were filed soon after.

Cruel and inhuman treatment, threats to kill and false accusations as to her character, are the grounds upon which Mrs. Read is seeking her divorce. Not content with kicking her, blacking her eyes with his fists, striking her over the head with broomsticks and threatening her life with butcher knives and revolvers, the plaintiff alleges her husband even went so far as to challenge her to a duel.

In the presence of the three minor children, one night, Mrs. Read declares the defendant secured a loaded revolver and invited her out into the sagebrush to "fight it out." But she declined to go.

In addition to a decree of absolute divorce Mrs. Read requests the custody of her children and $2000 alimony. Read is said to have fallen heir to one-third interest in estates valued at $12,250. He is a switch engineer in the employ of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company, and has resided at Umatilla for many years.

One of the charges of the plaintiff is that Read threw a lighted lamp at her head and that she was badly injured. To humiliate her, she declares the defendant prevented her from selling milk from a cow, and would go out and milk it upon the ground, to spite her.

The Reads were married in Nebraska August 26, 1893. The eldest of their three children is 11 years of age.

WILL INVEST.

Prospectors Promise Large Immigration Next Spring.

F. H. McDermot, an attorney from Rugby, N. D., accompanied by his brother-in-law, Charles A. Hunt, of Ashton, Ill., spent yesterday in town and vicinity, going on to Portland this morning. Both are looking for locations and investments, and will buy realty somewhere in the Northwest. From Portland they will go to the Sound, to Spokane and return to Pendleton, being much pleased with the outlook here, and admitting that they ought to spend at least a week prospecting in this county.

Mr. Hunt is a stockman and will buy somewhere in the Northwest a stock ranch. His inclination is for an improved alfalfa farm. Both these gentlemen claim that a large immigration from Iowa, Illinois and the Dakotas will head this way not later than next spring.

BEFORE JUDGE ELLIS.

Charles Hastings Bound Over for Embellishment—Indian Wants Time to Plead.

Charles Hastings, charged with embellishment, was arraigned before State Circuit Judge W. R. Ellis this morning and entered a plea of not guilty. His bail was fixed at $250.

John Waletsie, the Umatilla, who is charged with assault with a dangerous weapon, was arraigned, but was granted further time in which to plead.

Hastings is accused of having sold two horses for C. L. Cox and of pocketing a portion of the proceeds. The Indian is said to have struck H. E. Jensen, a farmer, with a rock, inflicting a painful scalp wound.

CUTTING THEIR QUEUES.

Chinamen Trying to Conform to "Melican Man's" Ways.

A very few of the Pendleton Chinamen are following the example set by so many of the members of the Chinese Reform Association in different parts of the country in the matter of cutting off their queues.

So far but six Pendleton Chinamen have parted with their queues, and several of these did this over a year ago. While the promoters of the Reform Association favor doing this in a general way, yet it cannot be said that it is championed by the Association, particularly.

The animus of the movement to wear short hair is simply to conform more nearly to the ways and appearance of the Caucasians on account of their growing commercial and political importance.

In some way the Chinamen, some of them, associate a change in personal appearance with the ability to progress commercially, and in other ways faster than the average Chinaman is liable to do while adhering to the customs and ways of the fatherland. The above is a synopsis of the situation gathered from Pendleton Chinamen, as nearly as could be understood.
