

PERSONAL MENTION

W. A. Storie is at Heppner on railroad business. Conductor Martin Anderson is improving rapidly. Willis Koster left this morning for the Palouse country. H. O. Peck, of Walla Walla, was in Pendleton last night. C. E. Redfield, the Heppner attorney, returned home this morning. Douglas Belts the prominent Pilot Rock sheepman, is at the Bickers today. Circuit Judge W. R. Ellis has gone to the mountains for a week's vacation. Postmaster G. W. Richey and wife, of La Grande, are guests at Hotel St. George today. Mrs. Joseph Schwartz, of Sumpter, is expected in the city soon to visit Mrs. Louis Moses. George N. Hughes, of Moscow, is a guest at the Bickers while in the city today on business. Cecil Wade, of the real estate firm of Wade & Son, is on a business visit to Roseland, R. C. Charles Marsh of the Hartman Abstract company, has returned from a week's vacation at Meacham. Miss Pearl Pepper has returned from her visit to La Grande, Elgin and other Grand Ronde points. John McNeerney, who has been in charge of the O. R. & N. section at Willows for several weeks, is in the city today. Misses Charity and Harriett Ankeny, of Walla Walla, who have been visiting in this city, returned home this morning. F. W. Paine, a prominent Walla Walla capitalist, passed through Pendleton this morning on his way home from Baker City. Ed Morgan, the dairyman, is getting along nicely with his attack of typhoid fever, although the turning point has not been reached. C. W. Coyle, representing the Irrigation Age, of San Francisco, was in the city yesterday in the interest of his well known publication. E. W. Rhea and wife returned to Heppner this morning. They have been visiting W. E. Brock and family. Mrs. Rhea is Mr. Brock's sister. Harry Cargill is quite ill at his home at 513 Jackson street. His condition promises an early recovery, but for several days he was dangerously ill. Charles Cockburn, of Walla Walla, is spending a few days in the city visiting friends and renewing former acquaintances as he formerly resided near here. C. A. Zacharias and family returned home today after two months residence at Freewater and Milton. They come home to be ready for the opening of school. Mrs. R. L. Oliver and daughter Grace, and son Rolla, returned this morning from an outing at Newport. There are about 3000 people still at that popular resort. J. S. Haye and family, of Spokane, will be in town tomorrow en route home from Lehman Springs. Mr. Haye was formerly in the clothing business in this place. Harry W. Huffman, of Union, is visiting in Pendleton for a few days. He says the grain crop in many foothill districts of Union county is a total failure on account of the frost. Mrs. H. T. Lemons, accompanied by her children, Nellie and Oscar, is in the city from Tacoma, visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Sheek. Mrs. Lemons will go to La Grande before returning home. I. Rev. J. W. Crompton, of La Grande, is in town last night, the guest of Rev. M. V. Howard. They will go to the Methodist church south conference together, leaving Milton for Spokane next Tuesday. Rev. Crompton's family lives in Milton where his children attend Columbia College.

DEATH OF MRS. CURTRIGHT. Resident of Gurdane, Passes Away From Her Niece's Home. Mrs. Flora E. Curtright, aged 40 years, 4 months and 23 days, died at 3 p. m. yesterday in this place, at the home of her niece, Mrs. T. P. Lund, at 317 Willow street, after an illness of but 15 days with phlegmonous erysipelas. Mrs. Curtright was nine days ago brought in from her home near Gurdane, 45 miles out, to afford her opportunity for better medical treatment, but grew steadily worse. Mrs. Curtright was born in Iowa in 1864, and came to this county about three years ago, and was married to William Curtright two years ago. Her maiden name was Lenter, and she was married when a young woman to a man named Cole, with whom she lived 12 years. At the end of that time her husband was shot to death in Dubuque, Iowa, by a Finn who is said to have been hung for the murder, although he was generally supposed to have been insane. Mrs. Cole received one bullet intended for her husband, and it was never extracted. It is said to have been embedded in the region of the spleen. The funeral is being held this afternoon from the residence of Mrs. Lund, conducted by Rev. G. L. Hall.

ENGINE WRECKED. Big Locomotive No. 305, of the O. R. & N., Turned Over in the Roundhouse Pit at Pleasant Valley. A wrecking crew under supervision of Superintendent M. J. Buckley, has been at work for three days in picking engine No. 305 out of the round house pit at Pleasant Valley, a helper station, 15 miles east of Baker City. The engine was being backed into the roundhouse, and when an attempt was made to stop her, something prevented making the stop at the right place, and the tender rolled off the end of the track, crashed through the back end of the roundhouse and pulled the monster engine over on top of it. The engine and tender weigh about 10 tons and are lying 15 feet below the level of the track, the engine lying on her side, broken loose from the tender.

ANOTHER MACHINE FIRE. Threshing Outfit at Moses Taylor's Badly Damaged. Fire yesterday afternoon in the grain field of Moses Taylor, near Weston, destroyed an automatic stacker, straw carrier, derrick table and 15 sacks of wheat. The threshing machine and several hundred sacks of wheat were saved by the quick work of the harvesting crew. The total loss will not exceed $300. Just how the fire started is a mystery, but it is thought to have been caused by friction. It was first noticed beneath the automatic stacker. The flames gained so rapidly that the separator was with difficulty dragged to a place of safety. The machine was protected by plowing furrows around it. The thrasher belonged to J. A. Baddeley. But two hours' work remained to finish the season's run and after the fire the machine was temporarily rigged up and the field was completed.

Indian Institute in Session. The Northwest Indian Teachers' Institute is now in session at Newport, many of the prominent officials of the state being present. One of the most prominent figures at the institute is Miss Estelle Reel, superintendent of Indian schools for the United States, and not a special inspector, as stated in an Associated Press news note. Miss Reel ranks third in Indian affairs in the United States, Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock and Indian Commissioner Jones, alone outranking her. She has sumptuous headquarters at the Arlington hotel, Washington, D. C., and is chief of the department of Indian schools.
