GENERAL NEWS.

Rev. Henry Bass, an English minister, gathering statistics for a book on the St. Louis fair, died suddenly at the Inside Inn, Friday.

The rebel forces are now in control of the most important positions in Paraguay, and ultimate success of the revolution seems certain.

The Novoe Vremya, a Russian paper, says the czar remitted $68,000,000 taxes due from peasants in celebration of the christening of his heir.

Although the report has been circulated that the St. Louis fair will open on Sunday, the commissioners announce that such is not the case.

Seventeen bodies have been recovered from the oil fire at Antwerp. It has been burning for three days. The city is shrouded in dense smoke, which almost suffocates.

The Victorian, the first big liner to be equipped with turbine engines, was launched at Belfast, Ireland, Friday. She will be luxuriously fitted and will carry 1500 passengers.

The total cost of the labor troubles in Colorado, so far, has been $921,239. When the bill was passed on by the grand jury, the extravagance of the military was severely criticized.

Dynamite caps were thrown on the floor of the bookmakers room at Hawthorn Park, Chicago, Friday, and the explosion that followed caused a panic in which three were seriously injured. It is thought to have been the work of robbers who hoped to rob the cash boxes during the panic.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST NEWS.

Mrs. M. E. McLaughlin, an Oregon pioneer of 1852, died at her home at Roseburg, Friday, aged 71.

The O. R. & N. steamers in the Pacific coast trade will be operated independent of the rail lines, after October 1.

No arrests for violation of the Sunday closing law have been made at Sumpter, despite the fact that 25 warrants are out.

Portland city prisoners are to be employed on the streets in cutting the rank growth of Canadian thistle that adorns many of the residence streets.

Miss Bertha Cox, of Newberg, has volunteered to teach among the Eskimos near the Arctic circle in Alaska, and will leave for her post on August 30.

T. K. Bolton, a druggist of Ashland, was fined $100, Friday, for selling whiskey without a license. It is a resumption of the old prohibition fight in Ashland.

George H. Leggett, assistant chief of the Tacoma fire department, blew off his head Friday by firing both barrels of a combination rifle and shotgun into his mouth.

The will of W. C. Noon, the wealthy Portland manufacturer, who recently died in that city, was filed Friday, the entire estate of $250,000 being bequeathed to the wife and children.

The celebration of a wedding at the Salvation Army barracks in Portland, Thursday night is said to have resembled a Chinese New Year, on account of the beating of drums and cymbals and the shouts of gladness that formed part of the ceremony.

A contracting company composed of Daniel Kern, Robert Wakefield and J. N. Teal, with a capital stock of $10,000, filed articles of incorporation, with the secretary of state Friday, and it is currently reported that this is the company which will build the portage road under contract.

Room house and one lot, $300, or will take in exchange, horses, wagons, poultry or anything of value.

LETTER FROM THE INTERIOR.

Josiah Nelson Speaks of the Country Tributary to Sumpter Valley Railroad.

Tipton, Ore., Aug. 24.—(Editor East Oregonian.)—Since leaving Pendleton for the mining country, I find that business is very dull. The town of Whitney is almost depopulated, houses torn down and moved to Tipton, etc. terminus of the Sumpter Valley road.

While in Whitney I witnessed the burning of the residence of Mr. Gillespie, a veteran freighter, formerly a citizen of Pendleton.

The town of Greenhorn is very dull, practically but two mines are operating. I find the farmers in the John Day are in the midst of haying. A bountiful crop of hay was put up in fine weather, without a drop of rain. The limbs of the fruit trees are bending low with fruit. It is indeed a fine country.

The Sumpter Valley railroad is meandering through the hills appropriating Uncle Sam's valuable timber. All the business firms have left Whitney. Miller & Draper have located in Tipton and have put up a large store.

The Canyon City stage leaves daily from Tipton, loaded down with passengers for the John Day and Burns. The dust is one foot deep in the streets of Tipton. Tipton is 5200 feet above sea level, cool nights and hot days. Respectfully,

JOSIAH NELSON.

MILLS WILL USE OIL.

Salem Woolen Mills Install Complete Oil Burning Apparatus.

Salem, Aug. 27.—The first experiment to have been made in the burning of crude oil for the purpose of generating steam or propelling power in this city is now in full swing at the plant of the Thomas Kay Woolen Mills. The fluid has been in use as a fuel under two huge boilers of 100 horse power each, since last Monday, and so far everything has worked like a charm.

If the use of crude petroleum proves a success, as a money saver over other fuels, especially wood, it is quite probable that other power and manufacturing plants, and perhaps some of the state institutions, notably the insane asylum, the officials of which institution have been figuring upon the installation of an oil burning plant, will adopt the system before another year.

Everything for the burning of oil at the woolen mills is most conveniently and safely arranged.

A huge supply tank, 12x42x6 feet in dimensions, and with a capacity of 18,000 gallons of oil, has been constructed of iron, cement and other strong and durable materials, a distance of about 100 feet from the buildings, four feet underground, thus reducing the danger from an explosion from fire or other combustible elements to a minimum.

This plant has been consuming on the average about 2000 cords of fire wood each year, at an average cost of $3.25 per cord. A barrel of crude oil, which costs but $1.10 delivered at the mill, is said to be equal to one and a third cords of wood for steam generating purposes.

Valuable Alfalfa Land.

In some places on Butter creek this year, nine tons of hay to the acre are being harvested. If you will figure this hay at $7 a ton you will find that Butter creek land is the most valuable in the state. While there is other land yielding a larger gross revenue the net results are less, for the cost of hay is estimated at $1 per ton in the stack.—Echo News.

Record Run With Header.

McCaughey Brothers have just completed a record run with a header on the A. L. McCaughey ranch. In 27 1/2 days they cut an average of 31 1/2 acres a day with a 14-foot McCormick header, and did not have to stop a minute from the time they entered the field to the time they completed the job.—Dayton Press.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 30c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. F. W. Schmidt & Co., special agent.
