DEATH OF THOMAS OGLE.

Pioneer of Umatilla County Passed Away at Athena.

Thomas Ogle died night before last at the home of his brother, B. F. Ogle, at Athena, aged about 60 years, of Bright's disease and a heart trouble, with both of which he had been afflicted for several years, and from which he had suffered severely during the past several months.

The deceased and his brother came to Umatilla county over 30 years ago. He was highly respected for all the sterling characteristics which go to make up a high type of citizenship. He had never married, but made his home with his brother. He was a veteran of the Union Army, but of which branch of the service could not be learned. B. F. Ogle, of this place, also a veteran of the Union service, attended the funeral, which was held at 2 p. m. today. The interment will be made at the Athena cemetery.

With his brother the deceased moved to Athena several years ago from Ridge, and had since made his home there. The brothers had accumulated a competence at farming and stock raising.

The funeral was conducted under the auspices of the I. O. O. F., eight of the fraternity attending from this place—John Halley, J. H. Williams, H. E. Collier, James and Leonard LeRone, J. L. Sharon and Leo Teutsch.

HORSES TO CANADA.

M. W. Briggs and James Nelson Will Make Shipment to Alberta.

M. W. Briggs, who was formerly industrial teacher at the reservation school, and James Nelson will next week start for Alberta with 19 head of fine brood mares bought for that purpose. Both will winter in Alberta, and Mr. Briggs will probably remain there, except for occasional visits into this country.

Next spring Mr. Nelson will return after a carload of brood mares of his own raising which he will also take to Alberta. Messrs. Briggs and Nelson are associated in the undertaking of raising horses in that country. The former now owns a section of land and the latter a section and a half, and they will work the places with the horses they take there, and also engage in the raising of horses on a considerable scale, the animals they are taking there not being for the market in any sense. The American horse is making an invasion of Canada that is not less striking than that of the American citizen.

SHEEP SOLD OUT

DOUGLAS BELTS DISPOSES OF ENTIRE HOLDINGS.

Over 5700 Head of Feeders Sold to Nebraska Firm—Last Lot of Mutton Consisting of 1065 Head Just Sold to Frye-Bruhn—Has Only 45 Shropshire Bucks Left—Will Buy New Stock This Fall—Believes in Quick Sales and Higher Grades.

Douglas Belts, the Pilot Rock sheepman, has sold 1065 head of mutton sheep to the Frye-Bruhn Company for immediate shipment and slaughter. The animals are at the W. & C. R. yards today ready to be loaded.

Mr. Belts has also sold to a Nebraska firm for shipment to Buffalo county for feeding, 5700 stockers. These are all ewes and lambs and will be shipped about October 1. The intention is to put them on full feeding and market them about 100 days after the first of October.

These sales are a virtual cleanup of all of Mr. Belts' sheep, as he has but 45 animals left, and they are blooded Shropshire bucks for crossing on Merino grades. Mr. Belts has agents in the interior and between the first and 10th of October will have on his ranges 2000 grade Merino ewes from the John Day country and farther in the interior, his intention being to repeat the formula he has followed for the past four years—of cleaning up and starting all over again for the development of mutton sheep exclusively.

Mr. Belts will persist in his present policy of every fall selling off the increase of his flocks for the exclusive mutton trade, and keep all good ewes for breeding until they are too old and then sell them for mutton. The stock will always be Merino grades crossed by full-blooded Shropshire bucks.

Mr. Belts considers it settled that it is more profitable in these days of restricted range, to raise an ewe that will every year outshear a yearling and then sell the increase, than to hold the young sheep over for their wool.

TO ATTEND CONFERENCE.

Rev. M. H. Marvin Tells How Pendleton Methodists Lost a Building Site.

From three weeks of roughing it in the Greenhorn mountains, beyond Granite, Rev. M. H. Marvin, formerly presiding elder of the Spokane conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, and Rev. G. W. Denison, pastor of University Park church, Portland, arrived in Pendleton last night on their way home. "We had a delightful time," said Mr. Marvin, "and saw several deer but they were too shy for us and we didn't even get a shot."

Rev. Mr. Marvin was accompanied to Portland last night by Rev. W. E. Arnfield, of Athena, and Rev. Bracken Koonz, pastor of Hilyard church at Spokane, who are on their way to attend the Columbia River conference which opens Monday at The Dalles. Mr. Marvin has been on sick leave for a year. He was pastor of the church at Walla Walla when taken ill. Since then he has been at Portland and in California. He tells an amusing story of how for a matter of $15 the Methodists of Pendleton lost the property site upon which now stands the local brewery. "The local church people," he said, "had an option on a corner lot, but there was a difference of $15 in the price they offered and the price asked and as a result they would not purchase. The brewery now stands on the spot."

"But the Methodist's hindsight is always better than his foresight. Years ago Father Wilbur secured title to 16 lots for a college on the hill near the high school. Through some negligence the taxes were left unpaid and the ownership passed into other hands."

SPOONEMORE SEEKS DIVORCE.

After 32 Years of Wedded Bliss He Craves Freedom.

Thirty-two years of married life and J. C. Spoonemore has concluded that Dan Cupid is a "frost." Action for divorce was filed by the husband yesterday afternoon in the state circuit court. The complaint states that the Spoonemores were married January 18, 1872, at Iadonora postoffice, Mo. There are seven children, three of whom are over the age of 21 years.

Spoonemore says he came to Pendleton four years ago for the purpose of bettering his business condition. His wife and family remained in Huntsville, Wash.

Repeatedly, declares the defendant, he asked his wife to come to this city to reside, but she refused and now he is asking that the bonds of wedlock be severed.

Spoonemore is engaged in the employment agency business in Court street. Peter West is his attorney.

PIONEER FREIGHTER HERE.

O. W. Hartness, Formerly of Pendleton, Now of Elmira, Visiting in the City.

O. W. Hartness, whose home is now near Elmira, in the Great Bend country, Lincoln county, Wash., is in town the guest of his sister, Mrs. John Knight, and of James Crawford. With Mr. Crawford he crossed the plains overland during the summer of 1864, arriving at Pendleton the 7th of the next September. They came from Iowa, though Mr. Hartness is a native of Indiana.

For over 20 years Mr. Hartness freighted and farmed on the old trails leading to and from Pendleton in every direction, and also engaged in stock raising. For some years he lived on a farm near Milton, and afterward went to Walla Walla and engaged in business, moving to the Great Bend country from there.

Mr. Hartness' wife, with whom he had lived nearly 50 years, died the 23 day of last July from a heart trouble. She had been an invalid 22 years, and was 66 years of age at the time of her death.

TRAVEL FOR ACADEMY.

Messrs. Gibbon, Bleakney and Diven Working for the institution.

Prof. Albert Gibbon, who will teach in the Pendleton Academy the ensuing year, will put in most of his time until the opening on September 19, traveling in Baker county and the Powder river country in the interests of the institution, coming to Pendleton about a week before the opening.

Messrs. Bleakney and Diven will start on a tour which will include Pilot Rock, the Ridge and McKay country and back to Meacham, also in the interests of the coming year's enrollment at the Academy. They will be out a week.

After returning from the last mentioned trip Messrs. Bleakney and Diven, or at least the former, will spend some time in the northern part of the county on the same mission, after which trip Mr. Bleakney may put in a week in Morrow county.

SOLD 7000 SHEEP.

Ed Campbell Has Left Six Hundred Head of Ewes.

Garrison & Reynolds have bought for shipment to Kearney, Neb., about October 1, 7000 sheep of Ed Campbell, of Butter creek, a portion of the sheep being his individual property, and others the property of himself and brothers. All are mutton sheep and feeders. This sale leaves Mr. Campbell owning but 600 animals, all of which are said to be young breeding ewes, well bred and in fine condition, reserved for breeding to blooded bucks. Just what breed of bucks Mr. Campbell will make a specialty of could not be learned.

Looking for Stock.

M. T. Esterhazy, of Coldwater, Kan., will engage in stockraising in Umatilla county should he find ranch lands suitable for cattle within the next few weeks. Mr. Esterhazy is making a thorough canvass of the Northwest, and has been all over the Southwest. The climate in the latter regions he detests, and the Sound and Valley are altogether too damp to suit him. Unless he finds what he wants in the Inland Empire he will return to Kansas. He has raised cattle in Kansas and Oklahoma for the past 20 years.

Gone to Conference.

Rev. M. V. Howard left this morning for Spokane, to attend the Methodist Church, South conference. He will be joined further up the road by Rev. J. H. Gibbs, prof. W. C. Howard, Rev. J. S. Shangle, the presiding elder and Rev. J. W. Compton, also destined for the Spokane conference. During the conference the new church near Corbin Park, Spokane, will be dedicated. It cost $7000. Mr. Howard, and probably the remainder of the party will return next Wednesday.

Dogs Killed a Porcupine.

There is an "epidemic" of porcupines around town. About a dozen have been killed within the past three weeks. The last one heard from was in T. F. Howard's back yard last Saturday night, and now Howard has gone into mourning for his two terriers, which were plucky but inexperienced, and tackled the animal. Both dogs are entirely out of commission now, with their mouths full of the torturing spines which are the only defense the porcupine has.

Begun Remodeling.

The remodeling of the front and interior of the building occupied by the Schmidt Drug Company, Winslow the jeweler, and Hanlon, the tobacconist, began today. LaDow has the contract, which includes new flooring and a general rearrangement of partitions.

No Objections to Assessment.

The board of equalization passed an uneventful day. No one appeared before the body. With the exception of one person mentioned yesterday, no objections have been raised regarding any assessment.

W. & C. R. Buildings Burn.

Fire has destroyed the tool house, roundhouse and pump house belonging to the W. & C. R. at Hunt's Junction. All the buildings are a total loss and the damage will be $3500.

To Construct Sample Road.

If plans of the promoters carry, the sample two miles of macadam road at Walla Walla will be built during the month of October.

Expert Collectors

We have located a branch office in Pendleton, and will make collecting defunct bills a specialty. No account too old for us to handle.
