FORSAKES PULPIT

FORMER MINISTER NOW PROMINENT SHTEPMAN.

A. H. Sunderman Tells Why He Quit Preaching—Has Not Given Up the Ministry, But Will Preach Again When He Has Provided Well for His Family—Sees the Need of Religion Now More Than Ever Before.

There have been many instances of qualified and duly accredited ministers of orthodox churches abandoning the pulpit for business, but the number who frankly give all their reasons therefor as does one, a resident of Pendleton, is extremely small. The fact being called to the attention of an East Oregonian reporter that A. H. Sunderman, the well known sheep raiser of Umatilla county, was formerly a Christian minister, the former importuned Mr. Sunderman to give his reasons for abandoning the ministry for the more financially profitable calling.

"In the first place," said Mr. Sunderman, "while I am not engaged in the active ministry, I have not, by any means, abandoned it. I am simply out of the ministry for the time being, with the one purpose in view of accumulating a decent competence for my family and for the latter part of my own life, before re-entering it." Piled with questions upon other phases of the very interesting subject thus opened, Mr. Sunderman continued:

"When I married I took upon myself the same responsibilities, affirmed by the same solemn obligations, toward my wife, as other young men more fortunately situated in relation to temporal affairs, and I soon found that it was a hopeless struggle to attempt to secure a competence and continue in the ministry, although I was getting from $600 to $700 per year.

"So, in order to save myself from the necessity of going on the superannuated list in my old age, and of my family sooner or later being objects of church charity, I resolved to devote the years of my middle life principally to business, and attempt to improve some of the almost boundless opportunities for 'getting ahead' in the temporal sense.

"As I said, I have not abandoned the ministry. The work of the Master as defined by the ministerial lines is as dear to me as ever, and the need of more thorough work has deepened upon me since I have come in contact with that side of life in business that was turned from me when I was a minister only, and I intend to re-enter it when I am no longer dependent upon collections and donations from people many of whom can ill afford to divert a penny even from the ordinary demands of every-day life.

"It is that phase of the ministerial life that is exceedingly distasteful to me, and I made up my mind before I entered upon a business life not to re-enter it until as a minister my coming and going and the needs of my family did not impose a burden upon the poor who are professing Christians and want to have the gospel preached to them, but do not have the wherewithal to contribute to the support of the church as they wish.

"While I believe in the coming of the millennium, yet the minister who preaches for a large purse will never be a factor in bringing the event about. Self and the dollar must remain unknown quantities. The successful minister of today must stand on the same level financially as the moving factors of his congregation. Let him so preach as to win members to the church, and not dollars to his purse."

Notice to Contractors. Sealed bids will be received at the office of the undersigned, until Friday at 9 a. m., September 2, for the erection and completion of three brick school houses above foundation, to be built in Pendleton, Oregon. All bids must be made on blanks furnished by the architect. A certified check of $500, made payable to John Hailey, Jr., clerk of school board, must accompany each bid, to be forfeited to the board in case the successful bidder failed to enter into bonds within five days after he had been awarded the contract. The board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the architect, room 12, Judd building, Pendleton, Or.

Cloudburst at Sweetwater.

Lewiston, Sept. 1.—The town of Sweetwater narrowly escaped destruction yesterday afternoon by a cloudburst on the bluffs overlooking the town. The water came down a small canyon in the center of town and for several minutes all of the buildings were threatened. The Alexander & Co. grain warehouse is filled with mud and gravel to a depth of six inches, and the lower tier of sacks of grain has been badly damaged by the water. The storm commenced in the afternoon about 4 o'clock and in a few minutes the waters were rushing down the canyon in a solid wall six feet high.
