HOW KID M'COY BEGAN.

Pugilist Entered the Arena as a Scrapping Newsboy.

Fighting for his corner among a hundred other newsboys in the streets of Brooklyn was young Kid McCoy's initiation into the fistie arena.

Of the gang of boys with whom the Kid, whose name, by the way, is not McCoy, but McIntyre, associated when he sold papers and fought his way, was Terry McGovern and several others who have since gained renown as clever pugilists.

"I ran away from home," said McIntyre, "when I was nine years old and was obliged to make my living selling papers. I received a great many hard knocks, for a new kid had to scrap every boy in the alley before he had any standing in the community. I managed to make myself right with the bunch."

McCoy weighs less than 130 pounds and he looks small until he takes off his coat and displays the yard and more of chest circumference. The Kid and Jack Mitchell, who are to fight next Friday night at the Armory, are in daily training.

WILL BE A HUMMER.

Every Indication of an Excellent Year Ahead for Business.

"This fall is going to be a hummer," said one of the business men to a representative of the East Oregonian. The farmers have immense crops of grain at a splendid price, the cattle feeders look to a profitable year, the alfalfa farmers have had big crops, wool went at a surprisingly high figure. Take it all around there will be lots of money spent this fall.

As an evidence that this is so, on Saturday afternoon at half past two o'clock, in one block between Lee Tenth's store and Brock & McCann's store there were 175 persons on the sidewalk. This does not include the persons in wagons at the curb, nor does it include the people in the stores. Of this number at least

IRRIGATORS MEET

OREGON ASSOCIATION AT ONTARIO THIS MONTH.

Prominent Officials and Speakers Promise to Be in Attendance—All Those Having Power to Appoint Should Appoint Full Quota From Those Who Will Promise to Attend—Appointment of Delegates.

Umatilla county will be fully represented at the third annual meeting of the Oregon Irrigation Association, which meets at Ontario, Malheur county, on September 19, 20 and 21. The people of Malheur county have prepared a treat for the meeting, and it promises to be one of the most profitable meetings yet held. C. C. Hunt, of Ontario, is assistant secretary of the association and is busy now with the details of the program, which will be extensive.

Among the prominent people expected to be present are Governor Chamberlain, Senator Fulton, Congressman Williamson, possibly F. H. Sewell, chief of the reclamation bureau, and many interested irrigators from all sections of Oregon and several from Idaho.

All those having the power to appoint delegates are urgently requested to appoint the full number, from people who will promise to attend, as it is the desire of the association to have every delegate present.

The basis of representation in the annual convention of the association shall be as follows:

Delegates to be named by the governor, 20; mayors of each incorporated city, two delegates and one for each 25,000 people or major fraction thereof; boards of county commissioners, two delegates; commercial organizations, two delegates and one for each 50 members; irrigation companies, two delegates; state university, two delegates; state agricultural college, two delegates; state experimental college, two delegates; state normal school, two delegates; county irrigation associations, two delegates and one for every 50 members; all delegates from Oregon to National Irrigation Congress.

The following shall be entitled to seats as delegates by virtue of their respective offices:

The governor, the secretary and treasurer of the state of Oregon.

Members of the legislative assembly of the state of Oregon.

The members of the state board of horticulture.

The state biologist.

The state fish commissioner.

The state dairy and food commissioner.

The state land board.

The state veterinarian.

The state game and fish warden.

The mayors of incorporated cities.

The United States senators and representatives in congress of the state of Oregon.

County judges.

County commissioners.

County surveyors, city engineers and surveyors of incorporated cities.

All members of the National Irrigation Association from Oregon.

PETE GRANT APPOINTED.

Former Division Roadmaster of the O. R. & N. on the Mountain Division, Returns to the Position.

Pete Grant, formerly division roadmaster on the mountain division of the O. R. & N., extending from Bingham Springs to Huntington, who resigned about six months ago, to go into business, has just been appointed to the position again.

Mr. Grant was division roadmaster of that division for about four years and was an efficient and well liked official and his return will be appreciated by a host of friends in Pendleton and La Grande. Since his resignation he has been in business at Washouka, Wash., which he will leave in charge of a partner, for the present. His headquarters will be in La Grande.

WENT FISHING WITH A SHOTGUN

Seventy Pendleton People in One Mountain Camp.

Charles French, the assistant postmaster, tells a fish story that is a little out of the ordinary.

While out for birds on a tributary of the McKay he noticed a pool which in winter time is quite a pool at the base of a waterfall. The stream had dried up and left small pool of clear, cold water. In getting a drink he noticed several trout. The next day he with several friends took their guns to get a few birds and took some fishing tackle along to see if they could catch some of the trout he had seen in the pool. After trying in vain with flies, they found an old pall and baited out 23 fine trout ranging in length from 7 to 11 inches. They came back to camp with the string of fish as a trophy of their shotgun.

At the camp where Mr. French spent his vacation there were 70 people, mostly from Pendleton. There were three preachers in the number—Rev. Van Nuys, Rev. Cornelison and Rev. Rigby, so they had preaching each Sunday. The city of tents was three miles from Meacham.

JOYS OF A CONDUCTOR.

Curious Cases of Ignorance of Geography and Distances Seen Among Passengers.

One of the curious cases of ignorance of distance and geography came to the notice of Conductor Burns, of the Portland-Pendleton passenger run, on the O. R. & N. last Saturday night.

A passenger got on No. 6, the main line east-bound at Umatilla, with a ticket to Grant's, a station 75 miles west of Umatilla, in exactly the opposite direction from which the passenger was traveling on the east-bound train.

Conductor Burns found that the man had left passenger train No. 3 at Umatilla, the very train that would have carried him to Grant's, and in his ignorance of directions had taken a train that was carrying him away from his destination about 30 miles an hour.

The man had bought a ticket from Colfax to Grant's and had taken No. 3, the Spokane-Portland train, which would have set him down at the town of Grant's had he remained on that train.

Instead, however, the passenger left the train at Umatilla, boarded No. 6 coming to Pendleton, was put off at Echo to wait for No. 1, at 10 o'clock going west, and arrived at Grant's, it is supposed, about 15 hours after he should have been there, after an exciting experience in changing cars and studying direction and geography, from an O. R. & N. folder.

TO ST. LOUIS FAIR.

Clark Wood and J. T. Hinkle and Family Left This Morning.

Clark Wood, editor of the Western Leader, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hinkle departed this morning for St. Louis to visit the St. Louis fair. Mr. Wood will visit relatives in Minnesota before returning to Western. Mr. Hinkle is a delegate to the grand lodge of the Fraternal Order of Eagles that meets in Baltimore.

Mayor E. A. Barnes of Weston had appointed George Carmichael and Mr. Wood as delegates to the state annual meeting of the State Irrigation Association that meets at Ontario September 19, 20 and 21. "It is a most worthy fact," remarked Mr. Wood, "overlooking an opportunity to take a fling at the editor of the Atlanta Press, that Colonel Fred Burn has not been so honored."

TO VISIT MEXICO.

N. A. Davis, of Bank of Milton, Takes an Outing in Southland.

After 15 years close application to business, N. A. Davis, cashier of the Bank of Milton, leaves in the morning for a four weeks' outing in Old Mexico. He will be accompanied by Gus A. Nichols, of Union, who goes to look over the country with a view to investing. Mr. Nichols has just sold 1180 acres of farming land six miles west of Union to the La Grande beet sugar factory people for $54,000, and may decide to locate in Mexico permanently.

Mr. Davis will go as far south as the City of Mexico, 1200 miles south of El Paso, Texas, and goes for an outing and sight seeing trip, exclusively.

Marshal Carney Returns.

City Marshal M. J. Carney returned Saturday night from a two weeks' outing in the mountains. He spent a week at Meacham and a week on McKay creek. "I got plenty of birds," said the chief, "as he stroked the mustache that he has been sprouting since he took to the woods. 'I didn't see any big game, but I am perfectly satisfied with my vacation.'"

W. L. Shiverick Returns.

William L. Shiverick, manager of the shoe department of the Peoples' Warehouse, returned this morning from an extended trip east. Mr. Shiverick went to New York and Chicago with Leon Cohen and Mrs. Clarke for the purpose of purchasing goods for the fall and winter trade.

Bitten by a Dog.

Floyd Marsh, the 5-year-old son of D. K. Marsh, was bitten by a dog quite severely last night. He was riding up Main street on his bicycle and when opposite the Bowman building the dog ran out and grabbed him by the leg.

Pendleton Team Defeated.

The Pendleton baseball team was defeated at La Grande yesterday by a score of 8 to 3. The victors made all their runs in the first inning, the local nine shutting them out during the rest of the game.

The fall of the Paraguayan government is daily expected as the rebels are in control.
