MAY DAY FESTIVALS.

They Were Celebrated In the Time of the Ancient Romans,

For ages May day has been a time of general rejoicing. All over Christen-dom its advent is halled with delight. The birds, the bees and the flowers join us in an annual celebration of the day. Nature has at last thrown off the snow quilt with which she has braved the ravages of winter and glows reeplendent in buds and blossoms. The streams have broken their ley fetters and burst forth into joyous accompaniments to myriads of bird choristers. And humanity, overpowered by the same glad spirit, seeks the woods and the fields to revel in the wealth of verdure so invishly spread out,

Among the Romans this feeling found went in their Floralia, or florea games, which began on the 28th of April and lasted several days. We read that "nations taking more or less their orlgin from Rome have settled upon the 1st of May as the special time for fetes of the same kind. With ancients and moderns allke it was an instinctive rush into the fields to revel in the bloom which was newly presented on the meadows and the trees."

The barbarous Celtic populations held a heathen festival on this day, but we are not told that it was in any way connected with flowers. It was called Beltein and was celebrated by kindling fires on the hillrops at night. Within the remembrance of many the peasant ry of Ireland, the lale of Man and of the Scottish highlands also held similar celebrations -- Table Talk

THE DIAMOND.

It Was Probably In Its Original State a Vegetable Product.

Originally the diamond was probably a vegetable product exuded from some ancient tree. Positive evidence on the subject is not forthcoming, but the concurrence of such authorities as Newton. Brewster, Jameson and Lavoisier. who trace it to a vegetable source. must, in the absence of decisive negative proof, make this hypothesis probable.

WWWWWWWWWW The crystalline form of the diamond is undoubtedly due to the action of heat, and the occurrence of these stones in igneous rocks and mich slate, especially at the Cape, lends color to the view that they have been metamorphosed, as has been the case with phosed, as has been the case with graphite. This complete change may have been directly or indirectly due to the inter-nal heat of the globe or may have re-sulted from volcanic action. Indirect-ly it would be accounted for by the im-mense heat evolved in the crumbling fracturing and grinding together of the earth's crust in the attempt to adjust fiscif to the cooling and contracting in-terior. Directly it may have been the result of a change in the direction of the internal heat, causing a fusion of the rocks of the crust the diamond and other grystals being formed when they again evoled.
