PENDLETON FLOUR IN BRISK DEMAND

CUSTOM MILLS RUNNING AT FULL CAPACITY.

Fred Walters Finds Flour Trade is Becoming Greater Than the Supply—Many Carloads Each Week Go to Portland Markets, and Mining and Local Trade Increases.

For the past six weeks the Walters' Custom flouring mills have been running to their full capacity of 100 barrels per day, and now Mr. Walters is confronted with a possibility of not being able to supply the orders that are coming in upon him from wholesalers on the coast and from the mining districts and the interior and local trade. For some time he has sent at intervals of one, two or three days, from one to three carloads of flour—50,000 pounds to the carload, or 250 barrels—to the Portland market.

Of course, an output of 100 barrels per day cannot meet such a demand for long which has resulted in the rapid depletion of an immense reserve stock put up during the past spring and summer to meet just such an emergency.

The Portland wholesalers have such favor for the Walters' flour that they are now ordering in extra large figures, the result of an attempt on their part to build up a trade in the Tacoma and Chehalis country, heretofore supplied in the main from the Malaise country, or failing that district to meet all the demand, from the Minnesota flouring districts.

The unfortunate phase of the situation with Mr. Walters is that the present capacity of the mills is not sufficient to meet this increased demand and at the same time supply the trade built up in years past both in and in the valley and in the interior and in the mining districts in the westward.

Mr. Walters states that the present season will at least equal in output for his mills that of the very best year heretofore since he went into the milling business here in 1892. He has indicated to greatly increase the capacity of his plant, but may yet be forced to do so, or deliberately turn away orders for thousands of barrels which would go to supply a permanent demand.

Another feature of this case is that the rapidly increasing population of the Northwest must be fed, and naturally from the output of Northwest mills. If one set of mills does not furnish this flour another will, and the inevitable result will be to sooner or later build up such milling establishments in Eastern Washington and Oregon as are found in Minnesota.

The wheat producing capacity of this region, justifies this, or at least will soon, and if local institutions, here on the ground floor, do not provide for this natural expansion, outside capital will.

INDIAN SCHOOLS OPEN.

Attendance on the Reservation is Very Light Owing to the Absence of so Many Families.

Charles M. Robinson, chief clerk on the Umatilla reservation, was in the city today on business, and reports the attendance at the opening of the reservation school as being very light, owing to the absence of so many families from the reservation just at this time.

Many of the Umatillas are at Yakima, many more at Wadsway, salmon fishing, some of them picking hops, some of them working in the Grand Ronde beet fields, and so the population of the reservation is materially reduced.

When the Indians return home, every child will be immediately sent to school, as Mr. Robinson says the Indians are becoming more and more interested in the school and enforce attendance without effort on part of the government officials.

Mr. Robinson called attention to the fact that the month of September being the usual month of beginning schools throughout the country, was taken by the government as a sort of basis by which to judge the importance of Indian schools. This is highly detrimental to the Umatilla reservation school, as most of the Indians are busy through September and the children do not begin school until about October 1.

RUSSIAN THISTLE PEST.

Louis Muller Says It Is Spreading All Over the Wheat Belt in the Vicinity of Helix.

Louis Muller, one of the prominent and prosperous farmers of the Helix neighborhood, says the Russian thistle pest is spreading rapidly all over that vicinity and that unless road supervisors and farmers combine to suppress it, it will become injurious to crops in that part of the county.

An effort is being made by the road supervisors to compel a few of the farmers to kill it out of their fields, but Mr. Muller says it is found all over the country, and unless everybody kills it off, it is a waste of time and energy for one man to do it.

YOUR HAT

May Be a Stylish One, But It Makes Trouble.

A man usually buys a hat that's "in style," but the modern hat for men has lots to answer for.

Baldheads are growing more numerous every day. Hats make excellent breeding places for the parasitic germs which sap the life from the roots of the hair.

When your hair begins to fall out and your scalp is full of Dandruff it is a sure sign that these countless germs are busy at work.

There is but one way to overcome the trouble and kill the germs—that way is to apply Newbro's Herpicide to the scalp—it will kill the germs and healthy hair is sure to result.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
