REVIVE FRUIT FAIR

WALLA WALLANS LOVE THE OLDEN PICNIC.

County Fair and Race Meeting Supplanted the Fruit Fair This Year. But Next Year Nothing Can Prevent the Old Style Fair. Thinks Robert Burns of the O. R. & N.—Volume of Business at Walla Walla Greater Than Ever Before.

There is to be no fruit fair, the old-time popular annual carnival at Walla Walla this fall, but instead, the county fair and race meet will take its place. "Next year," remarked Robert Burns, general agent for the O. R. & N. Co. in the Garden City, "I believe the fruit fair will be revived. The race meet and county fair will be responsible. The people take to the fruit fair, for it fills a place that racing and fat stock shows cannot. Neither interferes with the other."

"Fruit fairs have ever been popular institutions. The people look forward to the fruit fair as the time of year when they can be together. The cost of attending is not great and the music heard is always of the best."

"Last year the attendance at the fair was larger than ever before, although people predicted that the affair would be a failure. The race meeting that followed was a success and the attendance was not diminished by reason of the other show. The persons who attend the two, as a rule, are of different classes."

Mr. Burns, speaking of the volume of business in Walla Walla county this summer, declared that the shipments of the produce houses was larger than ever before. "I do not know," he said, "just how much grain and fruit has been sent out of Walla Walla this season, but the increase has been enormous over last year."

"Some idea may be gained of the volume of the fruit industry, when it is known that at the Malack ranch there are 200 acres of fruit trees. Last spring H. McArthur, the manager of the farm, set out 15,000 new trees. The care of fruit that leave this ranch would make several pretty heavy trains."

Less grain will move east, Mr. Burns says, if the export and domestic prices come together. "There has been more Northwest wheat shipped East this season than ever before," he said, "but let the prices be equalized and the cereal will start across the water to the westward."

GOOD SALE FOR HORSES.

Eastern Oregon Stock is in Demand in the Central Farming Districts. C. E. Prescott, a prominent horseman of Union county, has just returned from disposing of his fair lot of work and saddle horses in the Central states, within the last three months.

One lot was sold in Denver, and the last two in Nebraska, one at McCook and one at Hastings.

The horses handled were from 1100 to 1200 pounds, broke horses for medium farm use, and sold for from $30 to $90 per head. They cost not more than $50 per head in Union county. Mr. Prescott says the Central states are not producing many horses, the land being too valuable for corn and grain, to keep stock upon, and consequently the supply must come from the West where the outside ranges still maintain herds at a minimum expense.

"For Her Sake."

The wide range of society covered by the plot of the new Russo-Siberian play, "For Her Sake," which is to be seen at the Frazer Thursday, September 29, ought to furnish exceptional opportunity for scenic effect, and it is said that the company who produced the piece did not fail to profit by their chance. The company, it is stated, carries a carload of special scenery, all of which was painted by artists who made a study of the scenery which it was aimed to reproduce. The piece is in four acts. The last act depicts the sulphur mines in Kara, Siberia, with the accompaniment of some thrilling dramatic action. The company is an exceptionally large one, even for the spectacular sort of play which "For Her Sake" is one of the notable examples.

Wants to Raise Goats.

George Wise left this morning for Roseburg, after a visit of three weeks in Pendleton and with his brother, who lives between Juniper and Umatilla. Mr. Wise is an expert in the handling of Angora goats, and claims to have been employed, when a boy, upon a ranch in Mitchell county, Kas., upon which was kept the first Angora goats ever brought to Kansas. His intention is to go into the business of goat raising in the western part of the state.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. "GEORGIA DAY."

Memorial Affair at St. Louis is a Great Event.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 28.—Georgia Day will live in the history of the Louisiana Purchase exposition. The crowds were large, the music well selected, and the men assigned to the oratorical efforts the most famed in the state. Hon. Clem E. Dunbar of Augusta, was the leading orator of the day, but there were Governor Terrell and a number of other speakers of prominence.

The exercises of the day began with a parade to the Georgia building, where the visitors were welcomed in an address by President Francis. Governor Terrell responded and Commissioner Hugh V. Washington of Macon, in a brief address, formally turned over the Georgia building to the state officials. Open house was kept throughout the day and hundreds of visitors were received by Governor Terrell and other prominent representatives of the state.

Are You in the Rush and Bustle?

While we join in the rush and bustle of this busy world, overtaxing our energies and racking our systems, many of us are morally culpable of reckless disregard of bodily strength and fitness. Then perhaps the health breaks down, and we seem doomed to long periods of pain and depression. Our whole life is darkened.
