

KING IS CHAMPION

YOUNG KID MCCOY PUT OUT IN FOURTH ROUND.

Fast and Furious Foot Work Were the Features of the First Two Rounds—Looked Like McCoy's Fight for a Time—King Saved His Strength for the Knock-out Blow, Which He Landed With Nice Precision, His Opponent Dropping to the Floor Like Several Thousand Brick.

Andy King last night successfully defended his title of featherweight champion of the northwest. With a long swing from his deadly right he laid out Young Kid McCoy, the Brooklyn lad, in the fourth round, and walked smiling from the ring without a scratch.

McCoy declares he wants another go at the victor and arrangements have been made for a fight at Walla Walla within three weeks, the winner to take all the gate receipts and the side money.

It was clear that McCoy was a little nervous when he first entered the ring but this gradually wore off and both men were doing clever work at the end of the first round. The Kid avoided King for a time, and did some clever foot work in keeping out of reach of the crafty Andy.

King fights in a crouching position awaiting an opening for his right jab, while the Kid plays high and brings in his left punches. Both men avoided several wicked blows before the final round. Twice King landed on McCoy with straight body punches and the Kid retaliated by a left swing to the face.

As a boxer, McCoy is the cleverer man, but in the art of ring maneuvering and battling for knockout decisions, Bantam Andy's work would do credit to a Japanese general.

At almost the same spot in the ring where a minute before the Kid had forced him into the ropes, Andy herded his man. There was an ineffectual exchange of blows; King seemed to crouch more and more. Suddenly his right shot out and upward. There was no chance for foot work this time and the glove of the champion collided with the left jaw of his opponent with the force of a battering ram. The Kid did not fall. He sank to the floor in a huddle heap. There was no need for the referee to count 10 seconds. It was 15 minutes before McCoy opened his eyes.

After he recovered from the effects of the terrible blow, and realized that he had lost, the Kid broke down and wept. "It looked so easy," he said. "I had felt King's left and knew that I had nothing to fear from it. I thought I could avoid that right. It has put more than one good man out. But I believe I can whip him, and I'm going to try it again."

Sam Roberts refereed the contest. A. G. Klammer and Jack Mitchell were in the Kid's corner, H. Perrin, of Walla Walla, and Barney Mullen were behind King. McCoy will soon go on the vaudeville stage.

PURE DRUGS

It is easy to say "pure drugs." So easy that many druggists say so from force of habit. The reality requires more than mere "say so." It requires knowledge, experience, constant and conscientious vigilance.

We say we have pure drugs because we have. We spent time and money to make sure of the fact.

There are no better drugs to be had than we provide. There are no pure drugs that can be had for lower prices than ours.

Ralph Ward, of the stock of goods that have lain at 615 Main street since the latter went out of business. The price paid by the Hobachs was $600, and they will conduct exactly the same line of business, making of it a branch of their Court street business. They took possession yesterday afternoon, reopening the place in the evening.

Visit From Prof. Anderson.

Professor L. E. Anderson, who teaches Greek in Whitman College, was the guest yesterday of Professor Bleakney. A large part of their time was spent in conference over the teaching of the languages in college—comparing methods and advising. Prof. Anderson was on his way from St. Louis where he has been attending the National Teachers' Association, of which he is a member.

Entertaining Lecturer.

Prof. Foster Stone will lecture tonight at the Methodist church on Thompson street, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Baptist church, and tomorrow evening at the Christian church. Mr. Stone is one of the most forceful, original and all-round able advocates of temperance in the United States. No matter what his auditors believe, or do not believe, they are always highly entertained by him.

Miss Whittemore to Summerville.

Pendleton Academy has again been honored and a Pendleton lady's talent recognized in the selection of Miss Nellie Whittemore to be principal of the Summerville schools. She will have general oversight of the entire system, besides being teacher of the branches taught during the first years of the high school course.

Organization Postponed.

Because there was a glove contest on, the attendance at the meeting of the Citizens' League last night, was lightly attended and permanent organization was indefinitely postponed. Last night was the date set for the regular organization of the association and the selection of permanent officers.

Will Cut Out Sheep.

A. H. Sunderman went out to Starkey Prairie this morning, where he will cut out his sheep. There are among the animals the 800 head he sold to Howard, those he did not sell and quite a number of sheep belonging to his neighbors.

Matlock Building Completed.

Boothby & Hale are this forenoon putting the very last touches to the Matlock building, and when the whistle blows this afternoon the structure will be completed in the final particulars. Mr. Hale is putting on locks and adjusting a few windows.

Good Grouse Hunting.

H. J. Stillman, George Hayes, T. H. White and T. W. Ayers spent yesterday at Emigrant springs and on Huron Ridge, grouse hunting. They put in a successful day, but the best sport was on Huron Ridge.

Owens-Wallan.

Miss Lillian Owens and Frank Wilan, both of Adams, were married at the M. E. parsonage, Rev. Robert Warner officiating, and have gone to Ellensburg, Wash., where they will reside permanently.

Quarantine Lifted.

The scarlet fever quarantine was lifted from the Kunkel residence this morning. The entire family had been confined to the premises for over a week. The afflicted one was the young son, Louie.

In the Dairy Business Again.

R. E. Woody will again engage in the dairy business adjacent to town, probably at the old location at the west end of Webb street.

Lewis and Clark Edition.

The Evening Telegram's Lewis and Clark edition was replete with valuable Oregon statistics.

Tonka, the usual cheat for vanilla, costs one or two cents for a certain amount; Schilling's Best vanilla a dollar.

One is strong; the other is fine. One is rank; the other is delicate. Nevertheless four-fifths of "vanilla" is tonka. The 98 cents accounts for it.

MAMMOTH STORE OPENED TODAY

NEW PEOPLES' WAREHOUSE IS BEING DEDICATED.

Over 20,000 Feet of Floor Space Now Occupied by the Enterprising Firm—Orchestral Music Will Be Furnished This Afternoon and Evening—Excellent Display of the Various Departments—Elegant Offices Provided—Grocery Department Is Added.

Amid a beautiful and animated scene the Peoples Warehouse today formally celebrated the opening to the public of its magnificent new place of business.

The new store, for such it might truly be called, as there is but little left to remind one of the former place of business, is certainly a credit to Oregon and is the largest and most beautiful store in the state outside of Portland.

The Peoples Warehouse now occupies a floor surface of 20,050 square feet as against 4500 feet in the former building, and utilizes the two floors of the main building, the additional building to the south, the balconies and a splendid basement.

The picture that presents itself to the vast crowd that is today participating in the celebration, is one of merriment, pleasure, business and music. The sweet strains of the orchestra greet the ear as the visitors enter and they are escorted through the various departments. The large building is a complete ladies' store, while the new building is the gentlemen's store.

On entering the ladies' store to the left is the ladies' general furnishing department, where are shown millinery, furs, coats, suits, fancy waists and sweaters all gracefully arranged on hangers and in artistic new polished oak glass cases.

In the rear of this division is the wrappery and children's dresses. On the right of the entrance is the fancy goods, notions and ladies' haberdashery, on the left of the aisle, while on the right is the ladies' and children's shoes, following the fancy goods is the art department, wherein is shown stamped linens, laces, pillow covers, silk flosses, etc., and next is the ladies' and children's hosiery and underwear.

To the right of the aisle beyond the large arch leading to the men's department is one of the most important divisions, that of the silks, velvets and dress goods, and next is the domestics, table linens, etc., and also the flannels.

Across the rear of the large room is the grocery, wherein is found a complete stock of staple and fancy groceries and also cigars.

In the balcony to the right of the stairs is the glassware and chinaware section, with the Butterick patterns and the cashier's and wrapping department. On the left of the balcony is the alteration room for the ladies' ready-to-wear department, wherein are sewing machines operated by water power, work tables and a fitting room.

On the second floor is the departments of sewing machines, trunks, valises, suit cases, etc., blankets and comforters, couch covers, etc., and also the reserve sections for the dry goods and clothing departments.

In the rear and to the right of this floor is arranged a ladies' comfort and reception room wherein are closets, wash stands and comfortable places for rest.

The main office is in the front and to the right of the second floor.

The men's department, which occupies the new room to the right of the old store is complete throughout and splendidly arranged. On the left of the main door is the men's and boys' shoes, and the hat sections, while on the right is the gents' furnishings, shirts, underwear, etc. In the center is the men's clothing, while in the rear is the boys' and children's clothing, suits, etc., and in the balcony is the men's and boys' overalls, jumpers, etc.

Great skill has been displayed in the arranging of the enlarged and remodeled Peoples Warehouse, and complimentary remarks came from all the callers and the institution was a surprise and revelation to many who could hardly realize that Pendleton had such a complete and magnificent store.

TEACHERS IN DEMAND.

Graduates of Pendleton Academy Needed in Public Schools.

Prof. Bleakney, president of Pendleton academy, is almost daily in receipt of requests to recommend graduates of Pendleton academy for teachers in the public school of this and adjoining this and neighboring counties.

No higher compliment could come from any source than this evident demand in the concrete class—not so much for graduates of the academy, perhaps, as for the academy itself.

This is the evidence that it is in the public eye—that it ranks with the people at large as well as a public benefit, and an institution that belong in the highest sense, to modern Eastern Oregon.

ACADEMY FOOTBALL.

Complete Team Will Be Organized Next Monday and Officers Chosen.

Preliminaries are going for the organization of a football team from the students of Pendleton Academy, and a good strong team will undoubtedly be the result. Next Monday afternoon, at the academy assembly room, the organization will be completed, by the election of a manager and to take definite steps toward the selection of a coach.

The reason the academy students are late in the season with the organization is because the heaviest men and among the most skillful players are in the country yet. Most of these men are expected to arrive in town today or tomorrow, certainly not later than Monday, and with the known available timber on hand, it is certain that the academy will have one of the strongest amateur teams in the Northwest.

Ten Heirs to One Farm.

Christopher Mueller of Sumner, Iowa, arrived yesterday for the purpose of adjusting the affairs of the estate of his brother, Charles, who died of pneumonia last November, at St. Anthony's hospital. While here he is the guest of his brother, Lewis Mueller of Helix. Charles Mueller left 220 acres of excellent land near Helix. He was a bachelor, and the estate is heired in equal proportions by ten brothers and sisters who survive him. All but Lewis live in Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota and Nebraska.

Will Visit in Klickitat.

Matt Deinel and wife and Mrs. Charles Pell, all of Adams, left on the morning westbound train for Klickitat county, Washington, on a visit. Mr. Deinel this year raised 200 acres of wheat which yielded 39 bushels to the acre, and every bushel was of the best quality. He realized 70 cents per bushel for the entire crop.

Will Make Extended Trip.

T. G. Halley and family will leave for the World's Fair next week and will make an extended trip into other territory. Before returning they will visit New York, Washington and other far Eastern points, and expect to return by way of El Paso, visiting the National Irrigation convention and Southern California.

Bracking Reappointed.

T. W. Bracking again represents the International Correspondence School at this place and in the territory surrounding. He was out of the employ of the company just two weeks, during which time the business was carried by H. V. Conway, of Portland.

Own Land in Alberta.

Albert Pell, Peter Embrick and Chris Peterson, all of Adams, left this morning for Alberta, where all own land. Mr. Embrick has four sections there. These gentlemen are all Finns.

Going to Alberta.

Next week Andrew Jacobson and Julius F. Stunkel, of Adams, will go to Alberta, to look after their holdings. The former owns two sections of land in that country and the latter one-half section.

The Tent on the North Side.

Owing to the temperance lectures tonight and tomorrow, there will be no services at the tent till Monday evening at 7:45.

Over 1000 people greeted Eugene V. Debs in Portland on Monday, when he spoke on the subject of "Socialism."

GRIP CONVALESCENCE

There's nothing better than Scott's Emulsion after the grip. When the fever is gone the body is left weak and exhausted; the nervous system is completely run down and vitality is low.

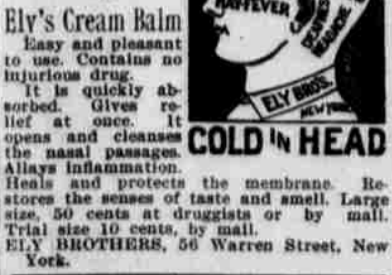

Two things to do: give strength to the whole body and new force to the nerves. Scott's Emulsion will do it; contains just what the worn-out system needs.

Rich blood, healthy flesh, resistive force, more and better nourishment are what Scott's Emulsion supplies to the convalescent.

We'll send you a sample free upon request. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.
