

FOR AN EXHIBIT

DR. C. J. SMITH URGES UMATILLA COUNTY TO ACT.

Commercial Association Takes Up the Matter of a County Exhibit at the Lewis and Clark Fair—Space Is Being Allotted and it Will Soon Be Too Late to Get a Suitable Location—County Court Urged to Act.

Seventeen new members were voted into the Commercial Association at the regular monthly meeting last night. The total membership now is about 175. The names voted upon last night follow:

F. A. Swingle, Robert Wattenburg, William P. Sturgis, A. J. McAllister, Charles A. Cameron, Jr., O. W. Coffman, Will F. Hessian, Martin B. Behring, R. J. Slater, James F. Slater, Charles E. Bean, J. M. Compton, Fred Milnes, H. E. Murray, Leo Blackman, Francis Willard Bond, J. A. Smith.

The question of a county exhibit at the Lewis and Clark fair was discussed. Dr. C. J. Smith, who has just returned from a trip to St. Louis, declared that it was high time Umatilla county was bestirring itself and preparing an exhibition for the Portland exposition. "The fair opens next June," he said, "and this is October. It is time the county commissioners were doing something. Space is being allotted at the fair grounds and if we don't look out Umatilla county will be left in the lurch. I believe the people of the county want to see this part of the state represented at the fair and the commissioners will not be criticized if they appropriate $500 for this purpose."

For the present, the club is still undecided regarding new quarters. The proprietor of the building in which the association now has its rooms promises to extend the building in the rear 50 feet, if the club will take the space. He promises to have it ready for occupancy by early spring.

TRAINLOAD OF SHEEP.

Garrison & Reynolds Ship 30 Carloads to Kearney, Nebraska.

Five thousand head of mutton sheep, making up a train of 30 cars, left Pendleton today for Kearney, Neb. The sheep are being shipped by the firm of Garrison & Reynolds, which has been doing some extensive buying in this section during the summer.

The sheep are destined, ultimately, for the Chicago market, and after feeding at Kearney for a few weeks, will be shipped on to the Windy city. The animals were recently purchased from local sheepmen and were brought in from the summer ranges to be loaded.

BITTEN BY RATTLESNAKE.

Al Balcom of Maxwell Stung by Four-Foot Reptile.

Al Balcom of this place was Saturday last, stung by a rattlesnake near Echo, and is now at his home near the Walters' mills, taking care of a very sore leg under Dr. Blakeles's directions.

Mr. Balcom was walking along the road driving a harnessed team before him, and accidentally stepped on a four-foot reptile that was half concealed by the weeds and grass along the trail. Before he could do a thing in self-defense, or to avoid the reptile, he was stung on the right leg, about half way to the knee, just above the shoe top.

Mr. Balcom went at once to the camp—he was employed on the Maxwell ditch—and was at once taken to Echo, where emergency methods were taken to stop the worst immediate effects of the poison. He came to Pendleton on the evening passenger and put himself under Dr. Blakeles's care. He is convalescing nicely, but has a very sore leg.

LARGEST APPLE SALE.

Hood River Company Sells 30 Carloads to Portland Dealers, in One Transfer.

What is thought to be the largest single sale of fancy apples ever made in the Northwest has just been made in Hood River.

A Hood River fruit company has just sold to Portland wholesalers 30 carloads of fancy Spitzenbergs and Newton Pippins, the total sale amounting to $32,000. The 20 cars of Spitzenbergs sold for $2.10 per bushel and the 10 cars of Newton Pippins, for $1.75 per bushel.

The apples are for the fancy trade of the large Eastern cities and will be shipped over the Harriman lines to Chicago, New York and other leading cities. This entire shipment was selected stock, and is said to be the finest lot of Oregon apples ever sold in one lot.

OFFICES IN PENDLETON.

Milwaukee Road Will Soon Have a Resident Agent in This City.

F. R. Hanke, traveling freight and passenger agent for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, who is soon to take up the duties of resident freight agent in Pendleton, was in the city last night. Local railroad men discarded the story that Hanke is to be stationed in this city, but the information that the headquarters are to be here comes from what is considered undisputed authority.

It is but a move on the part of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, it is said, to gain a more secure foothold in the Inland Empire, with the object of soon tapping the Northwest with a line that will ultimately be extended to the coast.

WILL MAKE AN APPEAL.

O. R. & N. Attorney Prepares to Carry Up the Tax Case.

Assistant Counsel Arthur C. Spencer, of the O. R. & N. company, is in Pendleton today from Portland, for the purpose of making arrangements to appeal the action of the railway against Umatilla county for a writ of review of the 1904 assessment. State Circuit Judge W. R. Ellis recently found for the defendant in the action.

"I feel confident of victory when the case goes before the state supreme court," said Mr. Spencer. "I will get my papers together for the purpose of making the appeal as soon as possible."

Larceny by Bailie.

A charge of larceny by bailie and a charge of forgery have been brought against George Lamont, under arrest for obtaining money by false pretenses from Charles W. Irvin, a local confectioner. Lamont will be tried next week. He is represented by R. J. Slater.

Marriage License Issued.

License to marry was issued by the county clerk this morning to Clarence Ralph Adams, of Missoula, Mont., and Miss Mae Ferguson, of Pendleton.

Exclusive.

The finest of weaves material, the choicest of patterns in new and exclusive neckwear has been opened. The line is from Rufus Waterhouse & Co., New York City. You'll find them at the Peoples Warehouse.

William Elder, a brakeman on a logging train at Montesano, was instantly killed Tuesday by being run over by the train.

Schilling's Best are not extravagant; quite the contrary. Teas and coffees good-enough; baking-powder—flavoring extracts and spices pure and best and yet economical; soda common.

TO HELP OREGON

RINALDO M. HALL, PREPARING O. R. & N. BOOK.

The 1905 Edition of "Oregon, Washington and Idaho" Will Be the Most Superb Volume of Statistics Ever Issued in Oregon—Will Devote Much Space to Crop and Farm Statistics—Entirely New Map to Be Issued.

The distribution of 500,000 pieces of literature descriptive of the Northwest to have brought the largest number of homeseekers to Oregon that ever gathered here in one year, to have advertised Oregon, Washington and Idaho, to every quarter of the globe, and to have interested capital in the resources of the Northwest, is only a small part of the task performed by the passenger department of the O. R. & N. during the past year.

In continuation of this good work, and to add to the efficiency and interest of that advertising matter so widely scattered by the O. R. & N. and Harriman lines, is the mission of Rinaldo M. Hall, to Pendleton and Umatilla county, this week.

Mr. Hall is author and editor of "Oregon, Washington and Idaho," the well known publication issued annually by the O. R. & N. company and is now gathering data for the 1905 edition of the book.

He is accompanied by Mrs. Hall, and is a guest of Hotel St. George, while visiting the various institutions of Pendleton, today, and will spend some time in Umatilla county, getting in direct touch with the producers of wheat, wool and alfalfa, fruit, corn and sugar beets, in collecting actual figures from the men who grow the crops, for use in his forthcoming volume.

Senator Dolliver Delighted.

"I feel that we have accomplished one of the greatest triumphs of the year, in having Senator Dolliver visit and view Oregon. In coming up from Portland yesterday on the train, Senator Dolliver expressed continual surprise at the wonderful resources of the state, as seen from the car window. It seemed unbelievable to him, that wheat would grow on top of the hills in sight of the tracks, and when assured that this soil produced from $5 to $9 bushels per acre, he at once admitted that it was a revelation to him and that he could now testify to the wonderful richness of this country," said Mr. Hall.

"One man like Dolliver talking about Oregon is worth more than Oregonians can possibly estimate. It is a triumph for the state. His friends and neighbors at Iowa will hear a truth about the state from him that cannot be denied nor gainsaid."

Mr. Hall has raised the standard of the O. R. & N. publication until it is a hand-book of information about Oregon, Washington and Idaho, and goes into every city and hamlet in the United States.

The edition of 1904 was exhausted long before it was expected by the company, and the edition of 1905 will be especially beautiful and useful. Mr. Hall is gathering farm scenes from Umatilla county and will give special attention to crop and livestock statistics.

An entirely new map of the three Northwest states, showing every post-office, wagon road and railroad station, is being issued under the direction of competent engineers. The 1905 edition of the book will contain 88 pages and will be one of the most complete compendiums of Oregon facts ever issued.

PUPILS ADVERTISE OREGON.

Baker City High School Takes Up the Letter Writing Custom.

Prof. J. A. Churchill, superintendent of the city schools, reports that pupils in the grades and in the high school have enthusiastically taken up the letter writing scheme of the Baker City Development League, says the Baker City Democrat.

It is fun for the boys and girls. Each pupil is going to write a letter to a friend, a cousin, an uncle, an aunt in the East and tell him or her something about Baker City and Baker county—something of the resources here that might be attractive to a prospective investor or homeseeker.

This is the kind of work that tells, and when the children have written their letters to the East, they will send the names to H. C. Innis, secretary of the league, who will follow up the good work by sending to these people in the East literature and data from time to time, which will be of interest to them.

Professor Churchill and the school pupils have the heartiest thanks of the Baker City league and Oregon State leagues for their good work.

WESTON JUMPS HIS BONDS.

Secures Stay of Execution and Was Released on $500 Cash Bail.

Unless E. H. Weston, convicted horse thief, presents himself to the authorities of Umatilla county before next Monday, cash bail of $500, which he put up for his appearance will be declared forfeited by the state circuit court.

But this will not save the missing man, and he may be taken into custody at any time and made to serve his unexpired sentence in the state penitentiary.

Weston's sentence is two and a half years in the penitentiary. He secured a stay of execution several months ago pending appeal to the state supreme court and was allowed his liberty by putting up bail. The action in the supreme court has since been dismissed.

While out on bonds Weston is said to have stolen horses in Lincoln county, Washington. He was arrested at Pomeroy for the crime, but escaped from the sheriff and has not since been seen.

LOCAL STOCK ASSOCIATION.

Twelve Stockmen of Umatilla County Form a Breeders' Organization.

Twelve ranchers have organized an association at Pilot Rock for the handling of blooded stock exclusively. Animals purchased by the association will be kept upon the farms of those belonging to it and will be used primarily for building up the livestock interests of the members. The intention is not to enter the business of breeding livestock of high character except for the subscribers, who will pay equal sums upon all assessments made for investments, or purchase for the payment of losses.

The members of the association are the following named gentlemen, all of whom are well known: Levi Eldridge, Thomas Jacques, T. P. Gilliland, J. S. Manning & Son, J. M. Eldridge, Albert Boesch, R. H. Patton, F. E. Sherman, E. E. Simon, A. F. Michaels, A. D. Sloan, E. C. Mathews.

The first investment made by the company is of a two-year-old Percheron stallion bought of the McLaughlin Company—an animal weighing between 1700 and 1800 pounds, for which was paid $2600. This is the horse that has been kept for the past month at T. P. Gilliland's.

DUFFY FINED $150.

Youth 19 Years of Age Escapes Term for Cattle Stealing.

John W. Duffy, guilty of cattle stealing, has escaped a term in the penitentiary by the action of the state circuit court in allowing him to pay a fine of $150. Duffy pleaded guilty Monday afternoon and was fined this morning. The money was at once paid by the defendant's father.

Duffy and G. C. White were indicted during T. G. Halley's term of office as district attorney. The latter was sentenced to two and a half years in the penitentiary. Young Duffy is 19 years of age and it is claimed he is subjected to epileptic fits and at times is not in his right mind. He frankly admitted taking the cattle, but declared he thought they belonged to White.

Club Rooms Closed Tonight.

The parlors of the Commercial Association will be closed tonight while housecleaning is in process. Members and visitors will be pleased to forego the pleasure of spending the evening there in order to give the librarian an opportunity to clean up the rooms for the winter season.

Wallowa Invites a Pugilist.

That the sheriff of Wallowa county is not opposed to prize fighting, was demonstrated this morning, when Barney Mullen, a pugilist, who has been making this city his headquarters, received an invitation from that official to come to Enterprise, where a bout would be arranged.

New Theater for Walla Walla.

A two-story brick building is to be erected at Walla Walla this fall, part of it to be used for a theater. The present theater ordinance makes it almost impossible for a theater to operate in the Garden City.

Wanders in Night Dress.

Portland, Oct. 5.—While suffering from nervous prostration Miss Annie E. Kennedy left her bedroom and, attired in her night robes, wandered about from 3 o'clock until 7 this morning. She then entered the residence of friends at No. 46 East Seventh street and was cared for until returned to her home.

Flood Damages Repaired.

Denver, Oct. 5.—The flood situation in Oklahoma, New Mexico and Kansas continues to improve. No more rain has fallen. Railroads are rushing repairs and the Santa Fe will have trains into Las Vegas, New Mexico, tonight. No more lives are reported lost.

ATHENA PRODUCE MARKET.

New Business Which is of Value to Farmers, to Be Launched.

At last Athena is to have a long felt want supplied. A produce market is to be conducted by O. L. Chamberlain, a recent arrival from New York state, and F. G. Lucas, proprietor of the Palace restaurant, says the Athena Press. The gentlemen have formed a business relationship for this purpose, and will engage in the purchase of all kinds of produce at once, for which they will pay the highest market price at all times.

A produce exchange is a benefactor that came to the relief of all towns in Eastern states, and the stimulus it gives to other channels of trade is felt to a considerable extent. That Athena is to have one will be good news to the farmer, for it insures him a market for anything he has to sell in the produce line, a convenience unknown to him heretofore.

General Corbin now denies that he said an army officer should not be allowed to wed until he had an income of $2400.
