HATCHERY BEGINS

ONTARIO PLANT WILL TURN OUT 30,000,000 FRY.

Now 12,000 Fine Salmon for Spawning Purposes Confined in Storage Reservoir—Each Female Fish Produces 5000 EGGS—Fish Are First Killed and Meat Given to Indians After Eggs Are Removed—State Will Start Fertilizer Plant to Convert Carcasses Into Marketable Fertilizer.

The annual incubation of salmon eggs will begin at the Ontario hatchery, the largest in the world, on Oct. 15.

In the storage reserve are now about 12,000 fine specimens of the mammoth Chinook salmon and the work of the hatchery will be in full blast next Monday.

About 40 men will be employed during the busy season, in catching the salmon, securing the eggs, fertilizing them and placing them in the spawning tanks.

The salmon are caught in seines, the females killed, slit open lengthwise, the supply of eggs delivered into pans, where the milt from the male is applied, the milt being extracted and the male turned loose in the river again.

One large female will yield 5000 eggs, 90 per cent of which are fertilized and hatch.

The carcasses of the dead females are thrown back into the stream or given to the Indians who now camp near the hatchery for the purpose of smoking the carcasses.

Fish Warden Van Dusen, however, hopes to establish a plant at the hatchery for the purpose of converting the carcasses into a fertilizer for land, to be shipped east and sold at a profit to the state.

The eggs are placed in vats of fresh, running water, kept at a temperature of 59 degrees above zero, in which the eggs hatch in from 90 to 100 days.

The first requirement of the hatchery is fresh water, as the eggs refuse to hatch in standing or stagnant water, and the hatchery is equipped with steam heat and running water furnished from tanks, filled from the river and filtered.

The young fry are kept in water in confinement until about three-fourths of an inch to one inch in length before being turned loose in the river.

The output of the hatchery this season will be 30,000,000 salmon.

INFESTED BY HOBOES.

Salem Has Supported a Genuine Hobo Colony for a Week.

Yew Park for several days has been infested with a band of 17 hobo, and they defy the police and citizens. A number of petty depredations have been committed, but the fearless gang of semi-outlaws hold the fort and feast on the gardens, orchards and hen roosts of the well to do Park people, says the Salem Journal.

About a week ago the band made their appearance in the peaceful suburb and established headquarters in an inviting and sheltered spot. Fancy friers, meaty spuds and luscious fruits commenced to disappear, but the strangers waxed fat and grew saussy.

Sunday morning their pilferings and general demeanor became unbearable, and the police were notified. A call from an officer resulted and the hobo's promised to move camp. They packed up their belongings, consisting of a few blankets, tin cans, and other light trinkets and left. The neighbors took a long breath, and thought the matter a closed incident, but imagine their surprise when the Impromptu hotel was reopened late that evening.

A man, looking for his cool about dusk, approached the camp, when he was assaulted with a rock, and stunned by a heavy blow on the head. A general call will be issued for the entire police force today, and they will go to the Park to "dare and do," as they are determined to drive the outfit out of the city, or introduce them to the calaboose and rock pile.

A FACT PROVEN.

Should Convince Even the Most Skeptical of Its Truth.

If there is the slightest doubt in the minds of any that Dandruff germs do not exist, their belief is compelled by the fact that a rabbit inoculated with the germs became bald in six weeks' time.

It must be apparent to any person therefore that the only prevention of baldness is the destruction of the germ—which act is successfully accomplished in one hundred per cent. of cases by the application of Newbro's Herpicide. Dandruff is caused by the same germ which causes baldness and can be prevented with the same remedy—Newbro's Herpicide.

Accept no substitute. "Destroy the cause you remove the effect."
