

A COUGH CONUNDRUM

When is a cough more than a cough?

When it's a settled cold. When it hangs on in spite of all you can do. Cough mixtures won't cure it because they are merely for a cough and this is something more.

Scott's Emulsion cures the cough because it cures the something more. It heals and repairs the inflamed tissues where the cold has taken root and prevents its coming back.

AFFAIRS OF PRISONS

WILL BE CONSIDERED BY NATIONAL ASSOCIATION.

Delegates From State Associations, Penitentiary Officials and Many Humanitarians Have Met at Quincy—Criminal Law Reform, Prison Discipline, Discharged Prisoners, and Police Matters Per Se Will Be Discussed.

Quincy, Ill., Oct. 15.—Nearly every state of the Union is represented among the delegates here for the annual congress of the National Prison Association. The aim of the association is to discuss and consider theoretically all questions of penology. Many of the states have their own prison associations, and the national association is composed of delegates from these, wardens and chaplains from prisons all over the country, and lawyers and statesmen interested in the reform of criminal law.

Among the standing committees for the consideration of special problems are the committee on criminal law reform, the committee on preventive and reformatory work, the committee on prison discipline, the committee on discharged prisoners, and the committee on police force in cities.

At the opening session this evening the delegates will be welcomed by Governor Yates, after which the several committees will deliver their reports. During the sessions, which will continue through the greater part of next week, papers will be presented as follows: "Some Phases of Delinquency," by the president, J. T. Gilmour, warden of the Central prison, Toronto; "Finger Marks as a Means of Identification of Criminals," J. K. Farrier of Scotland Yard, London; "The Real Work of the Chaplain," Rev. F. J. Leavitt, chaplain of the United States penitentiary, Fort Leavenworth, Kas.

TO RELEASE JABEZ BALFOUR.
Famous Swindler of the Poor, Through Building Society.

London, Oct. 15.—Announcement is made at the home office that Jabez Balfour will be released from prison next month, his sentence having been largely reduced by good conduct.

Balfour was the perpetrator of the notorious Liberator building society frauds and his case was perhaps the most notable of its kind that has engaged the criminal courts of England in the last quarter of a century. In the colossal amounts involved, the case can be compared only to that of the late Whitaker Wright, but unlike the case of Wright the losses through Balfour's frauds fell upon people of the poorer class, thousands of whom were ruined through his acts. Upon the discovery of his frauds Balfour fled to South America, whence he was returned to England after a bitter fight, tried and convicted.

At the time of his conviction a decade ago it was generally believed that he would never survive his imprisonment. A recent visitor to Parkhurst prison, however, reports that he is in the best of health and spirits and is looking forward eagerly to his release. It is reported that he will make his future home in America.

EPISCOPAL MISSIONS.

Laymen's Conference of the Middle West at Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 15.—One of the most important Episcopal events of the year in this country will be the laymen's missionary conference of the Middle West, to be held in this city next month. The conference will have in attendance the most distinguished laymen of the church from all the cities of the Middle West, including widely known statesmen, judicial and legal lights and many of the great minds politically and commercially of the country. The five states most largely represented will be Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Ohio.

A great missionary movement is now on foot throughout the country in the Episcopal church and the coming conference will consider three points: What missions are, how best to increase interest in the Middle West, and by what means a larger support may be secured to uphold the board of missions. The conference will be held under the general auspices of the commission on domestic and foreign missions with the sanction of the board of managers of the whole church.

Building Industries Day.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 15.—One of the largest and most imposing demonstrations yet held on the World's fair grounds was today's celebration of Building Industries Day. The feature of the day was a mammoth parade which included in part the officers and members of the local unions of stone masons, bricklayers, carpenters, plasterers, plumbers, painters, tanners, electricians, iron workers, roofers and other organized crafts.

Kansas City Day at Fair.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 15.—More than 1500 representative citizens from Kansas City, headed by a delegation of several hundred of the most prominent business men of that city, members of the Commercial Club, participated today in the celebration of Kansas City Day at the World's fair.
