FOR FAIR EXHIBIT

COUNTY COURT WILL DONATE FOR THE PURPOSE.

Meeting at Commercial Association
Last Evening Results in Speedy Action for a Lewis and Clark Fair Exhibit From Umatilla County—County Court Will Donate $500 to Assist in Collecting and Maintaining a Credible Exhibit—Work of Collecting it Will Begin at Once.

The county court has agreed to appropriate $500 toward an exhibit of Umatilla county agricultural and horticultural products at the Lewis and Clark fair; the Oregon Information Bureau has promised to lend its assistance in the gathering of the grains, fruits and grasses, and the commercial association of this city will actively superintend the selection, preservation and shipment.

Dr. A. LeRoy of the Information Bureau, County Judge H. J. Bean and members of the board of managers of the Commercial Association, met yesterday afternoon at the Commercial Association rooms. Dr. LeRoy addressed the gathering. He urged the placing of a man in the field to gather the exhibit. "I have found out by many months of personal experience," he said, "that little in the way of securing data or exhibits can be gained by correspondence.

"One must go to the places where he would secure his exhibits. I would impress upon you the necessity also, of the spreading of literature. Too much advertising cannot be done. The newspapers of Oregon are deserving of much credit for the able way in which they are advertising the fair and Oregon; but then the field of the Oregon paper is limited as is everything else."

To illustrate what little is known regarding Oregon by persons of average intelligence, Dr. LeRoy cited a number of instances. "One man wrote the bureau from Bloomington, Ind.," he said. "He wanted to know if one could plow in any season; if the horses had to be shod with planks to keep them from miring in the swamps; if the laws of Oregon were the same as those of Idaho; if the whites were protected, or did the population consist mostly of half-bloods."

"A few weeks ago an Eastern Knight Templar dropped into the information bureau and picking up a fair poster, remarked: 'Lewis and Clark, I never heard of them before. They must be a pretty wealthy firm to get up such a big exposition.'

"A young man in a Chicago audience that I was addressing, said: 'Why, doctor, you have been talking so much about Oregon, and you have not even told us what part of California it is in.'

Dr. LeRoy advised the association to enlist the women in the work of gathering an exhibit. He furnished the East Oregonian with the following recipes for the preservation of fruits used in exhibits:

For preserving peaches, plums and prunes—One part formaldehyde, 25 parts glucose to 100 parts distilled water.

For preserving pears, quinces and apples—Two parts formaldehyde to 100 parts water.

A simple preservative is brine. Certain prepared tablets known as anti-fermentine, are recommended and may be secured at any drug store.

The work of gathering the exhibit will begin at once. Dr. LeRoy returned to Portland this morning.

Idahoan Going to New Zealand.

Fred C. Brown, wife and two children, of New Zealand, are in the city visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Andree Brown, 1217 North Ninth street.

Mr. Brown was formerly superintendent of the Poorman mine at Silver City, but about four years ago he went to New Zealand to take the superintendency of a large mine for a London, England, syndicate. After visiting his mother for a few days he will leave his family here and proceed to England where he will confer with the stockholders in the company for the purpose of explaining to them the situation. On his return he will take his family back to New Zealand with him.

Mr. Brown says that New Zealand is an inviting field for mining operations, and there are several good producing mines, the one he is with being one of the best. The fruit business appeals to him very strongly, especially apples.—Boise Statesman.
